Dear Miss [Redacted]

Your letter postmarked November 25th has been received and I want to thank you for your kind comments concerning "Masters of Deceit." It is certainly encouraging to know of your interest in learning all you can about communism and your desire to fight this menace to our country.

Enclosed is some literature I hope will assist you in your study of this atheistic philosophy. Perhaps you will also want to refer to my new book, "A Study of Communism," which traces the history of communism since its inception and contrasts it with our American freedoms. This book should be available at your local public library.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Mr. Hoover

I am a senior at Bishop Watterson High School. For the past two months my P.O.D. class has taken a very thorough study of Communism. This study has been based on your book, MASTERS OF DECEIT. I am writing this letter to tell you how much I benefited from this book. I knew of Communism, and I realized that it was a dangerous threat. However, after having read your book, I admit that actually I knew very little of the Party, its maneuvers, and results. I was literally shocked by some of the facts and statistics which were given. I have always thought of Communism as a rather abstract thing. But now I see it as a concrete opponent of all that I believe in, and all that this great democracy stands for. However, the most valuable knowledge I have gained is--how to combat Communism.

I do not intend to stop my study of Communism with just this one book, however. Quite the contrary, MASTERS OF DECEIT, has aroused my interest, and has made me inquisitive of this, our most terrible enemy.

I have recommend your book to all of my friends, my parents, and relatives. I fell that everyone should be required to read it in school. Because as you said, the best way to fight Communism is to know Communism.

Sincerely

Dear Sir:-

I am sending you one of your books with an idea that is self explanatory on the inside of the cover.

I am sending this to you for any suggestions for improvment you might make. Especially in the write up .

Will the page for readers to sign their names make it necessary to add 4¢ for writing enclosed.

Would also like to have your idea of the this scheme to get the book read. Has it been tried before?

If this idea is a success I would like to send out quite a number of these books.

Thanking you for an cooperation you can give me, I remain

DEAR FELLOW AMERICANS EVERYWHERE.

What can one private individual do to fight communism?

For only 10¢ you can send this book anywhere in the U.S. to where you think it would do the most good.

If for some reason you can not read the whole book I urge you to at least read from page 181 on...

It is only necessary to put on a new address label and postage and just snap the rubber bands around it.

If you would like to start one or more of these books in circulation you and send me 60¢ each with the name and address to whom you would like to receive it and I will wrap it and send it on its way.

If you do not care to send this on I will turn it to me and I'll refund your postage.

PLEASE DO NOT LET THIS BOOK DIE IN YOUR HOUSE.

Yours for a safe America.

J. Edger Hoover of the F.B.I.

Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

I am starting to read your book (Masters Of Deceit)^D Do you disagree with (The Secret Government Of The United States)? Their version of how Comunism started seems to disagree with yours but maby If I knew what is in your secret files it would be different.

One question I have considered asking you for sometime is this:

Did you ever have a dream result in solving a crime?

When I talk about dreams to the police here they just laugh at me.

I told them that I bet that if I write to Mr Hoover he can tell me that dreams have helped solve crimes. I would especially like you to answer this question if it is not too much bother.

There is another question that I would like to get your advice on.

I have a place that I homsted in 1927 and there is a bunch of outlaws in here that sabotage everything on the place and have managed to keep me from doing anything to amount to anything sence I got the place.

Now that My Wife broke her arm and I am here alone they are trying to sabotage me.

Both becuzse of my nightly dreams and also because of the arigant defiant way they act I know they are plotting to kill me.

They do all kinds of outlawery and I cant get the police to do a thing.

They came out and told me that they do all the detective work to get the goods on crooks, but sence then all they do is show me a bad time.

They are killed by the hundreds or thousands over a years time and it dont do me any good to report them. In fact that is why the crooks are plotting to kill Me now.

They actuazally came here to kill me one night but I managed to get rid of them.

The intensive way that they are trying to frame me now I wont last long if they have their way.

I have perfect faith in god, and the fact that he always warns me so I can avoff thair traps is the only reason I am still alive.

My luck might run out because I wont run from them and they try to antagonize me every day into doing something foolish but I wont cooperate.

I know I can depend on God but I think he expects things to be solved in a materrial way. I think he just helps out until necessary action is taken.

They do all kinds of outlawery and I am postive that if a real smart detective gets after them long enough and smooth enough he can unearth evidence of interstate operations such as deer selling maby moonshining and selling gold on the black market.

One was reported as taking 25 lbs of gold to California about 2 months ago for alegdly illegal sale:

b7c

It is the reasonable thing to expect of them.

Box 37, milo, OREGON

He mined with a cat and it is reasonable that he could just about had 25 lbs.

I feal that when a bunch of gangsters show a homsteader a bad time and try to destroy him or chase him out one way or another they are by interfearing with a homsteader challenging the government as much as they are him.

I feal that the Government atleast has a moral obligation to take severe action against crooks that try to prove that they are stronger than the U.S. Government.

Is it atall possible for you to put a good detective in here to get the goods on these crooks that are trying to prove that gangsterism is stronger than the government and get them out of here once and for all. If they get away with their flouting of U.S. laws you know that goes a long way in promoting Comunism.

hope you do something about it.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:-

This letter is written to seek permission to quote a number of lines from your book "Masters of Deceit".

The State of Delaware, Department of Public Instruction, is preparing a guide for teachers who will teach about Communism in the public schools of this state. A state-wide committee has been organized for over a year to conduct a study prior to the preparation of this document.

In a sub-chapter under the title "The Responsibility of the Individual to Combat Communism", we wish to quote the following excerpts from "Masters of Deceit", page 290:-

"Be alert (and well-enough informed) to spot, expose, and oppose Communist efforts; BUT LEAVE SPY-HUNTING TO THE FBI, which has been given the job by the President, the Congress, and the Attorney General. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, points out that 'Hysteria, witch hunts, and vigilantes weaken our internal security . . . we must be absolutely certain that our fight is waged with full regard for the historic liberties of this great nation. This is the fundamental promise of any attack against communism . . . Smears, character assassination, and the scattering of irresponsible charges have no place in this nation. They create division, suspicion, and distrust among loyal Americans - just what the Communists want - and hinder rather than aid the fight against Communism!'"

Re Bureau airtel to Baltimore, 12/11/62.

[Redacted] and [Redacted] Delaware State Police, Dover, Delaware, established sources, advised Dr. ROW is a reputable person who has a responsible position with the Delaware Department of Public Instruction. FERGUSON, who is a member of a committee for the study of materials to teach communism, of which Dr. ROW is chairman, and WATSON advised ROW is chairman of a committee which is developing a course for study of communism, particularly in regards to advantages of a democratic form of government and evils of communism, in public schools in Delaware. They know of nothing reflecting unfavorably on Dr. ROW, who has been with the Delaware Department of Public Instruction for about seven or eight years.

Efforts to contact Dr. ROW revealed he will not be available until 12/18/62, at which time he will be contacted in accordance with re Bureau airtel, and the Bureau will be advised.

While at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center this morning, I overheard a conversation of [redacted] who is a Bureau employee handling the Agents who receive physical examinations at the Hospital. A [redacted] an employee of the Plastic Surgery Clinic of the Hospital was expressing her views to Mr. [redacted]. She said what we need is Mr. Hoover for President and then we wouldn't have to worry about Cuba and some of these other things that come up all the time. She said she read the Director's last book, "A Study of Communism," and now the only thing she would like would be a copy of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit." She said above all the things she wants, she would like very much to have an autographed copy of this book.

b7C

She is in the Clinic which has been most helpful to the Bureau. This Clinic has been handling the case of [redacted], Special Agent, who has been in the Bethesda Hospital for over a year. He is suffering from cancer of the throat and this section has also handled Special Agent [redacted] who had to have plastic surgery after a serious hand accident.

[redacted] was not shaken from her original position desiring to have a copy of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit" autographed and I have obtained a copy of it.

UNRECORDED COPY FILED IN 94-35255

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the sincerity of her request and the fact that she couldn't be stirred in her views one iota, I would like to suggest that if at all possible, the attached copy be autographed to her by the Director.

If this is approved, I would also like to suggest that [redacted] who is in daily contact with officials at the Bethesda Hospital, present this to her on behalf of the Director. I am sure that it would be highly appreciated.

Dear Mr. [Redacted]

I received your letter of December 13th and want to thank you for your kind remarks.

Although I would like to be of service, copies of the material you requested are not available for distribution. However, perhaps you will want to refer to "The FBI Story" by Don Whitehead which has some information on this topic.

I am enclosing some literature I hope will be of interest to you and you may also desire to read my new book, "A Study of Communism." The books mentioned should be available at your local public library.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

As a senior at Johns Hopkins University, I am writing a term paper on "The Beginnings of Communism in the United States" (prior to 1921). One of my objectives is to find out who, in the Federal Government, first realized communism as a bane to our way of life. It is for this reason that I am writing to you.

My uncle, a former F.B.I. agent, has given me a copy of Masters of Deceit. In the forward of your book I was excited to find that as early as 1919 (!) you recognized communism as a threat to our peace. Would it be possible for me to obtain a copy of the brief that you submitted to the Attorney General in that year? It would be most helpful and appreciated.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration.

Also, may I, as an American, take this opportunity to praise your continued courage-- even when your efforts have been thwarted by a liberal public or government. I thank you, and the Bureau, for your continued service.

Re Bureau Airtel 12/11/62 and Baltimore Airtel to Bureau 12/17/62.

Dr. HOWARD E. ROW, Assistant Superintendent, Secondary Education, State of Delaware, Department of Public Instruction, Dover, Delaware, was contacted 12/18/62 and receipt of his letter by Bureau acknowledged.

In accordance with Bureau request Dr. ROW was informed that Director has no objection to his quoting the excerpts from "Masters of Deceit" as set forth in his letter of 12/6/62, with the understanding that this in no way constitutes an endorsement of the material being prepared by his committee. Dr. ROW was also advised that he must contact the publishers, Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 383 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N.Y. for their permission to use this material. The Director's new book on communism entitled "A Study of Communism", was mentioned to Dr. ROW as additional material of possible interest to him.

Dr. ROW was very appreciative of Bureau's cooperation in granting permission for him to use the excerpts from "Masters of Deceit" as requested. He advised his manuscript will not reflect that the Bureau has approved or endorsed his manuscript.

Betty I would like to thank you and your family for your very thoughtful letter of December 17th with enclosure. It is encouraging to hear from individuals who express a real concern over the growing menace of the communist conspiracy. My associates and I appreciate your interest in our work as well as the best wishes you expressed.

It was good of you to comment as you did regarding my book, "Masters of Deceit" and I thought you might like to know I have written a new book entitled "A Study of Communism." This book is available at your local library. I am enclosing material some of which contains suggestions all of us can use in the fight against communism.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

My family has admired you--as all Americans do-- and we want to tell you so at this most joyous and sacred Season.

As we read your book "Masters of Deceit" we marveled at your knowledge of Communism-- and you began your intensive study way back in 1919!

A thought occurred as we read ^{of} the "dedication" of the Communist to his so-called cause: we who are Christians should be our Catechism, our beliefs, and prompted us to renew vigorously

Q. Where can I get information regarding instructions in the Catholic Religion by mail or through a correspondence course?

A. Correspondence courses of instruction in the Catholic Faith have become quite popular in the last few years. One such course is conducted by the seminarians in St. Charles Seminary in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. The course is available without cost or obligation to anyone, regardless of religious affiliation. Inquirers receive an attractive, easy-to-read text book of Catholic doctrine and practice. They are supplied with five or six "open book tests" which are corrected, graded and returned. A completed course is rewarded with a diploma. A notable feature of this course is that all the material is sent in plain envelopes without markings to protect the inquirer's privacy. For information, write to Home Study Service, St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, Philadelphia 51, Pa.

Another such course is conducted by the Knights of Columbus. For information on that write to Supreme Council, K. of C. Religious Information Bureau, 4422 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis 8, Mo.

Still another is the Catholic Information Society, 214 W. 31st St., New York 1, N. Y.

Dear Mr. [Redacted]

Your letter of December 25th has been received and it is encouraging to know you found "Masters of Deceit" informative. It is important that our citizens educate themselves concerning the true nature of communism in order that they will be able to resist its eroding influence.

My associates and I appreciate your confidence in the FBI and you may be certain we will continue to handle our obligations with the same dispatch and thoroughness that have characterized our investigations in the past.

I have read your book, Masters of Deceit and I find it to be a very accurate expose of Communism from the start. I am recommending it to my friends to read it. I have also found it very informative and interesting reading and I consider myself fortunate to have it in my possession every young person in the United States should be encouraged to read it. Only then can he or she be more aware of the dangers of Communism and what he can do to combat this evil. It has helped me to gain a better understanding about Communism and its objectives and I am catching on to Communism's tricks and strategy and also, I am beginning to read between the lines.

The American people urge you and your department never to let down your guard until every agent, spy, saboteur, subverter is vanquished from the American scene. We urge you to infiltrate the Communist party continuously until this agency of Moscow is completely broken up and done away with only then can the American people sleep safely at night. The American people stand by your side. We will never assume that Communism cannot happen here, because we know it can and will not gamble on it. We hope you will investigate the Communist party cells at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dear Mr. [Redacted]

I have received your letter of January 3rd and the interest which prompted your communication is indeed appreciated.

With respect to your inquiry, my book, "Masters of Deceit," is usually available in public libraries or may be purchased at local bookstores. If you are unable to secure a copy in your community, you can obtain one by writing to the Mail Service Department of Pocket Books, Inc., 630 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, New York. The retail price is fifty cents, plus five cents per book for mailing costs.

The FBI maintains no price list for publications which we have available for distribution and there is no charge for any material this Bureau is privileged to disseminate. Enclosed is some literature which I trust you will find of interest. You may also wish to refer to my book, "A Study of Communism." It is a comprehensive study of the development and expansion of communism throughout the world.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear [Redacted]

I have received your letter of January 8th, enclosing a request from Mr. Howard E. Row, Dover, Delaware, to quote from "Masters of Deceit." For your information, Mr. Row contacted us in December, 1962, on this matter, and by letter of December 19, 1962, I advised Miss Marguerite J. Reese of the Subsidiary Rights Department of your firm that we had no objection to his using the excerpt from the Director's book.

Sincerely yours, -

NOTE: By letter 12-6-62, Row wrote the Director asking to use this excerpt from "Masters of Deceit" for educational material for Delaware schools. SAC, Baltimore, conducted discreet inquiry on Row, found him to be reliable and subsequently advised him that we had no objection to his using the excerpt and that he should contact the publisher. By letter 12-18-62 to Marguerite J. Reese (who has in the past written the Bureau requesting permission to reprint portions of the Director's books), Mr. Tolson advised her that we had no objection and that we had asked him to contact the publisher.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.
383 Madison Avenue

Gentlemen:-

This letter is written to seek permission to quote a number of lines from "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover, published by your company.

The State of Delaware, Department of Public Instruction, is preparing a guide for teachers who will teach about Communism in the public schools of this state. A state-wide committee has been organized for over a year to conduct a study prior to the preparation of this document.

In a sub-chapter under the title "The Responsibility of the Individual to Combat Communism", we wish to quote the following excerpts from "Masters of Deceit", page 290:-

"Be alert (and well-enough informed) to spot, expose, and oppose Communist efforts; BUT LEAVE SPY-HUNTING TO THE FBI, which has been given the job by the President, the Congress, and the Attorney General. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, points out that "Hysteria, witch hunts, and vigilantes weaken our internal security . . . we must be absolutely certain that our fight is waged with full regard for the historic liberties of this great nation. This is the fundamental promise of any attack against communism . . . Smears, character assassination, and the scattering of irresponsible charges have no place in this nation. They create division, suspicion, and distrust among loyal Americans - just what the Communists want - and hinder rather than aid the fight against Communism".

Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.

The committee will be most appreciative if you find it appropriate to allow the quotation as here presented.

Sincerely yours,

Edward E. Row

Dear Mr. [Redacted]

I have received your letter of January 11th and it is a pleasure to know of your interest in my book, "Masters of Deceit." You may be interested in my new book, "A Study of Communism," a copy of which may be available in your local library. I wish to thank you for your kind comments about the FBI and to assure you it is our hope our future endeavors continue to merit your approval.

Although I would like to be of service, information contained in the files of the FBI must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice and is available for official use only. I am, however, enclosing a list of organizations designated by the Department of Justice under Executive Order 10450 together with other publications I hope you will find of interest.

In addition, you may want to secure a copy of the "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," prepared and released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, United States Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. Dear Mr. Hoover;

I have just read your book, "Master's of Deceit". I enjoyed it very much, and I believe it is one of the best books I have read on the subject. It is my belief that if more Americans would read your book and others like it, and learn the truth and facts behind the Communist conspiracy, we could stop it cold. Coexistence with the Communist is impossible. The middle of the roadder's are like combat deserters, They don't actually shoot their own troops, but they also refuse to kill the enemy, there by weakening their forces.

Could you tell me where I could get allist of known Communist in the United States, and a list of Communist Fronts. If such a list is available.

I thank you for your time and trouble, and for giving the American public a fine book. With You and the men under you doing the fine job to stop the communism, we can be sure that if the Communist "bury us " as they say they will, we will at least have a decent burial.

I am,
Very truly yours,

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director,

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

This is to tell you how very, very much I have enjoyed reading your wonderful, revealing book,
"Masters of Deceit."

It is indeed the Great Eye-opener and many more people should read it and it should be a "must" for all young people approaching their majority. Regardless of what you may have read before, one does not get a complete picture of this awful, awesome threat, until they have read your book.

In addition to telling you how much I have enjoyed it, this is also to thank you for writing it.
That book is another of the many services you have rendered our great country.

Incidentally, a good friend of mine, (and yours too, I understand), attorney Joe Lesh of this city, was the one responsible for bringing it to my attention, so you see I'm indebted to him, too.

Thanks you again sir for a great service.
I have already thanked Joe Lesh for bringing my attention to your splendid book.

Most respectfully,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It has been a long time since I had the pleasure of visiting you in your home; so you probably will not remember me. Those were the days when Charles H. Tompkins had a big house not too far from yours.

Anyway, here at U.S.A.I.D Ankara, a weekly news letter is distributed. It is called the "Aide-Memoire". In re-reading your "Masters of Deceit" it occurred to me that the first chapter, pages 13 through 23, might well be reprinted in this news letter. Other chapters, of course, could be useful reminders; and might be included as a sort of serial.

Your permission is respectfully requested.

FROM : D. C. Morrell Dem/gem

SUBJECT:

Morrell b6 b7C

On 1/21/63 we received the attached letter from the above individual. Correspondent enclosed a newspaper clipping announcing that the Birmingham Transit Company will present a copy of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit," to libraries in each of the city and county schools the company serves. states she has read this book and comments favorably regarding it. Her letter consists of 13 handwritten pages and deals almost exclusively with the question of outlawing the Communist Party. insists that the Communist Party should be outlawed in the United States and includes various quotations from and references to scripture to prove her point.

Her letter rambles for many pages and at some points she seems to be overexcited. has belabored her point on outlawing the Communist Party to such an extent that the whole letter is extremely repetitious, and it is felt that no purpose would be served by making a true copy of it. Bufiles indicate one prior letter from this individual dated 7/28/62 which, although not as lengthy, exhibits the same general tenor. This letter was acknowledged with a brief reply.

OBSERVATION:

In view of the manner in which this letter is written, it is felt that a reply from the Director would only tend to encourage to send in additional lengthy comments.

RECOMMENDATION:

That no acknowledgment be made of correspondent's letter.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As you know by my having previously sent you a clipping from the Birmingham News, concerning my views on the importance of your book, I am very pleased to see that others have come to share my views and those which you so expertly set forth in your great book "Masters of Deceit". In fact, I have sent you two newspaper articles in which I have explained the importance of reading your book, to "know" communism. I must go to the library, here, and ask to have it sent to me from Montgomery again. When it was sent the first time, I was working to get a book mobile here. Now, that has been accomplished. I need to use the library, and help others use it.

I am encouraged and, too, greatly distressed by the letters which I have from a number of our Congressmen.

First, Sen. Sparkman tells me that he has done everything that J. Edgar Hoover has recommended to stop Communism in the U.S.

Second, Rep. Selden tells me that you do not want to outlaw Communism. I trust that since "you see" that our courts cannot "snake" them register, you will not have any better "chance" to know who they are than you have now!! There is in the long run no advantage to leaving the very most "illegal" body in action against our vital organs, legally! We are holding Communism under our toga of the Constitution as the Trojan or Spartan boy of old (which?) held the wolf under his toga in school! Why? Just because he happened to have it!! He sat like a "brave boy" and did not flinch, so the history book says, while it ate a hole in his stomach!

It is highly likely that he died from gangreen or loss of blood. Such stories don't appear to have, ^{in them} any "reasoning". They are what is known as irrational, blind, fruitless bravery!
It seems that we remain on that kind of track today with Communism.
I would recommend to you what I have recommended to the others: and I am glad to say that Hon. Carl Elliott of the Rules Committee and Hon. George Huddleston, Jr. are in concurrence with me. Likewise, the American Legion here in Sulligent is in concurrence and has expressed this view by telegram to Rep. Elliott. The Sulligent Study Club and Vernon (County Seat) Lions Club express sympathy with this view and I believe have contacted Rep. Elliott. The President told me that that was the latter's intention. The rules committee will have someone on the side of such a bill, as is needed first to outlaw Communism!
What good can this do, you say??

This will give the nation an overall law. Power to enforce this law should be vested in our courts especially our state and federal courts in the final judgment of cases!

This country is supposed to be a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. The people do not want legal Communism in this country! And, I think that "40 years has been long enough in the wilderness" to prove that there is no appreciable advantage to letting it "do as it please", just so! it does it "partly" in sight. That just gives it two-way advantage: and leaves "you" and "all the courts" more powerless over the Godless group determined to destroy us. I don't care how many schools are "integrated" that won't stop Communism. They will find some other way to set "race against race." You say, well, outlawing it won't stop that. Well, I am not primarily concerned with freedom riders nor integration, but them ride if they want to and go to school where they want to! But, I am concerned with the perversion of freedom advocated by Communist agitators "all along the line". It is 1000% possible that the Longshoremen are striking at "Bridges orders" from Moscow as a rebuttal for our blockade of Cuba, etc.

Now, you say that Congress won't pass laws, which you have wanted for years, but "what are these laws" which are more effective and more pleasing to God than to outlaw a Godless party which is eating at our vitals and which we have no defense against except, don't let them in Fed. Govt. That's "hell", considering the whole nation. That's what College students call such foolishness brown by all to be a "silly answer". We have labor unions, we have churches, we have schools, we have courts. Sometimes, I wonder what design after 40 years, you can

You can see of benefit to man, in this course.

"Now, I'm going to say that God!
"In Whom we Trust" — so we state on our seal —, has never given rewards in Biblical history to those who refused to put His principles first. But, he did reward some of those who did put Him first.
Now, the heathens may have overrun Rome, and did! But we also know that the Bible relates in detail how he saved other nations and groups who set him and his principles "first". We need help:
he will not honor our call, it is my belief, unless we adhere to God principle!! On the outside we ~~are~~ are right looking, but how are we on the inside. Are there wolves legally running among the sheep? Yes! a minister of a Great Church in Memphis wrote and distributed to his congregation

Printed copies of his sermon saying that 27 Communists had infiltrated the Methodist Church official circles was my understanding and I read the sermon, myself!! If the supreme court and the Attorney General don't jail a "sorry son" for not registering, what on earth can a poor little Methodist Church board do with a Communist. They can't do anything under present laws because there is "no law" against them!! They leave them there to try to keep from throwing disrepute on the Church!! Yet you are sheltering these "sorry son's" known to many boards by opposing the outlawing of Communism.

God saw that an army was outnumbered: "We also are outnumbered: what did he do? He required them to "hold up their lamps" and "make a noise". He did the rest!! If we are willing to do an official bow to Communism in this country by leaving it legal, then we are bowing to an image. These men of Bible times refused to bow to that image of "their day"! That Godless image of their day! Oh!

they could have taken a bow and have gone on by saying, I don't believe in that thing but that's ~~the way~~ the law is!! So I bowed! Well that is what is being done in America today!!!! And I am here with two me only as those men of old and we don't think that you are right in not recommending the outlawing of Communism in this country.

I quote Rep. Elliott who has my views:

"I appreciate receiving your letter concerning the communist party and I want you to know that I am in complete agreement with you."

I quote the third man (2 being the first, in reference) word for word also as I have the first: Rep. George Huddleston, Jr.;

"I know what you say in your letter, we are apparently very closely in agreement as to what action must be taken to rid this country of Communist and other agitators. May I assure you that I have in the past supported legislation to outlaw the Communist party and its activities in our country. I will continue my efforts in this regard."

There are some great stories and some true promises in that Bible about "three men" and "three people" who will come together on a point of conviction, before God. Three went into the fiery furnace together. Christ also said that if "two or three" would come together as to a point in prayer, he would hear and grant it. Is it right to outlaw this thing which is conspiring to destroy us and which does not even pretend to care about God. Even if we don't always obey, we recognize Him in our "mental illness" of condoning Communism as legal?

God required of Moses principle and obedience. He requires that of you!
He requires that of me! Amen.

We can very clearly break ourselves against His laws, and they are as lasting as this planet. If such principle was required of Moses, then how can we expect His help, if we have none. The first Commandment say that God is to be set first! Can God be first in America, if we are as "dirty platters" with legal communism abusing God and man all over this nation ????. That's "our platter" and its "dirty"!!! If we are to survive, we have got to return to "In God We Trust." What does he demand:

✓ 1st Commandment - thou shalt have no other Gods before me.

(The least we can do is "hold up a lamp" by outlawing communions)

✓ We can start them with Knowledge which we already have of right and wrong: We can do as those outnumbered of old: "We can hold up our lamps!"

"We can make some noise as the lousy holding army did!" and let them know what side we are on!!!
Then let the repercussions fall. The world will see Communism differently when we quit condoning it liberally!
And quit supporting the "shiny" Communists" who get gold out of our over worked mothers' pay checks!
It is a sin the way women in this country work "like dogs", neglect their children, to send to some, cursed Communist Country money, just because they say they are of Russia's camp and we see photographers pictures of where they hug Khrushchev in public!
and deny him to a dumb U.S. Diplomat, and get "the money"! It's a sin Mr. Hoover! And we are not getting by with any of it!
Children are suffering, everywhere, and our country is "going to the dogs" daily. Such an example!! to the world! as "embracing legal Communism" in a country which claims "In God we trust" is a disgrace!
God will not be mocked!!!

He required of Moses principle.
He required of Paul principle. He required of His Son, Christ, principle. Christ must surely say of America, "ye hypocrites!" You make fine progress in the Churches and go out and legalize that cult which I hate. And I know he does hate it! Amen! He couldn't love those who embrace it!!!

Christ was not a person to pass the blame on.

And I refuse to "pass the buck" as it is called today!
As Truman once said "The Buck Stops Here!" We need to first outlaw Communism! The way it is "Everybody is jostling in the street!" But history is made where men and mountains meet!

Moses went upon a mountain literally & if he'd come back to "see us" with legal Communism, he'd have slain

And what would Christ do? Well, being one person alone, he would have presented the law, from which not one jot nor tittle shall pass, until it is fulfilled: and the probably would have said: "According to their faith, let it be done unto them!"

If they have no faith and no principle, then they won't even "hold up that lamp!" If they won't even hold up God's lamps! then who will "fell the wall" or "roll back Communism," Who? We are out number!! Who?? They have the same weapons that we have. Who? will help. We say "In God we Trust." Do we?? Do we even hold up his principles? ("they are the lamps!")

I have only strength to hold up one small lamp. And I am not well, so I can't hold it up too long at a time.

P.S. I think we should just legalize gambling, loose whiskey, white slavery, bank robbery, and all the other horrible crimes if we are going to legalize Communism which intends to destroy our Churches, our Democracy, and all else to "this kind of end!!! I don't see any use in protecting Communist Criminals and jailing a bunch less dangerous than Communists are to us.

I do not want my government to hold my child's head back in the future and make him drink the vile cup of Communism!!! The cup that Communism offers is worse than any cup of poison given to a swain of old!!! Why? Because Communism does not stop until it damns the soul!!! Now, you keep it legal if you want it! But for no reason, nor excuse, security excuse nor otherwise do I endorse legal Communism here in America!!! It needs to go as piracy, dueling, and slavery went when outlawed!

Schools To Get Book By FBI Chief

The Transco Management Club at Birmingham Transit Co. will present a copy of FBI Director J.
Edgar Hoover's book, "Masters of Deceit," to libraries in each city and county school the company serves.

School libraries in Birmingham, Jefferson County, Fairfield, Bessemer, Mountain Brook and Tarrant will receive the books, the club announced yesterday.

A spokesman said the books would be delivered to the boards of education Monday.

Each year the Transco Management Club, composed of supervisors, foremen of shops, officials and other management personnel at the Transit Company, has a project. Last year it presented a television set to the charity ward at Jefferson-Hillman Hospital.

The club, including retired management personnel, is composed of 48 members.

NOTE: Bufiles indicate that correspondent wrote 12-22-61 and forwarded a kit he purchased from Project Alert. He asked for the FBI to check the material for him. He expressed his faith in the Project Alert program. He wanted to be placed on the mailing list. He was advised that the FBI did not make evaluations and although reprint material was sent to him, he was told that it could not be furnished on a continuing basis. There is no indication that he is an author or would be in any way qualified to write a position on communism. Although he may legally quote briefly from the Director's book without permission, since it is not known how he plans to use portions of "Masters of Deceit" it is believed his request should be denied.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am a Senior in highschool and since attending Buckeye Girls' State have developed considerable interest in educating myself on communism.

In doing so, I read your book "Masters of Deceit". I sincerely want to compliment you on your book. It is the most complete source of information on communism I have found yet.

I have decided to do my Senior term paper on Communism and was wondering if you could either send me or tell me where I could obtain copies of the 'Communist Manifesto', 'Daily Worker' and other communist literature. I hesitate to write to the Russia Embassy or other communist sources for fear of their mistakingly assuming that I believe in or symathize with the communist belief and constantly flooding me with unwanted communist literature.

Thank you for any assistance you give me.

Dear Mr. Director.:-

MASTERS of Deceit

After reading the remarks extended by the Honorable William T. Cahill in the Congressional Record please let me make a statement regarding the fine record made by you and your fine organization.

While serving as District Attorney for my district here some years ago it was my pleasure to work with and have your men work with me. The cooperation was primarily responsible for bringing criminals before the Courts and successful prosecution for their acts against the laws of this state. For all of this I was grateful and have held them always in high regard for their devotion to duty. Your "boys" are always gentlemen and dedicated servants.

Paraphrasing "never have so many owed so much to so few". All Americans owe you and your men a debt of gratitude that can never be paid save by support and admiration.

I beg to remain,

Obediently yours,

L. S. McClaren

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I wish to take this opportunity to inform you that I have in my small library your two books MASTERS OF DECEIT and THE STUDY OF COMMUNISM. I certainly enjoyed reading these books and they were very informative. You can be sure if you write another book I will add it to my collection.

Our country should be very proud to have a man of your caliber to head one of the most important departments in our government. My congratulations to you for a marvelous piece of work.

It seems to me that everyone should be able to read and study your books and be informed on the workings of the dread political disease, COMMUNISM.

I have often wondered if our elected men, Senators, and Representatives and also the appointed officials be fully investigated, because, sometimes you wonder if the men we elect to office may be partial to the communist thinking and easily persuaded to do their work.

I trust that you may continue serving our country in this wonderful capacity for many years to come.

Yours truly,

TO : Mr. DeLoach

DATE: 1-21-63

SUBJECT: COMITE INTERNACIONAL PRO CIEGOS
MEXICO CITY PRINTING OF "MASTERS OF DECEIT" IN SPANISH BRAILLE

By letter 11-7-62, [redacted] of captioned organization, has sent the Director a copy of "Masters of Deceit" in Spanish braille. The book is in four volumes:

In January, 1962, [redacted] wife of former Assistant Legat, Mexico City, and a member of captioned group, wrote the Director requesting permission to print the Director's book in Spanish braille. Since the group is a highly regarded organization engaged in charitable work for the blind, the Director advised that he had no objection. He referred Mrs. [redacted] request to the publisher for its approval.

It is felt that these volumes would be a helpful addition to the Library of Congress, and that the Director might wish to offer them to the Library. Inspector Bernard M. Suttler, our Liaison with the Library of Congress, could make the necessary contact telephonically. It is also felt that we should thank [redacted] for sending us the volumes and write a note to Ed Rigg, Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., advising him that the book has been printed in braille in Spanish. [redacted] is not identifiable in Bufiles.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the attached letter be sent to [redacted] thanking her for the book.

(2) That attached letter over Mr. Tolson's signature be sent to Ed Rigg, Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.

(3) That Inspector Suttler telephonically contact the Library of Congress asking if they desire the four volumes of "Masters of Deceit" in Spanish braille.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I want to thank you for a very rewarding experience I had in reading your MASTERS

How I wish that all of our teachers in all of our schools and all of our preachers in America would read your treatise. What a changed community for the better our country would then be!

Dear Mr. Druliner:

I have received your letter of January 30, 1963, with enclosure, and want to thank you for your very favorable comments regarding "Masters of Deceit." I am happy to know that you found my book of value.

It is indeed encouraging to note your active concern in seeking to alert citizens to the dangers of communism. I regret, however, that in line with long-standing policy, I am unable to furnish comments or recommendations with regard to your proposed program. I am sure that you can understand my position in such matters.

You may be interested in knowing that I have recently written another book which is entitled "A Study of Communism," published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 383 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York. I am enclosing material relating to the topic of combating communism which may be of help to you.

Sincerely yours,

Hon. J. Edgar Hoover,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Friend:

Recently I received your book "Masters of Deceit" on talking books for the blind. It is practical and informative, and very instructive, so I listened to it the second time through. Then the thought came to me to do something about it. I thought of a booklet or manuel for Christian workers giving in condensed form the teachings of Jesus and the Apostle Paul in say 25,000 words and another chapter on how to combat Communism, also condensed in say 25,000 or 30,000 words, to which would be added a plan of action. I am enclosing copy of suggested booklet. The booklet would be non-sectarian, emphasizing the power of prayer and the spiritual life of the workers is very essential.

The sponsors for this project will be the local churches of each City or Town. The plan not to be started until one or more competent leaders for each church is ready to work. Each group of four should purchase a Holy Bible with concordance and three or more books on Communism, one of which should be "Masters of Deceit."

This plan would work the best in a City where a revival has just been conducted, for instance where Billy Graham has organized a good corps of workers.

If you know of any plan similar to the one I have outlined I would do nothing further with my plan. If you think it has merit I would be pleased to have you suggest one or more persons who would be competent to write up the chapter on Communism.

The writer is a veteran of the Spanish-American War; a graduate of Nebraska College of law and will be ninety years of age February 6th 1963. Over ten years ago I developed a blood clot in each eye, destroying the central vision so that I cannot read. I have some marginal vision and walk two miles every day and have good health. I am a member of the Methodist Church and for thirty years was superintendent of the Methodist Church School. Politically I am a Republican!

Sincerely,
R. D. Druliner

FEB 6 1963

The name, "Four Friends," selected for this plan of Christian Service was suggested by the Apostle, St. John, as he records the words of Jesus, "Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." "Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you. No longer do I call you servants, for the servant knoweth not what his Lord doeth, but I have called you friends for all the things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you."

The study material for the organization should be the book of St. Mathew, describing the life and teachings of Jesus. The discussion of the readings should take place each Wednesday and Sunday evening. The Wednesday evening meeting shall be at the home of one of the members; the Sunday evening meeting shall be at the Church and the Pastor and Leaders have charge, and invite the public to attend.

The Church should supervise a one-half hour of music and singing each Sunday evening. The junior choir, ages 10 to 18 years and the senior choir age 18 years and upward.

The book of Act of the New Testament also should be studied. It describes how the disciples put the teachings of Jesus into daily living.

There are many books exposing Communism. Among the best are "Masters of Deceit," by J. Edgar Hoover; "I Led Three Lives" by Philbrick; and "Communism and Christ," by Charles K. Lowry.

The three aforementioned books on the exposition of Communism should be read by all in the group and discussed also. This study would give a solid foundation for each member of the group on which to stand in his fight against Communism. The only way to defeat a lie is with the truth. Jesus said: "The truth shall make you free."

The time allotted for all meetings of the group should be divided one-half to Bible study and one-half to the fight on Communism. This could be varied however, to suit the groups. The evening meetings in the homes of individual members can be largely for the fight against Communism.

Any person who is a member in good standing of any Christian Church, is twenty-one years of age, and who has completed the course of study outlined herein, and has received a Certificate of Proficiency by the Pastor may become a leader in this plan with authority to organize and instruct a group of men and women of four or more, to follow the course of study outlined herein.

It shall be the duty of the four friends as soon as they have finished the course of study, each for himself or herself, with the assistance of their leader or instructor to select four other persons or more. They shall proceed with the course of study in the same manner as did the first four friends, and when the course is completed, they shall each receive a Certificate of Proficiency.

There are now sixteen new leaders whose duty it shall be to organize and instruct sixty-four new leaders. In like manner each of the sixty-four leaders will select a group of four and complete the study as the others have done. This plan of leadership training should be carried on indefinitely as long as the menace of Communism continues. The new leaders will hold their positions indefinitely.

If new families move into the Community, they should be welcomed and invited to join the "Friends." If someone is in trouble; if they need help or employment - - help them find work. If a fellow traveler is wavering invite him to join the "Four Friends."

J. Edgar Hoover says the Communist is to be pitied. Many of them would like to withdraw. There is a way to get them out. Help them. The foregoing is one way.

WHO WILL FINANCE THE PLAN OF THE FOUR FRIENDS? We will need help. It is possible our sponsor can secure help to start the meetings off; and then the churches may have some funds available for the purpose.

By letter 1-30-63, captioned individual writes the Director that he recently received "Masters of Deceit" on talking books for the blind. He found it most informative and listened to it twice. Druliner indicates that he is 90 years old and has only marginal vision. He states that ^{on} listening to the Director's book, he thought of an idea whereby a manual for Christian workers would be prepared which would give the teachings of Christ and the Apostle Paul, as well as ways to combat communism. He indicates that the booklet would be used in study groups sponsored by local churches and he suggests "Masters of Deceit," along with "I Led Three Lives" by Philbrick and "Communism and Christ" by Charles K. Lowry as suitable materials to be read by everyone in the groups. He suggests that, if the Director finds his plan has merit, he suggest someone to write the material on communism.

You will recall that "Masters of Deceit" was taped by Special Agent William Stapleton of the Crime Records Division and was turned over to the Library of Congress as a humanitarian service; the Library has made it available to organizations throughout the country representing the blind.

Bufiles contain no identifiable data on R. D. Druliner, Sr.

It is felt that the Director will not wish to comment on Druliner's proposed program; however, we can advise him of the Director's new book, "A Study of Communism" and send appropriate reprints on communism which may be of help to him.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter be sent to R. D. Druliner, Sr.

Dear David: ~~Reinhold~~

I have received your letter of January 31st and want you to know how much I appreciate your kind comment concerning "Masters of Deceit."

With reference to Khrushchev's statement quoted in your communication, we can be certain that it was not made in a religious sense as communism is a completely atheistic philosophy. Karl Marx called religion "the opium of the people" and Khrushchev has stated, "We remain the atheists that we have always been."

Enclosed is some literature I hope will be of interest to you. Perhaps you will also want to read my new book, "A Study of Communism," which traces the history of communism since its inception and carefully contrasts it with our American freedoms. This book should be available at your local public library.

Dear Sir,

I am a fourteen year old boy very much interested in the fight against communism. I have just finished your book Masters of Deceit and it is by far the most authoritative book on communism I have ever read.

There is one question I would like to ask you. On page 47 (I read the paper back edition published by Cardinal) in the chapter "Stalin--a Fallen Idol" there is a quotation by Nikita Khrushchev: "... God grant that every communist should fight for the interest of the working class as Stalin did." If the communists are atheists why does Mr. Khrushchev use the word "God"?

It seems to me that you are doing a good job with this Commie situation and after reading your book "Masters of Deceit" I feel as though you know the answers.

There are some people that have been in the question box and I want your opinion on them and some of the things that have been said and published about them.

One of these people is Stanley Mosk the Attorney General of the State of Calif. I have read several very incriminating stories about him and his activities. I am not a witch hunter but I am inclined to believe these articles. What is your opinion of this man? Does he have a past of being helpful to and of being very close to the Communists in this country? Also is a card carrying member of the Communist Party U.S.A.?

There is also Alan Cranston State Controller, Artie Samish and the activities of others that are not beyond reproach.

You may not be able to tell me anything about these men out due to these things I have read I am sick if these things are really going on in this good old U.S.A. Please answer this letter as I need to know.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your letter of February 15th and want you to know how much I appreciate your kind comments concerning "Masters of Deceit."

With reference to Khrushchev's statement quoted in your communication, we can be certain that it was not made in a religious sense as communism is a completely atheistic philosophy. Karl Marx called religion "the opium of the people" and Khrushchev has stated, "We remain the atheists that we have always been."

Enclosed is some literature I hope will be of interest to you. Perhaps you will also want to read my new book, "A Study of Communism," which traces the history of communism since its inception and carefully contrasts it with our American freedoms. This book should be available at your local public library.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover
 Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
 506 Old Post Office Building
 Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am a senior in high school and am taking a course in American History. In this course, we are studying the development, growth and effects of Communism and how to recognize it when we see it. In our study, we use the book you wrote on Communism, Masters of Deceit. Everyone thinks it is very interesting and informative.

In reading the section on "Stalin - A Fallen Idol", I note you have quoted a speech that Mr. Khrushchev made at a diplomatic reception in Moscow and in the speech are these words: "God grant that every Communist should fight for the interest of the working class as Stalin did". This statement stunned me when I read it, because I knew that the communist people are devout atheists. The only interpretation of this statement I have reasoned is that the God being talked about here is Lenin, because in subsequent pages, you say the people held Lenin as a God.

I spoke to my teacher about this matter and she couldn't give any further explanation. She suggested that I write you and perhaps you could help us. If you could, I would appreciate your explanation on this subject so as to help clear it in our minds.

Thank you.

Yours very truly,

You have every right to be proud of winning the Americanism plaque three years in a row. It is encouraging to know of your interest in preserving our heritage of freedom. I have urged our citizens to educate themselves concerning the true nature of communism in order that they will be able to resist its eroding influence, and to exhibit in positive ways the superiority of our form of government over any foreign ideology.

Enclosed is some literature I hope will be of interest to you. It contains suggestions all of us can use in fighting communism and protecting our Nation's future.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I reading your book "Masters of Deceit" for the second time made me had the urge to write you a letter telling how I like your book and the truth you telling makes one more scare. I just finished reading the Newsletter of Feb. 8, making me more afraid for our country. I am local and Dept. Americanism chairman for Veterans of World War One Auxiliary here in Arkansas and I try to find and read as much as I can so I be able to talk. In 1958, 1959 and 1960 I wonned the Americanism plaque at the state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary for promoting more Americanism than any other Unit in the State of Arkansas. It was the only time in a period of thirty-six years it was awared to a Unit more than twice in succession, and I retired it and it hanging in the American Legion Auxiliary room in Hot Springs. In 1961 and 1962 I wonned the National award at the National Convention of Veterans of World War One. Many times I stand alone, but I still go on fighting for principle I believe in and I finally win in the long run. Anybody can go along with a mob or crowd, but I can't see it, as I have 100% Fighting Irish blood in me.

40 FEB 19 1963

This country is too wonderful to lose it. Our forefather fought hard for this country and the boys and women who served our Country must died in vain. There are three men whom I admire-first my husband, Not only admire but love; second J. Edgar Hoover; third General Douglas McArthur. There were two other men but they have passed on Senator Joe McCarty who was crucifix and Senator Bob Taft. I hope some day to see you and hear you talk. I wished it was possible to have you here to talk on Americanism and against Communistism, but I know it would be impossible. Some years ago you was to be in Pittsburg, Kansas at the Kansas Teacher College and I was intending to go, but something came up and I was unable to go. I used to live in Kansas.

REC-16 ST-117 FEB 15 1963

The things that goes on here in Hot Springs are terrible; black babies market, dope etc. I know you know more about Hot Springs than I do, even I live here. Since I have become Justice of the Peace I been hearing about different things. Being a JP here in Arkansas doing mean anything. When you know somethings, one cannot tell any officers as they may be in the ring or receiving a pay off.

if you have any suggestions.

It worry me about the future of the FBI when you retire or something; as you have kept it on the up and up. What would Robert Kennedy do and appoint. WHO AND WHAT.

This may be useless in writing this letter as you receive thousand of letters a day, but I wanted to write to tell you are doing wonderful job in writing books and everthing. I was very happy to hear the message you sent to Fulton Lewis Jr. on his 25 years on the radio, if where were more folks like him this nation would be better off.

Again I would appreciate any suggestion you may have to offer.

Dear Mr. [Redacted]

I have received your letter of February 13th and I certainly appreciate the kind sentiments you expressed relative to my efforts as Director of the FBI. It is my hope that our future endeavors will warrant your continued support and approval. I want to thank you for your interest in my book and for furnishing me your comments and observations.

While I would like to be of assistance to you, the FBI is strictly an investigative agency of the Federal Government and neither makes evaluations nor draws conclusions as to the character or integrity of any organization, publication or individual. Information contained in our files must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice. In view of this, I am sure you will understand why I cannot comment concerning the John Birch Society and trade with Cuba. In addition, I hope you will not infer either that we do or do not have information in our files regarding your inquiries.

It is always reassuring to hear from citizens who demonstrate an awareness of the evils of communism and who desire to combat this threat to our freedoms. I am enclosing some material on the general topic of communism which I hope you will find to be of help in connection with your desire to learn more about this menace. You may also wish to read my new book, "A Study of Communism." This work is a comprehensive study of the development and expansion of communism throughout the world. It should be available at your local library.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I would like you to answer a few questions for me, I read your book "Masters Of Deceit". I found the answers to a lot of my questions in your book but some it did not answer. Is the John Birch Society communist? I hear so many pros and cons about it and half the time they are trying to inpeach somebody.

I have a lot of faith in you and think you are one man that America can look up to, I am one of those Americans.

I would like to know what you think about the black market goods we are sending to Cuba? I personally think they are aiding the cause of communism through out the world. I know my country isn't setting on their hands but I can't understand their actions.

I am an ex-Marine of world war two and have two boys and a girl. I teach them about America and what it stands for. I lost both legs fighting for my country so I fill closer to it than some people I hear talking about it.

One thing I don't ^{think} the schools teach enough about America, I think you will agree. I would like to see the country free of cummunist and dope so the children can grow up free to go to the school they please.

I don't think the Negro is getting a fair shake in the south and it isn't good for a country that teaches freedom. I grew up in the south and being white I excepted it as a young man. I then went into the Marines and was stationed in California and then saw the difference in treatment of the Negro.

If you find time would you please answer my letter? I realize you must get many letter but really would appreciate an answer. Keep up the good work and hope to hear from you soon.

Very truly yours

Dear Mr. Hoover:

My American History and current affairs class in school has just completed a course in Communism, using your book, Masters of Deceit, as the basic text.

One of the main points of our study was the spread of written propaganda through out the free world by the C.P.U.S.A. I have just recently entered a subscription to the magazine "USSR", published by the Soviet embassy in this country in agreement that the U.S. embassy in Russia will publish the American magazine, "Amerika." I would like to know, as would my classmates, your opinion of this agreement. Do you think that I have done the right thing, or rather was it a sound decision to place my subscription to this communist publication? Do you think that in Russia our American Magazine is allowed to publish as freely as do the Soviets in our country? If they are do you think that the Russian people actually have access to our publication?

I realize that the F.B.I. is purely an investigative organ of our government, and as such would not have an opinion toward this magazine, but I would like to have your own personal opinion on this subject.

Thank you very much, Mr. Hoover, and allow me to say that I feel that your book is indeed an important weapon in the fight against communism and it would be very wise for all freedom loving Americans to be armed with it.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It is with a great deal of reluctance that I write you again, after receiveing such a nice acknowledgment of my letter of February 5 from your Secretary Helen W. Gandy, because I know you are such a very busy man. But, as you state in the last paragraph of the photo copy attached, "Never has there been a time when we (Americans) have so much need for one another". My reason for writing this letter is brief; I found a 50¢ pocket book of your book "Masters of Deceit" (I had written previously to find the name of the Publishers) and I had previously had a copy of this book and loaned it out and could not get another! But I found this one and it had stuck in my mind from my first reading of this wonderfully true book the cold facts of what would happen to us all under Communism. I photo copied these pages in the crude fashion of which I have sent you a copy. What I want to ask you is this; would you object if I made some more copies like this to send to friends or anyone I would care to, to show what would happen to us under Communism? I do not wish to do this without your permission. I plan to order as many of the 50¢ pocket books as my limited budget allows to give to friends and acquaintances. But we must enlighten the people of America to this Communist menace.

I will await your earliest convenient reply.

J. EDGAR HOOVER

Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Under communism, a tiny minority, perhaps ten to twenty men, would rule the United States. An open dictatorship called the "dictatorship of the proletariat" would be established. (For a definition of "dictatorship of the proletariat," see the Glossary, page 323.) Communists, in all their teachings, make this point clear. The capital city, as one communist leader pointed out, would be moved from Washington, D.C., to a large industrial center, probably Chicago. National as well as state and local governments would be eliminated. "Soviets" (meaning councils) would be formed throughout the nation. These would consist of local Communist Party henchmen who would depose and probably liquidate your mayor, chief of police, clergymen, and leading citizens.

The Constitution, and all our laws, would be abolished. If you owned productive property you would be arrested as an "exploiter," hauled before a revolutionary court, and sentenced to a concentration camp—that is, if you convinced the "judge" you were worth saving at all. All property used in production would be confiscated, thus leading ultimately to total communism, meaning state ownership. This confiscation would include your home, business, bank deposits, and related personal possessions. These would "belong to everybody." You have no "right" to own them under the communist scheme.

The revolution would affect every man, woman, and child in America. Communists do not propose to remodel our government or retain any part of it. They would tear it to the ground; destroy all opposition, and then create a new government, an American province in the Soviet world empire. Their recipe for action? The 1917 Soviet revolution, adapted to modern conditions. The communists themselves have made the claim:

The principles upon which a Soviet America would be organized would be the same, in every respect, as those which guided the Soviet Union.

William Z. Foster, long-time head of the communist movement in our country, has boasted that the communist revolution, after the actual seizure of power, would "develop even more swiftly" than the Russian.

All industry would be nationalized and farms taken away from their owners. A small businessman is just as guilty as a large businessman; both must be liquidated. Rents, profits, and insurance would be abolished. Countless occupations, termed by the communists as "useless and parasitic," would be ended. Here is a part of their list: wholesalers, jobbers, real estate men and stockbrokers, advertising specialists, traveling salesmen, lawyers, "whole rafts of government bureaucrats, police, clericals, and sundry capitalist quacks, fakery, and grafters." The communists have a special disdain for lawyers. Perhaps it is because there will be no need for lawyers when there are no rights to defend. At any rate, Foster has said "The pest of lawyers will be abolished."

Action would be drastic, immediate, and without appeal. An armed "Red Guard" would enforce the orders of Party henchmen. Hotels, country clubs, and swimming pools would be used for the benefit of "workers," meaning, in most cases, Party bosses. The workingman in the mines, factories, and mills would be told to work certain hours for certain wages. Labor unions, as we know them, would be obliterated. All such organizations would be owned and operated by the communist government, and no laborer would be permitted to organize a union or to strike against his "government."

The press would be muzzled, free speech forbidden, and complete conformity demanded. If you expressed an opinion contrary to the Party line, you should have known better, and your "disappearance" would serve as a lesson for others. Fear becomes an enforcement technique. Movies, radio, and television would be taken over by the government as agencies for government propaganda. Churches would probably not be closed immediately, but they would be heavily taxed, their property seized by the state, and religious schools liquidated. Clergymen would be required to accept the Party line. "God does not exist. Why worship Him?" say the communists. Children would be placed in nurseries and special indoctrination schools. Women, boast the communists, would be relieved of housework. How? Huge factory and apartment-house kitchens would be set up, so that women would be "free" to work in factories and mines along with the men.

This picture of a communist America is not overdrawn. Here are the words of William Z. Foster:

Under the dictatorship all the capitalist parties—Republican, Democratic, Progressive, Socialist, etc.—will be liquidated, the Communist party functioning alone as the Party of the toiling masses. Likewise, will be dissolved all other organizations that are political, will be the bourgeois rule, including chambers of commerce, employers' associations, rotary clubs, American Legion, Y.M.C.A. and such fraternal orders as the Masons, Odd Fellows, Elks, Knights of Columbus, etc.

Under this schedule many Americans are eligible for liquidation not once but several times, depending on their present freely chosen affiliations and social interests.

Communism is many things: an economic system, a philosophy, a political creed, a psychological conditioning, an educational indoctrination, a directed way of life. Communists want to control everything: where you live, where you work, what you are paid, what you think, what streetcars you ride (or whether you walk), how your children are educated, what you may not and must read and write. The most minute details, even the time your alarm clock goes off in the morning or the amount of cream in your coffee, are subjects for state supervision. They want to make a "communist man," a mechanical puppet, whom they can train to do as the Party desires. This is the ultimate, and tragic, aim of communism.

These statements are confirmed, day after day, by documented reports from areas where communists have already taken over: Hungary, East Germany, Bulgaria, Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Red China, and other areas.

When you read such reports, do not think of them as something happening in a far-off land. Remember, always, that "it could happen here" and that there are thousands of people in this country now working in secret to make it happen here.

But also, thank God, there are millions of Americans who oppose them. If we open our eyes, inform ourselves, and work together, we can keep our country free.

But most of all, I have been guided by the thought of millions of loyal Americans everywhere and in all walks of life. Never has there been a time when we have so much need for one another. And we must never forget that if our government is to remain free, it needs the help of every patriotic man, woman, and child.

By letter dated 2-18-63, captioned individual forwarded a photocopy of Director's statements contained in pages 6, 7, 8, 9 and last page of foreword of the pocket book edition of "Masters of Deceit." He requests permission to have more copies made to enable him to send to friends or anyone he would care to, to show "what would happen to us under communism." He points out that he plans to order as many of the pocket book editions of "Masters of Deceit" as his limited budget allows. He advises that the Director is the only man in Washington in whom he has complete faith and confidence in this fight against communism.

By letter dated 2-12-63, over Miss Gandy's signature, was furnished the address of Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.

OBSERVATION:

Although correspondent appears to be sincere in his desire to fight communism and while we would normally grant such a request to individuals having a good reputation, it is felt that in the present case it would not be in the best interests of the Bureau to grant permission to reprint sections of "Masters of Deceit." It is also felt that his request should not be acknowledged by a letter over the Director's signature or over Miss Gandy's signature since we wrote to him just recently.

FBI Leader Says West Will Prevail

New Book Warns of Relentless Red Efficiency

WASHINGTON (UPI) —
"The ultimate guarantee against Communist encroachment is a deep and abiding awareness on the part of each citizen that freedom is inherently superior to communism.

With these words, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover climaxes his new book, "A Study of Communism," to be published Monday. In it he documents his faith in the outcome of the east-west struggle that is being waged throughout the world.

The nation's No. 1 Communist hunter grimly warns that the Reds have established "the most extensive networks of subversion ever known to the world."

He writes that the Soviet dictatorship, operating with ruthless efficiency, is making relentless political, economic, military and educational challenges on the free world.

Final Victory Assured

But of the future, he has no doubt. In his final chapter, the 67-year-old hero of many a victorious criminal saga summarizes:

"While communism must be achieved and maintained by force, it can never eradicate man's innate desire for freedom — our strongest weapon in the struggle against communism.

Most of the book, published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, amounts to a reasoned recount of the history of communism from its inception to the present age of nuclear weapons and space shots.

In 1917, when the Communists seized power in Russia, Hoover had just joined the Justice Department staff as a 22-year-old lawyer.

Today, 38 years after he assumed command, he has seen the Communist movement achieve a world roster of 40 million adherents in 87 countries and take control of one fourth of the earth's territory.

Emphasis Stepped Up

Hoover cites Communist party claims of 10,000 members in the United States but quotes Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev who said of the U.S. party: "The nugget is small but its value is great."

He relates that since the early 1950's the Soviet Union has stepped up its emphasis on illegal spy operations.

In the past, Hoover reports, these illegal agents have settled in the United States and have assumed the life of normal American citizens for the purpose of concealing their fraudulent entries. Some have been known to remain in an inactive status for as long as 10 years.

He makes these points about Communist espionage:

The total of Soviet official personnel in this country at the Soviet embassy, the United Nations, Tass
news agency, and Amtorg Trading Corp. is about 400.
A former Soviet intelligence officer who defected said 7 or 8 of every 10 of these have some type of intelligence assignments.

Blended Into Service

In addition, approximately 300 officials of other Soviet bloc countries are stationed here and have been blended into a Moscow-directed intelligence service.

In a discussion of how to combat Communist spy tactics, Hoover cautions against individuals trying to make private investigations.

He gives this advice:

"... Citizens should not circulate rumors about subversive activities or draw conclusions from information which may come to their attention. Vigilante action weakens our free society. It is just as important to protect the innocent as to identify our enemies."

Hearst Americanism Trophy to Pa. Legion

By DAVID SENTNER

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 11—National commander Charles L. Bacon today formally awarded the William Randolph Hearst Americanism trophy at the American Legion convention here to the department of Pennsylvania.

In presenting the trophy officially to Pennsylvania Department Commander George Bruno from the convention platform, Commander Bacon referred to its "vital significance."

WINS 16TH TIME

He also paid tribute to the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion having won the honor for the sixteenth time since the trophy was first donated in 1938 by the late famous publisher.

William Randolph Hearst Jr., editor-in-chief of the Hearst newspapers, sent congratulations to Commander Bruno for his department's "outstanding contribution to Americanism."

"In these crucial days of the cold war, being an American must be more than an accepted habit," Hearst messaged. "Your department has distinguished itself by positive action."

Hearst particularly complimented the winning Legion Department for the following:

Creating "Bells Across the Nation" on Patriots' Day.

Continuous educational campaign against Communist propaganda.

The Hearst Americanism Trophy consists of a gold perpetual clock mounted on a marble base with Legion symbols.

J. Edgar Hoover reminds me of a high abbot in a monastery of gunmen. He works in dignity and silence, and yet, on the occasions when he is recognized in public, Hoover is friendly and warm. Then, back to the monastery and the work of guarding the nation from the sneaks, the saboteurs, the spies, the big interstate criminals, and the rosary of brass knuckles.

He has been the boss of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for almost 40 years. In that time, he has become an expert on communism in its most blatant, and most subtle forms. At the age of 67, the bachelor chieftain of the G-men is finding time to write books.

This is good, because what he writes amounts to a sharing of his knowledge with all of us. Twenty years after his first book, "Persons in Hiding," came "Masters of Deceit," the story of communism in America.

Monday, a new one will be in the bookshops. It is called "A Study of Communism" and, for those who would like to know the history of communism, from Marx to Khrushchev, in addition to the story of what the Reds are doing in the United States, the book is nourishing reading.

* * *

Once, a long time ago, I came across an itemized bill of the assistance the United States gave to bleeding, dying Russia in World War II. Since then, I have been unable to find it. Hoover has it listed, all on Page 129 of the new book. It is important to know what we have done for our wartime allies, the people who now promise to bury us.

We sent the Russians 7000 tanks, 14,000 planes, 8000 tractors, 135,000 machine guns, one billion dollars worth of heavy machinery, 100 merchant ships, 8000 anti-aircraft guns, 2000 railroad locomotives, 200 torpedo boats, 300,000 tons of explosives, 10,000 freight cars and 100 submarine chasers.

Trucks? 400,000 of those; 8000 marine diesel engines and 100,000 railroad wheels and axles. Oh yes, jeeps. Fifty thousands of these amazing, four-wheeled ruffians; 500,000 tons of rails and 600,000 tons of chemical products, including much medicine to keep Russians alive.

Add to this 35,000 motorcycles, 400,000 field telephones and 150 million yards of cotton and woolens, 17 million tires.

My brother-in-law, Emil Steencken, was one of thousands of American sailors who volunteered to man the ships carrying the supplies.

J. Edgar Hoover, in his "A Study of Communism" says the bill amounts to $11,141,470,000. This is the greatest bad debt of all time. It comes to $171 a piece for every working person in this country.

Thus, Emil Steencken not only delivered the goods, but must help to pay for it.

Timely Caution by J. Edgar Hoover

J. Edgar Hoover, the foremost authority on Communist hunting, does not believe the pursuit of subversives is a suitable task for private citizens. In his invaluable new book, "A Study of Communism," he has some cautions that well-meaning but ill-advised patriots ought to read with care. Here are a few of them:

"In dealing with communism, citizens should refrain from making private investigations. Information which comes to an individual's attention regarding communism should be furnished the FBI, and the checking of data should be left to trained investigators. Private inquiries may even jeopardize investigations in progress . . .

"Moreover, citizens should not circulate rumors about subversive activities or draw conclusions from information which may come to their attention . . . By drawing premature or ill-founded conclusions or circulating rumors (an individual) can often cause grave injustice to innocent people. Vigilante action weakens our free society. It is just as important to protect the innocent as to identify our enemies.

"The responsibility for curtailing and containing communism is one for legally constituted authorities acting with the steadfast co-operation of every loyal citizen . . .

"Reckless charges against individuals and false statements about the nature of communism and the extent of its penetration into various areas of our life serve the cause of communism by creating disunity among Americans. Too often the label 'Communist' is used indiscriminately against those whose views are unpopular or merely differ from those of the majority . . . Misidentification of communism . . . divides us as a nation at the very time we need unity and strength to face the actual and very real threat of communism."

There is nothing more to be said on this subject. But here is one further Hoover counsel:

"In the area of individual and group action by citizens, knowledge of communism is vital. It is essential that action be based on facts."

The facts are all in Mr. Hoover's book.

A THOUGHT FROM THE BIBLE—And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south; and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.—Genesis 28, verse 14.

FBI Chief Pinpoints Red Danger

BY JOHN EDGAR HOOVER

In this columning business, you get to know many public personalities. Some are always understanding of their need to use their influence and positions for the greatest common welfare. I have found my good friend J. Edgar Hoover a man of all these qualities. In addition, in his field, he is the greatest scientist of all. So I asked the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to take the measure of danger of the Communist movement in the United States. Here is his reply. —Victor Riesel

Leading members of the Communist hierarchy have never minimized the significance they attach to the Communist nucleus in this country. Shortly before his death in Moscow last year, William Z. Foster, then chairman emeritus of the Communist Party, U.S.A., said:

"The CPUSA today is potentially, if not actually, stronger than it ever was in history, because great Socialist countries of the world are marching forward to greater and greater victories and the United States is bound to reflect this world-wide advance of socialism."

Not long ago, Benjamin J. Davis, national secretary of the Communist Party, U.S.A., in the course of a radio appearance made a statement to the effect that "... the Communist Party in America is potentially the largest of all political parties ..."

At the Soviet Communist Party congress last fall, Nikita Khrushchev gave his own assessment of his organization's branch office in the United States. Admitting that party membership was not numerically great, he stated: "One can say, using the words of the folk proverb: 'It's a small unit of weight, but it's valuable.'"

Why is it valuable?

port Communist fronts. Through these tactics, Communist strength can be greatly enhanced. In addition, ideological cultivation in Marxism-Leninism makes members potential recruits for Soviet espionage.

The party is always staunchly loyal to Soviet Russia, a fact which is reflected in its shifting line. In September, 1961, the Worker in an editorial

Hoover

Domestic Communists, like other Communist conspirators, are absolute realists. They know they can never hope to gain power through the elective process. They concentrate, therefore, on efforts to (1) agitate and propagandize, (2) infiltrate legitimate, non-Communist organizations, (3) create and supported a permanent ban on nuclear explosions. This paper hit the street just hours before the Soviets announced the resumption of nuclear tests. One week later the Worker carried four articles justifying the Soviet Union's action.

A primary concern of domestic Communists today is the infiltration of non-Communist ranks. With infinite subtlety and patience, they hope to influence American opinion to fit a collectivist mold. The process of opinion subversion is developed with such diabolical skill that even today a surprising number of victims are drawn into the active promotion of causes which advance Communist aims and ideas.

Such persons often remain totally ignorant of the fact that they are themselves subject to Communist manipulation.

The Communist movement is currently concentrating great effort in the youth field. Party propagandists, skilled in promoting the Communist line, are striving to win access to campuses across the country and in so doing hope to gain an aura of respectability.

In their efforts to broaden opportunities to exploit college-age youth, they recently announced the creation of a lecture bureau. Plans for the creation of Marxist discussion groups for teen-age youngsters are being promoted and party members have "papered" gathering places of young people with thousands of copies of their unlabeled propaganda sheets.

The subversive is fully aware of the idealism of youth. He knows the value of exploiting appealing if controversial subjects in such a way that he always gives the impression of being "on the side of the angels." It is his ostensible support of idealistic causes which so often entraps the unsophisticated youth and turns him into a willing puppet manipulated by Communist masters.

What is the measure of danger we face from the Communist movement?

Entirely apart from the deadly danger of espionage activities operating under the cover of every Russian-run establishment in the United States, we must recognize the fact that a powerful foreign government has, at this moment, an advance detachment within our borders.

This group has no cloak of legitimacy. Some cohorts from this detachment currently are striving to infiltrate vital segments of our society. This detachment stands behind the efforts of other conspirators in their attempts to clamp the iron control of communism on our sister republics.

But even more deadly than these is the Communist capacity to pervert our thinking and destroy the spiritual supports which form the foundation of our freedom.

Will we succumb to opinion subversion? Can we be changed from forthright, self-reliant, self-respecting American citizens into irresolute, halfhearted, irresponsible weaklings willing to compromise away the freedoms for which so many have fought and died? Therein lies the measure of our danger.

TEEN WORLD TO INFORM

by Dr. Roy McKeown, President

It's time America knows the facts . . . and Teen World is dedicated to giving you this information. As a teen service organization, we will be informing, challenging and inspiring teenagers and adults around the world with the responsibility that is ours.

Many teenagers have asked the question: "What can I do to stop the indecency that there is on radio, television etc.?" In answer to these many questions, we would like to suggest the following "Teenagers' Decency Campaign."

YOUTH GUIDANCE: GANGS - UNDER-PRIVILEGED

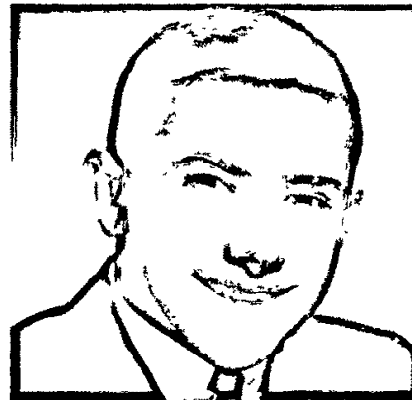

Under the direction of Chaplain Paul Arthur, the Youth Guidance Department has grown to be one of the highlights in Teen World. Working with gang members and teenagers who are in trouble with the law is one of the very important phases of this ministry. Cities all across the United States are reporting the need of some program to work in the field of Underprivileged Teenagers.

A model club house has been initiated in Los Angeles, located in a gang-infested area, in which Mayor Yorty has stated there are over 50,000 misguided teenagers. From month to month reports will be coming your way on the progress of the Youth Guidance Department.

Assisting in Teen World's Youth Guidance Department, George "Stub" McLaird, newest member of the staff, is now making his headquarters in Los Angeles. Having had experience in working with teenagers in trouble with the law and gang members in Chicago, "Stub" returns to his hometown to help continue developing Teen World's Youth Guidance program. and other organizations that permit believers of Jesus Christ to have fellowship while competing in organized sports. We welcome Mr. Spoelstra to the Teen World staff and also as a member of the Board of Governors of Teen World. Following is his first article for Teen World.

Watson Spoelstra is a well known Detroit sports writer, having written for the Detroit News since 1945, and before that, for the Detroit Free Press. He is the Michigan sports editor for the Associated Press, covering the Detroit Tigers in the American League and the Detroit Lions in the National Football League. He has covered half a dozen Rose Bowl games as well as the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia. He is the official scorer for the American League in Detroit and the Detroit correspondent for Sporting News, a national baseball weekly.

Mr. Spoelstra became a Christian in 1958, and is a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, Michigan. He is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes

Big league baseball arrested new attention in 1962 with the exciting play of Felipe Alou, outfielder for the San Francisco Giants. In one sequence, Alou connected for nine straight hits to inspire the Giants in their season-long challenge to the Los Angeles Dodgers. He batted over .300.

"Whether I hit .300 or .220, I do the best I can for the glory of God," Felipe says.

The night before he played his first big league game, Alou knelt alone in his hotel room and gave his life to God. A Christian friend had sent an encouraging cablegram from his native Dominican Republic. Reading the message, Felipe sank to his knees and asked God to take over his life.

"Alou's simple trust in God is stimulating to many Christians in baseball," declares Jerry Kindall, second baseman of the Cleveland Indians.

Felipe speaks to many church groups, telling what God means to him.

"The biggest day of my life was when I became a Christian," he says, shrugging off the personal honors bestowed in baseball.

TEEN LEADERSHIP

by Jack Hamilton, First Vice President

A new feature of Teen World has just been launched. We call it, "Teen Leadership." After two years of careful study and application, a program has evolved that will help the modern teen to understand his place in today's world and his relationship to Christ.

The first six-week course will begin this month. It is church-centered, working through the youth departments. Interest from churches has been excellent. With the motivation, "Christian Maturity," the course delves into teenagers understanding themselves and relating spiritual truths to all areas of their lives.

Today's world calls for strong Christian leaders. Teen World is devoted to meeting the challenge of this call.

But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

UNITED STATES SENATOR FRANK CARLSON SPEAKS

U.S. Senator Frank Carlson
Chairman of the Board of Governors

We are pleased to introduce to the many friends of Teen World the Honorable Frank Carlson, Senator from Kansas, who has served as Chairman of the Board of Governors of Teen World since its inception.

The distinguished Senator Carlson recently said: "Teen World's fighting spirit is dedicated to the cause of the American way of life under God and our constitutional system of government. I personally know and support the work of my friend, Roy McKeown, and am pleased to be Chairman of the Board of Governors of Teen World whose headquarters are located in Hollywood, California."

J. EDGAR HOOVER SAYS: If we could reach one generation of young people between the ages of 12-16 for the church, we could defeat juvenile delinquency in that generation.

AROUND THE TEEN WORLD

by Ken Phillips, Executive Vice President

We trust that this column each month will be informative and a means to challenge you with the activities of Teen World on behalf of teens everywhere.

Every 17 minutes a teenager drops out of school in the U.S.

Only 68 per cent of those who enter first grade graduate from high school.

Teenage girls in 1961 spent: $20 million on lipstick; $837 million on back-to-school clothes; $9 million on home permanents.

Teenagers in 1961 spent: $75 million "pop" records; $1 1/2 billion entertainment.

Teenagers drank 3 1/2 billion quarts of milk last year. They own 10 million record players and 1 1/2 million of them own automobiles.

On the subject of marriage: One-third of all girls 18-19 years of age are married. There are 600,000 teenage marriages a year.

Some of the above statistics help answer the question: "Why Teen World?" By 1970, one out of every two people in the world will be 15 years of age or younger.

Each month we will endeavor to inform you of the whereabouts of some of the men of Teen World. Every day of the week there is a staff member of Teen World speaking somewhere.

Bill Carle, Basso and Ambassador-at-Large for Teen World, has the following schedule:

- Oct. 6-7 — Sacramento and Turlock, California
- Oct. 13 — Santa Barbara Youth for Christ
- Oct. 14 a.m. — Pasadena, California Free Methodist Church
- Oct. 14 p.m. — Santa Monica, California Nazarene Church
- Oct. 19 — San Bernardino, California C.B.M.C.
- Oct. 20-21 — Indianapolis, Indiana Youth for Christ
- Oct. 22-28 — First Church of the Nazarene, Nashville, Tennessee
- Oct. 29 - Nov. 4 — St. Louis, Missouri Youth for Christ

John Webb, Basso and Field Representative, has the following schedule:

- Oct. 6-7 — Sacramento and Turlock, California
- Oct. 8-14 — Panorama City, California First Baptist Church
- Oct. 15-21 — San Jose, California First Baptist Church
- Oct. 24 - Nov. 7 — Audio Bible Society, East Coast United States

Dr. Herb Tyler, Overseas Vice President, has the following schedule:

- Oct. 7-14 — Oakland, California Youth for Christ
- Oct. 20-21 — Barstow, California Youth for Christ
- Nov. 2 — Redding, California Youth for Christ
- Nov. 4 — Hinson Memorial Baptist Church, Portland, Oregon
- Nov. 5-11 — Battleground, Washington
- Nov. 12-18 — Calvary Baptist Church, Toppenish, Washington

Each of these men and others are available for your church. Contact us for further details. Pray for them in their various meetings.

TEEN WORLD OVERSEAS

One of the basic purposes of Teen World is to assist existing agencies in various countries of the world in their work with teenagers. In charge of investigating the needs and reporting on all agencies in foreign lands is Dr. Herb Tyler, Overseas Vice President of Teen World.

In its first year, Teen World sent monies in excess of $4,200 to the following countries that have existing agencies working with teenagers: Germany, France, India, Brazil, Guatemala, Philippines, Australia, Peru and Finland. Each month Dr. Tyler will be reporting in the "Broadcaster" on teenage activity in various countries of the world.

TEEN WORLD SINGERS TOUR

Fred Sanborn

"Inspiration for Century 21" was the theme successfully carried out by the Teen World Singers and Orchestra on their recent 15-day tour to the Seattle World's Fair and the Pacific Northwest. Traveling by chartered bus, and using a van for equipment, the group of 36 sang and played 21 concerts and were received by many overflow crowds. The two outdoor concerts at the World's Fair were enthusiastically acclaimed by the press, television and fair officials.

One of the highlights of the tour was the appearance at San Quentin Penitentiary. Before the largest crowd ever in the new chapel, Roy McKeown and the Teen World Singers gave a challenging program of inspiration through the spoken word and music.

So many times teenagers and adults state that there is no use, or they don't know what they can do about it. There is something YOU can do! We are suggesting eight types of indecency you may wish to take action on—and where to write:

Dr. Roy McKeown

1. Objectionable TV and Radio program: Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D.C., and National Association of Broadcasters, 1771 N Street N.W., Washington, D.C. Also the stations responsible and the sponsors of the shows.
2. Objectionable commercials: The same as above but also: The ANA-AAAA Committee for Improvement of Advertising Content, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, New York.
3. Indecent movies: Mr. Geoffrey Shurlock, Motion Picture Association of America 8480 Beverly Blvd., Hollywood 48, Calif. Also the company who produced it, and the theaters showing it.
4. Indecent movie ads: Movie company, theater, newspaper and Mr. Gordon White, Motion Picture Association of America 28 West 44 Street, New York City, N.Y.
5. Newsstands featuring indecent publications: Objections may be properly voiced to proprietor, police chief and mayor.
6. General public indecency: Bombard senators and congressmen and state legislators with support for legislation to clean up filth.
7. Indecent record covers and greeting cards: Protests may be sent to addresses printed on back of record covers and cards.
8. Indecent newspaper and magazine ads: It is suggested that objectionable ads be cut out and returned to newspaper or magazine with statement that you do not wish such ads in your home.

I have just read your book, Masters of Deceit which I obtained through our company library, (General Dynamics/Pomona). I have read it, enjoyed it and wish to learn more about the communist menace. I have joined an anti communist study club to learn more also.

Can you please send me additional information on the menace of Communism which I might study and pass on to friends.

Let me say in addition that many people I have met and spoken to about our present national situation express my sentiments when I say that I appreciate very much the dedicated fight the FBI is carrying on against the enemies of our republic.

SUBJECT: MR. JAMES N. EISENLAU
 VICE COMMANDER
 FEUSTEL-KURDT POST NUMBER 1-120, INC.
 AMERICAN LEGION
 BOX 176
 LINDENHURST, NEW YORK

By letter to the Director dated March 2nd Mr. Eisenlau advised that he had initiated a plan to provide copies of "Masters of Deceit" for use of the senior class of Lindenhurst High School in a course on the study of communism. The plan was enthusiastically adopted by the school authorities and Eisenlau's Post provided 350 copies of the book to the senior class. Eisenlau is the Americanism officer of his Post. Enclosed in his letter was newspaper clipping regarding the gift of the books to Lindenhurst High School, which quotes a statement of Eisenlau's which is very laudatory to the Director.

INFORMATION IN BUFILES:

James N. Eisenlau is not identifiable in Bufiles on the basis of existing information. Telephone call to New York Office 3-6-63 disclosed no derogatory information or other circumstances precluding gift of autographed copy of "Masters of Deceit" being forwarded to him.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of Eisenlau's outstanding support in initiating and implementing the plan to provide copies of "Masters of Deceit" to his local high school, that he be sent, under separate cover, an autographed copy of the book, and that the attached letter be sent to him.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

 Department of Justice
 Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I finished reading your book, "Masters of Deceit," a short while ago and thoroughly enjoyed it. I feel that you and the Department are to be congratulated for this fine presentation. What little contact and what thoughts I have had about Communism match your views quite fully.

When I read your chapter on LIFE IN THE PARTY, I was impressed by how much the changes in our culture in the last decade or two have been in the direction of matching life in the communist movement. It looks to me as if they are in to us right far.

I also enjoyed very much your comments that the theme of "progress" was part of the communist line. I have been protesting as vigorously as I know how, the way in which science and technology are being changed for the worse, and it being called progress. I also felt that your comments about communist fund raising activities might well explain some of the absurd and high-pressure charitable activities that go on.

Recently a friend of mine in the chemical warfare service explained to me that we could now kill people with a few milligrams of material (thousandths of a gram). He said what they were trying to do was get so that they could kill them with micrograms (millionths of a gram). It seems to me that this would add new and incredibly difficult dimensions to your problems of protecting our leaders. A sufficient amount to render one of our real champions ineffective, or completely out of action could be sent in a letter. Or the janitor or maid could put it on the floor of the room and the fumes coming off could do so. The recent death of Hugh Gaitskell in England had overtones that made me, as a gas toxicologist, feel quite uncomfortable. I was able to uncover and get corrected, one very grave environmental problem in the National Library of Medicine, where they were using lindane vaporizers, and had recommended them all over the world to libraries- but I have not yet been able to get them stopped spraying malathion in the Library of Congress.

There have been grave, documentable errors made in the administration of the pesticide control act, particularly from the long-term standpoint. This had had the effect of opening a Pandora's box of dreadful things, which any child can buy at the corner drugstore or food store. Their biggest error has been in assuming that safety in the air could be arrived at from animal feeding experiments. For substances having low water solubility and a significant vapor pressure, this is not true, as we so well known from mercury poisoning. Because of its low water solubility, and consequent low alimentary absorption, the same pound of mercury that most people could swallow with little harm, would cause mercury poisoning if spilled on the floor of the room where they work.

Some of the people who recognize the present hazard from the gradual increase of toxic burden from multiple sources, are pressing for the re-organization of the Public Health Service to give a comprehensive, environmental approach to public health. I think this is of utmost importance, and that the staff of such a new department should be of highest competence and tight security screening.

My reasons for taking this stand is that subtle methods of weakening a prospective victim are the methods of choice of our present oponents. If a man or a nation does not even know how they lost their vitality, they are in a very poor position to recover it. The evidence seems quite clear (exhibit 1 and 2) that they are already using narcotics and alcohol in a kind of do-it-yourself, slow or chronic warfare against some countries. I would be surprised if they would stop with two items, when so many others are available to exploit.

I want to thank you again for your effort in writing your fine book. It has been of much help and comfort to me in these trying times.

INTERPRETATION AS TO APPLICABILITY OF ACT AND REGULATIONS TO OPERATIONS OF PEST CONTROL OPERATORS

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

INTERPRETATIONS OF THE
OF THE FEDERAL INSECTICIDE, FUNGICIDE, AND RODENTICIDE ACT

Issued August 1948
Reissued with Amendments October 1953

INTERPRETATION NO. 1

The question has arisen as to whether the requirements of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder are applicable to the situation in which a commercial pest control operator, as a part of his service operation, carries his own economic poisons from one State to another for application by him in his work, the material remaining in his sole and actual possession until applied.

The operator is hired to control pests and as a part of his service work applies the substances.

The substances are applied presumably by experts who are familiar with the nature of such substances and the risks involved. It would not appear that the activities of a commercial pest control operator, outlined above, fall within the spirit or intent of the registration and labeling provisions of the act or the regulations.

ONE OF THE WORST LOOPHOLES IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE PINE PESTICIDE CONTROL ACT

There is little or no control over the activities of exterminators. If a foreign power or the criminal element wishes to use this avenue for waging chemical warfare against our population they are relatively free to do so. The pest control monthly service which sprays insecticide in the home, apartment or public building at regular intervals provides a made-to-order way for gradually weakening a population, or for selectively destroying the effectiveness of particular leaders. It might seem logical to include the activities of pest control operators under the Pesticide Act, but the record of the Department of Agriculture has been so lax in terms of the long-term, air-borne exposure to the fumes arising from volatile insecticides applied inside buildings, that probably this would not make the situation much better. It might make it worse by adding legal sanction and governmental prestige to dangerous practices.

In all fairness it should be noted that exterminators have done an excellent job of rodent control, using reasonably safe methods for the most part. However, in insect control they have in general followed unsafe recommendations promulgated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture since World War II. Although the newer, more volatile insecticides may be superior for agricultural purposes by leaving less residue on food, their volatility presents a grave and well demonstrated hazard when used in inhabited buildings.

Dear Mr.

This refers to your letter of October 15, 1962, concerning the basic responsibilities of the Office of Civil Defense.

Under the provisions of Executive Order 10952, dated July 20, 1961, the Secretary of Defense is assigned responsibility for Federal programs for the protection of the Nation's civilian population against the dangers of nuclear attack. The responsibilities, in general, include the development and execution of a fallout shelter program; a chemical, biological and radiological warfare defense program; a warning and communications system; and a program to assist the State and local governments in such postattack community services as health and sanitation, maintenance of law and order, fire fighting, debris clearance, traffic control and the provision of adequate water supplies.

The Office of Civil Defense is not assigned responsibility for the public health aspects associated with the peacetime uses of insecticides, fungicides, rodenticides, alcohol and narcotics. For information concerning assignment of responsibility for controls in these areas it is suggested that you correspond with the following:

Dear [redacted]

Reference is made to your letter of 11 September 1962, relative to the jurisdiction of the Chemical Warfare Service.

The recent reorganization of the Department of the Army has resulted in the establishment of the U. S. Army Chemical-Biological-Radiological Agency, which encompasses many of the missions previously assigned to the former Chemical Corps. (Shortly after World War II, the Chemical Warfare Service became the U. S. Army Chemical Corps.)

The mission of the U. S. Army Chemical-Biological-Radiological Agency is attached. You will note that the responsibility for Civil Defense and the labeling of chemical containers is not included in the mission statement, since these functions are the responsibilities of other federal agencies.

THE FUNCTIONS MAY BE THEIR RESPONSIBILITY BUT THEY CERTAINLY ARE NOT FULFILLING THEM.

Two out of three of my friends exposed to this substance in their homes in Florida for about a year, died from cancer within less than a year following their exposure. The sites of the cancer in lung, liver and kidney were significant for air-borne, toxic materials of this type. One was an older woman, but the other was a young engineer, only 27 years old, who had never smoked, and yet died of lung and kidney cancer.

In my work I have had experiences in which toxic exposure produced a strong impulse to suicide. When I read of the New York Central railroad financier, Robert Young, committing suicide in Florida a few years ago, I wondered if he might not have had an encounter with this or some similar material.

RESIDUAL FUMIGANTS

Their Potential in Malaria Eradication

WILLIS MATHIS, B.S., RICHARD W. FAY, Ph.D., H. F. SCHOOF, Ph.D., and K. D. QUARTERMAN, M.P.H.

RESIDUAL fumigants offer a new technique of vector control which is potentially capable of revolutionizing the insecticidal approach to malaria eradication.

Current malaria eradication programs depend primarily on interrupting the transmission of the disease through the use of residual insecticides, chiefly DDT and dieldrin. Although considerable success has been achieved with this method during the past decade, similar accomplishment in some areas is being hampered by (a) development of vector populations resistant to these insecticides, (b) variation in the efficacy of residues caused by the type of surface to which they are applied, (c) destruction or removal of the insecticidal deposits by replastering, washing, or other modifications of the treated surfaces, and (d) variation in the behavior of the mosquitoes. Consequently, a method which would reduce or eliminate the influence of any of these factors would hasten the achievement of the ultimate goal of global malaria eradication.

The authors are with the Technical Development Laboratories of the Communicable Disease Center, Public Health Service, in Savannah, Ga. Mr. Mathis is a medical entomologist, Dr. Fay is assistant chief, and Dr. Schoof is chief of the Biology Section. Mr. Quarterman is chief of the laboratories. (Manuscript received for publication March 23, 1959.)

That certain toxicants, such as lindane, DDVP, Diazinon, and malathion, possess fumigant properties is an established fact. Moreover, in recent studies of the effectiveness against Anopheles quadrimaculatus of malathion deposits on walls, it was noted that 75 to 100 percent of the mosquitoes remaining in the entrance cages attached to the outside of the animal-baited huts were killed (1).

The death of these mosquitoes was presumed to result from malathion vapor being carried to the entrance cages from the interior of the huts by air currents. The magnitude of the fumigant action of organophosphorus compounds against mosquitoes was first detected accidentally through the unexpected mortality of mosquitoes in use as "check" insects in laboratory tests. Apparently, they were killed by fumes from an unopened bag of fly bait containing malathion and DDVP. To confirm this premise, two cages of A. quadrimaculatus were placed 1.5 and 3.5 feet above floor level in a small room (5 by 9 by 10 feet) at sites approximately 7 to 10 feet from the same unopened bag of bait located at floor level in an adjoining room (10 by 14 by 10 feet). The rooms were unoccupied and closed to the exterior, and the connecting door remained open. All specimens died within 2.5 hours. The fact that the unopened bag contained a plastic liner emphasized the mobility of the vapor.

To evaluate this fumigant action under less favorable conditions, the tests described below were conducted in an unoccupied two-room house and in two small huts.

House Test

Each room was 13 by 12 by 8 feet. One contained an exterior door and a window, and the other, two windows. All these and an interior door between the rooms were fully open. Cages of both susceptible Aedes aegypti (400 adults) and Musca domestica (200 adults) were placed in five positions in the two rooms as follows: room I-A, sheltered corner; room I-B, in open window; room I-C, above interconnecting door; room II-D, exposed corner; and room II-E, sheltered corner.

Four 5-pound bags of fly bait composed of 2.0 percent malathion and 0.5 percent DDVP were placed in room I on the floor, 5 to 8 feet from cage sites A, B, and C, and 13 and 17 feet respectively from sites D and E. The bait containers were double-paper bags lined with plastic. One was opened, and the others remained sealed. All specimens were exposed for 1 hour, during which time a gentle breeze (estimated 10 m.p.h.) passed through both rooms. After 24 hours, mortality for female houseflies was 21 to 24 percent at cage sites A, B, and C, and 2 and 0 percent at sites D and E. For female mosquitoes, the values were 95 to 99 percent at sites A, B, and C, and 64 and 52 percent at sites D and E.

Hut Tests

Each hut (8 by 8 by 8 feet) had 2 windows (3 by 3 feet) on opposite sides, both of which remained open during the entire experiment. In hut I, a single 5-pound open bag of bait containing 2 percent malathion and 0.5 percent DDVP was placed in the center of the floor; in hut II, three open 5-pound bags of the same bait were located one each at the apexes of a triangle (2 ft.) near the center of the floor. One hundred female A. quadrimaculatus were released in each hut at 3 p.m. 1 week after the baits were installed, and at weekly intervals during the next 3 weeks. The morning following each release, all specimens, both living and dead, were collected and held for 24- and 48-hour mortality determinations. Results showed 100 percent mortality for each of the four weekly tests in each hut. The tests were discontinued after the fourth week.

During the fourth week, caged specimens (25 females per cage) were exposed for the same time interval at floor level, and at 2, 4, and 6 feet above the floor. In hut I, all specimens at floor level and at 2 feet were dead within 48 hours. At the 4- and 6-foot levels, 44 and 88 percent respectively were killed. In hut II, mortality was 100 percent for all positions. However, mortality at floor level in an untreated check hut was also relatively high (24 percent).

Subsequent tests were made to determine whether malathion or DDVP, or the combination of the toxicants, was responsible for the residual toxicity. Separate formulations of 2 percent malathion plus 0.5 percent DDVP, of 0.5 percent DDVP, and of 2.0 percent malathion were prepared in a granular inorganic material (A). A 5-pound lot of each formulation was bagged in a paper container, and the bag was left open and placed in the center of the hut floor. Both "free-flying" and caged A. quadrimaculatus were introduced into each hut at 3 p.m., 3 hours after the bait was installed.

The following morning all mosquitoes, whether "free-flying" or caged, were dead. With the combination of malathion and DDVP and with DDVP alone, all the specimens were knocked down 3.5 hours after exposure began. With malathion alone, only a few specimens were down after 4.5 hours of exposure.

Tests on the residual potency of these formulations were precluded because of the onset of cold weather.

Discussion

The potential of residual fumigants for controlling house-frequenting adult mosquitoes, although obviously successful in producing a high mortality for 4 weeks, has not been explored fully in these preliminary tests. Further studies under laboratory and field conditions are now in progress to determine which toxicant or combination of toxicants is most effective, the duration of residual action under various environmental conditions, efficient methods of formulation in small, lightweight units, and the toxicological hazards. The possibility of toxicological hazards to the occupants of treated dwellings represents a principal question concerning the practical use of the fumigants. This aspect will require extensive study before the technique can be put into general practice.

If the use of residual fumigants proves feasible, it is readily foreseeable that this technique could result in important monetary savings by simplifying malaria eradication operations. Manpower requirements would be reduced drastically; the need for spraying equipment, with its attendant burdens of maintenance, as well as problems currently encountered with wettable-powder formulations, would be minimized; and other difficulties associated with residual spraying, such as the sorption of residues by certain mud surfaces, objections to the unsightliness of residues on some walls, and the modifications of treated surfaces by replastering, washing, and the like, would be eliminated. Although mosquitoes appear more susceptible to fumigant action than houseflies, the technique may be effective also against other types of house-frequenting insect vectors and pests.

Because of the many potential advantages which the residual fumigant technique may offer in malaria eradication and in the control of other mosquito-borne diseases, it is hoped that the encouraging results of these preliminary tests will stimulate other workers to investigate the many questions which must be answered before the technique may be adopted for general use.

How To Apply

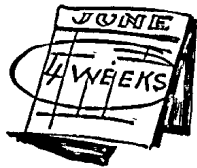

West Virginia Agricultural Extension Service experts say the steps to control roaches and water bugs are:

- 1. Remove all foods, dishes, pots; pans and other stuff from your kitchen cabinets
- 2. Clean shelves in cabinets, bedroom closets and bathrooms
- 3. Wash all these places with soap and water
- 4. Brush or spray poison inside cabinets. Be sure to get poison into cracks, corners, crevices, the bottom sides of drawers and top and bottom of base boards

Mr. [Redacted]
Chemical Engineer
Martinsburg, W. Virginia

Dear Mr. [Redacted]

I have been very much interested in the problem of insecticides, particularly the use of chlordane in buildings, and have treated several patients who have had serious complications resulting from such poisoning. In fact, the highest titer that I have found in bodily fat came from a woman exposed to chlordane following termite proofing of her house. She had about 700 p.p.m. chlordane following acute exposure. Her chief symptomatology was headache, vertigo, nausea, followed by a pneumonitis and a prolonged period of extreme exhaustion and mild disturbance in equilibrium lasting for a period of 3 - 4 years. She has gradually recovered.

I have not published these reports as I should. Other cases that I have dealt with included a woman who ran an antique shop who continuously sprayed her premises with all of the recommended pesticides including DDT, chlordane, and others. She had a very strange type of asthma but did not respond to any of the normal treatment. Atropine was the mainstay in her treatment. She decided to pass on her good fortune to others and got out of the antique business. Her recovery, likewise, was slow, but not as slow as the previous patient nor was her titer as high.

A woman working in a florist shop had been exposed to all kinds of cut flowers which, as you know, are sprayed with many pesticides including the organic phosphates as well. She had not only a peculiar pulmonary problem but was extremely nervous and exhausted. She has not had time to recover. Nearly all of the patients I have treated and proved by fat biopsy have been more nervous and irritable (unreasonable) than the average individual. Most have been diagnosed as malingerers, psychopaths, neurotics, and considered to be mentally ill.

As Others See It

Sir:

For a number of years now I have been troubled by what appears to be the destruction of the science of chronic poisoning in this country in both the professional and public mind, since World War II. The consequences have been the unleashing on the public of an increasing toxic burden from many sources. I have seen very little evidence that this was caused by anything but misguided commercial exuberance, but the effort seems to be so relentless and so monolithic that I have begun to wonder if there might be some foreign direction involved.

I would greatly appreciate it if you could comment on the exactitude of the following paragraph taken from "The Cup of Fury", by Upton Sinclair Channel Press, Inc., Great Neck, N.Y., 1956:

"In France, it was the Communists who were most vociferous in their campaign of hate, ridicule and contempt when Pierre Mendes-France began his historic attempt to curb alcoholism in his country. Again they acted in the knowledge that a wine-sodden nation, sick in mind and body, is easy prey."

Respectfully yours,
Francis Silver

Monsieur Francis Silver
Chemical Engineer
Martinsburg, W. Va.

I have received your letter of the 7th of February while Mr. Pierre Mendes France was away. But I can, to save time, reply at present to the question that you asked him.

It is correct that in 1954 and 55 when Mr. Mendes France was at the head of the government, the measures which it took to reduce alcoholism were criticized in various parts, and among others, as you have mentioned, by the Communist Party. The latter developed on this point a rather surprising demagogic propaganda.

Please believe, dear sir, in my best and most devoted sentiments.
The secretary.

"In fact widespread drug addiction has been used as a powerful military weapon. Before Japan invaded China in the 1930's it flooded the intended victims with free or low cost narcotic drugs with the intention of reducing the willingness or capacity for resistance. Today Red China is guilty of similar strategy by pouring narcotics into countries the Red Chinese hope to weaken."

China's narcotic record is an ancient one, going back many centuries. In the past she was the victim, first of the European nations, more recently of imperial Japan. Now Red China has become the dope-vending dragon of the East. But to understand the present, we must explore the past.

Red China presents a double-pronged problem. As a part of the United Nations Narcotic Commissions, we are concerned with what this nation, that we do not even recognize, is trying to do to her neighbors, particularly Japan, with the weapon of dope. And I am also concerned with the reports of my operatives regarding Red China's long range dope-and-dialectic assault on America and its leaders.

The standard policy employed in Red China is to suppress addiction among the Chinese while encouraging the cultivation, manufacture, export, distribution and sale of opium, morphine and heroin to other countries and other peoples.

Our report cited instance after instance—in the most precise detail with names, dates, amounts of seizures, arrests, and confessions, all pointing directly to the Red Chinese smugglers and their political agents. "Of a seizure totalling 3,413 grams of heroin in Japan," our report states, "all information obtained from extensive investigations show the heroin in Japan originated from Communist China. Some amounts arrive from Horai, China, between Tsingtao and Tientsin. The Communists use crews of merchant ships, crews and passengers of aircraft, as carriers, as well as their own Communist couriers and agents to smuggle narcotics. . . ."

"Large quantities of heroin," the report continues, "have reached the United States from Communist China. Emissaries have been sent to the United States to arrange for the details of the smuggling transactions. One of the principals in a case in which 300 ounces of heroin were smuggled in from Communist China is now serving a ten-year imprisonment. . . ."

I continued to present these carefully documented reports to the United Nations in session after session. When cornered with facts the Russians could not refute—the confessions of pushers and smugglers working directly for Chinese Red authorities—the Russian delegate with a sweep of his hand would dismiss the whole matter with, "How can they defend themselves since they are not here?"

Valorous Americans

Under the forceful leadership of Vincent H. Grocott, the Americanism committee of the Grand Lodge is moving forward with renewed vigor. Although Brother Grocott lives in California his influence is felt in every subordinate lodge. It is his aim to create, as National Chairman of this important committee, a new birth of patriotism, and awaken a greater appreciation, for all the freedoms, and privileges we enjoy as Americans.

Last fall he sent out a full program of activities designed to stimulate a better and fuller understanding of our blessings enjoyed as a free nation. This included six events, to cover from November to next June, they were, "Know Your America Week", "Bill of Rights Day", "Freedom of Speech Week", "Washington and Lincoln Birthday Observances", "Memorial Day", and "Flag Day" in June.

In advancing this program we quote him in part, "It is very necessary that we who believe in America and all she represents, should Talk and Live Patriotism on a full time basis. We must awaken those around us to the dangers from within, and without, that are very real. . . dangers that if ignored by a lethargic and apathetic citizenry could result in the loss of our most priceless heritage. OUR FREEDOM. We cannot afford to overlook the fact that If We Don't Stand For America We Won't Be Able to Stand at All."

His presentation is ended by this quote from a great American patriot, J. Edgar Hoover, "There is no place in America for part-time patriots. If our nation is to live, if we are to continue to enjoy the fruits of liberty, we can do no less than follow the example of the men who won that freedom for us, Freedom, while a heritage, must be rewon for each generation."

If a doubt exists in the mind of anyone of the dangers to which Chairman Grocott alludes they need only read the book written by Mr. Hoover, under the title of, "Masters of Deceit." This book is the result of forty years of study, by a man whose life has been dedicated to the preservation and betterment of the American way of life.

ENCLOSURE

104277-2907 13

This remarkable person has created the greatest investigative organization in the world, known as the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. It is one of the most effective and efficient departments in the entire expansive governmental bureaucracy. For many years there was no central clearing house in this nation where law enforcement officers could file information on known criminals or obtain facts about them. The Chiefs of Police Association about the time of the first world war took steps to form some kind of central bureau in a mid-west city. Experience disclosed that it should be a bureau of easy access to all departments regardless of the size. In May 1924, a young man was appointed to take over this responsibility in the Federal government and his name was J. Edgar Hoover.

For the nation it was a most fortunate appointment, because no man in Federal service has served as long, or with greater brilliance of accomplishment than the leader of the FBI.

A great step forward in the science of law enforcement came with the introduction of finger printing. This positive means of separating one individual from another was made effective when methods of classification were developed. Under Mr. Hoover's guidance the FBI became the depository for millions of copies of finger prints. This has been of utmost importance to every police department in the nation, for regardless of the name a man is apprehended under, his finger print formula remains the same. The files of the FBI contain a fantastic amount of information regarding persons who have engaged in crime. However, there are millions upon millions of prints on file there of a perfectly legitimate reason, for it is the one perfect means of personal identification which is required by the military and many other services.

There are a number of well known police organizations in the world. Some are noted for their brutal and sadistic treatment of prisoners and inhuman methods of interrogations. Charges of this nature have never touched the FBI, for an officer trained under Director Hoover is taught to use his intelligence, and not his strength in handling prisoners. An officer who is fortunate enough to be a graduate of the FBI Police Academy has received the finest and most thorough course of training obtainable anywhere. One mark of every man turned out by the FBI with rare exception, is his gentlemanly conduct and demeanor.

One of the wonders of the FBI is the use of scientific methods in the solving of crime and the apprehension of criminals. Here fiction is outmoded for it truly gives meaning to the words, "that truth is stranger than fiction". There is a ponderous amount of information on file on many many subjects that can in some way have an effect on a court case or trial. The skilled and talented persons employed in this specialized service help maintain the unblemished reputation that is held by the FBI as the greatest in the world.

The services that Mr. Hoover has rendered this nation places every citizen who loves his country, in his debt. No man is more devoted, or has strived harder to uncover our enemies, both here and abroad. Chairman Crotchet is launched on a most commendable project in bringing the facts to every Elk. Both valorous Americans in every sense of the word.

Dear [redacted]

I have received your letter of March 7th and want you to know how much I appreciate your comment about "Masters of Deceit."

I was interested in your observations concerning the communist dialectical method. Of course, the communists use their false reasoning theories to achieve whatever result they desire but would never accept the fact that their own doctrines, and system of reasoning could be used against them.

In connection with your inquiry about the calendar, the Western world has used the Gregorian Calendar for many years but it did not replace the Julian Calendar in Russia until 1918. You may want to check some reference books concerning these calendars and the differences in them.

It is a pleasure to send you some literature about the FBI as well as material relating to communism. We certainly hope that when you come to Washington you will stop at FBI Headquarters and visit our facilities. Tours are offered daily between the hours of 9:15 a.m. and 4:15 p.m., excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Our tours last approximately one hour and there is no charge.

Page 32 of "Masters of Deceit" indicates that the Russian Revolution occurred on November 7, 1917 but is referred to as the "October Revolution" since Russia followed the Eastern calendar to the time of the Revolution. World Almanac indicates that Russia adopted the Gregorian Calendar in 1918 and that it replaced the Julian Calendar in the Western world in the 15th Century except for England which adopted it in the 18th Century. In the 1900s there was a 13-day difference between the Gregorian and Julian Calendars.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am 11 years old. I have been reading your book "Masters of Deceit". I am on page 77 and I am completely wrapped up in it. One thing puzzles me so far; the thesis-antithesis-synthesis dialectic.

If the Czar is thesis, the proletariat is antithesis and the Communists and Bolsheviks synthesis and Marx said that the process goes on and on hasn't it occurred to the Communists that they are now the thesis, we are the antithesis and that (all this being in accordance with the Marxist dialectic) the best of both classes will form a synthesis? If the Russians used a different calendar than the Western one in 1917 which one did they use? what was the difference?

I know that you must have more important things to do than to attend to this letter so I will not take any more of your precious time, but I would appreciate an answer to my question.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hoover;

I am sending to you, by parcel post, a carton containing two "communistic gavels". The handles of these gavels are solid oak representing solid citizens of the oak family. The hammer is mistletoe, a parasite, which represents communism. Mistletoe drains the life sap (or blood) from the oak and gradually destroys the tree just as communism gradually kills the freedom of a nation.

Your book, MASTERS of DECEIT should be compulsory reading for all school pupils and all service men.

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am a High School World History teacher. Recently, one of my students gave me the paper here enclosed. I had never actually read anything like this before and was really quite shocked by what is printed therein. This is the kind of publication Nazi Germany might have released. I am sending it along and wonder if you could possibly identify it with a particular group? I would like to have the paper if possible as an example or study in yellow journalism--but if you want to keep it --do so.

There was another paper called "Common Sense" printed by the Christian Educational Assoc. of 530 Chestnut St., Union, New Jersey. It was equally vile & vicious concerning the U. N. Is there any information available on the groups who mail this awful material?

Thank you for your kindness. I know you are so terribly busy, but it upset me to see this kind of literature in the hands of youngsters.

Might I add that Masters of Deceit is really a textbook on Communism and quite a masterful study.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
 Director

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Sometime ago I had the enlightening experience of reading your informative book "Masters of Deceit". It made such a lasting impression on me that I decided to share my findings with others.

As Editor of our magazine Bank Notes, I received the wholehearted approval and permission of our President, James G. Garner, to use the back cover for Editorials slated to waken people out of their lethargy.

Enclosed are copies of our magazine with back cover Editorials re Communism, and excerpts from your book. I trust I have not been presumptuous in using you as a source of material and information, without first asking your permission. However, I honestly felt you would not have any objections and shall...if you do not mind...continue to quote you.

EX-117 REC-8 62-104277-290

Although our magazine has a small circulation of about 650, it is distributed to personnel, stockholders, directors and a special 'request' list. The consistent reminder of the threat of Communism has I believe, influenced folks to the very real danger, and is responsible in part for the display of interest in your book. After reading it, comments were to the effect that they "didn't realize how important it was to know"...and that it was "most informative... wonderful!!"

There are about 10,000 Industrial Publications throughout our country that are read with much more personal interest than the daily newspaper. Editors are gradually awakening to the fact that their individual publications are an important "weapon" in the fight against Communism. What an impact it would be if ALL such publications were to consistently print anti-Communist articles. These would be read not only by personnel, but would be taken into the homes and literally reach hundreds and hundreds of thousands of people.

I do not mean to imply that our magazine is the only one in the area that is doing this sort of thing. It is not. There are others with much higher circulation figures than ours, that prints such articles.

In relationship to the rest of the country, I do not know how South Florida publications stand in the anti-Communist effort. But I do know...that in spite of the knowledge that missiles can be guided at will -- our geographical proximity has a psychological effect on the general thinking. Editors in this area are aware of this.

In closing, I would like to add that Congressman Dante B. Fascell, has been a great help in directing myself, and others, to proper reading sources and has on occasion forwarded pertinent literature. He knows I appreciate his efforts.

And it is because I deeply appreciate your book that guides me constantly and literally was the impetus for these editorials, that I send copies of our magazine to you.

When a person writes with obvious knowledge, authority, sincerity and dedication -- as you have -- and stirs people to doing something about -- he should know it.

I trust you will find the editorials to be of interest. Thank you for taking the time to read this.

Very sincerely,

Editor

Mary Foresteire Delights in Check Imprinting "Print Shop"

In the Spring of 1961, Personal Checking Account customers were given Personalized Checks. Outdoor advertising boards, stuffers, radio commercials, and newspaper ads, told our customers of this new service designed for their convenience.

Because of the increased volume of work the service added to Check Imprinting, Mary Foresteire was transferred at that time from the Bookkeeping Department to Check Imprinting. The department had previously made personalized checks for just our Special Checking Account customers.

Check Imprinting which consists of Mary, and Johnie Carney is under the direction of John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer and supervised by James V. Fagan, Assistant Secretary.

Although the routine of the department, which is in essence a small printshop, is simple — it is an exacting task that demands accuracy, precision, and an aptitude for detail. Basically, our customers names are printed on their personal checks, bound into folders, and mailed to them. This service is given to all our Special Checking Account, and Personal Checking Account customers without charge.

As explained by Mary, after Addressograph-Mail Department makes an addressograph plate of the New Accounts, the Signature Sheets from which the information, is taken are then forwarded to her for Check Imprinting plates.

Type is set by hand for the operation which although simple is interesting and one that she thoroughly enjoys. The plate is a composite material that is flexible and durable. It measures about five-and-one-half inches in length and one-and-one-quarter inches in depth. In this area are spaces for double or single signatures depending on whether the account may be signed by either person on a joint account, or by one person on a single account. There is also a bottom line space which will be shortly used for code numbers. These will act in a dual capacity as a security measure, and as an added identification of the account.

The type holder is attached to the edge of the plate and is used to lift the type out of the typesetter. When Mary has set a line of type she slides it along the typeholder and onto the plate, where she locks it into position with a rubber wedge. The completed plate is then locked on the machine which operates like a rotary press, and the first impression is made on a brown envelope in which the plate is eventually stored, dated, marked to indicate it is a New Account, and filed alphabetically for future use. The first impression made on the envelope is also used as a proof of the signatures, for accuracy. In the case of a reorder, this too is noted in code on the envelope and refiled for future use.

A Personalized Checkbook contains twenty checks, four deposit slips, and a reorder blank. These are run through the machine separately, with the result that the customer's name is imprinted on each individual form and check. They are stapled into a binder together with a fly leaf on which is an advertising message reminding our customers of services in both our Commercial and Trust Departments. The checks are then inserted into a dark blue folder designed for the further convenience of our customers.

As an initial start a New Account receives one book of checks. The customer may however, reorder as many checkbooks as he wishes. As a reminder, the reorder blank is inserted after the fifteenth check so he can indicate the number of checkbooks he wants and mail the information to us. When Check Imprinting completes the order, the checks are mailed to the customer or held at the bank, according to instructions on the reorder blank.

Some months the volume of checkbooks made is heavier than at other times, but between New Accounts and "The Man Behind the Title" . .

One of the more pronounced characteristics of Daniel C. Northrop, Vice President, is his sociability. It is a rarity when Mr. Northrop is not present at a gathering for both officers and personnel, whether it is sponsored by the American Institute of Banking, or a "Checkmates" dance or picnic. Gregarious and affable — his presence at these affairs is so accepted as to be expected — and if he were not in attendance it is safe to assume his absence would be noticed and "something would be missing". However, his friendliness and geniality was evident even in his school days where in addition to his studies, he took part in many extra-curricular activities.

Daniel Currie Northrop was born in St. Paul's, N. C., the youngest in a family of six that included three brothers, and two sisters. Born into a banking and a medical family, it is not strange that he too is a banker.

His father, the late Dr. Theodore McLean Northrop, was in addition to his medical practice, Chairman of the Board of the Bank of St. Paul's. An older brother, the late Theodore McGeachy Northrop, was also a doctor; and his brother H. Frank Northrop, has been Vice President at First National Bank of Miami for some years.

In speaking of his father Mr. Northrop says with pardonable pride, "My dad was a genuine 'horse and buggy' pioneer doctor, with a practice that covered a considerable area in the Eastern part of North Carolina. Unfortunately he passed away when I was less than two years old, but my mother saw to it we were all raised properly and given good educations."

Mr. Northrop is a graduate of St. Paul's High School where he was a member of the Football, Basketball, and Baseball Teams. He continued his education at Presbyterian Jr. College, Maxton, N. C., graduating in 1934 with a BS. While in Junior College he was Secretary-Treasurer of his Class, a member of the Glee Club, Phi Delta Pi, and was on the following teams: Football, (Quarterback) '34; Basketball (Forward) '33 '34; Tennis Team '33, '34. In 1934 he was Manager of the Tennis Team, and State Junior College Singles Champion for that year.

... Daniel C. Northrop

After graduation he managed a service station in St. Paul's for about a year before coming to Miami.

His banking career started at the suggestion of his brother Frank, who got him his first job in the Block Department, at First National Bank of Miami in October 1935. In recalling those days, Mr. Northrop said "at that time Charles E. Buker, who is now President of The Hialeah-Miami Springs Bank, The Airport Bank of Miami, and The North Hialeah Bank, was in charge of the Bookkeeping and Block Departments at First National."

After about six months in Block he was transferred to the Bookkeeping Department where he remained until he was sent to our bank on November 1, 1937, as a Burroughs operator in the Bookkeeping Department. "At that time"

Mr. Northrop in 1934, when he graduated from Presbyterian Junior College.

Mr. Northrop said, "operators in Bookkeeping and Block were all men. In fact about the only jobs women held in banks in those days were as receptionists or secretaries. However, in the early part of 1941, due to the drafting of men for World War II, banks immediately began to train women as operators and as tellers."

In April 1941, Mr. Northrop was inducted into the Armed Forces and became an Army Private stationed at Fort Barrancas, at Pensacola. He was later assigned to the Medical Corps, Station Hospital, Camp Davis, N. C., where he became a S-Sgt. Being stationed at Camp Davis was "a break" for him, since "home was only 90 miles away."

In the summer of 1943, all 1-A men were transferred to Combat Units, and he became a T-Sgt. in the 69th Infantry Division at Camp Shelby, Miss. As NCO in charge of a Platoon, it was his duty to train recruits in the basic fundamentals of combat.

This was highly ludicrous to Mr. Northrop because he, himself, had never had any Basic Training. As a result he had the dubious pleasure of staying up most of each night in order to learn the necessary material he had to teach the following day. About this particular period he states, "It was plenty rough."

In the Spring of 1944, he was sent overseas and assigned to the Combat Unit of Company H, 34th Infantry, where as part of reinforcements for Anzio, Italy he served under General Mark Clarke. It was while he was fighting in the mountains above Florence, that he was hit by shrapnel and wounded in the left hand and leg. Of that particular battle he recalls "the mortar barrage was so heavy casualties amounted to two-thirds of the men under fire." Mr. Northrop was hospitalized for 23 days at Leghorn, a coastal town about 90 miles northeast of Rome. He remained there until V-E Day, was returned to the States, sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.,

Ten Year Milestone for Profit 13 Fully Vested Through Years of Serv

Our bank makes a practice of giving us many fine benefits such as Christmas bonuses, free Insurance, Hospitalization, three-week vacations after five years service, and others. One of the finest rewards we receive is the privilege of participation in the Profit Sharing Retirement Plan.

Our Profit Sharing Retirement Plan was instituted on December 31, 1953 with 26 participants. As of December 31, 1962 there were 69 officers and employees participating. This was announced at the January 17, 1963 Profit Sharing meeting which was conducted by Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer; and George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller.

Of the original participants who remained at our bank through the years, 13 are fully vested through actual years of service, while one more participant became fully vested because he had reached the normal retirement age.

Not every bank or organization has a Profit Sharing Retirement Plan for its employees. As this year is a milestone of achievement for our Plan as well as its participants, it will be interesting to those who are not as yet eligible, to be aware of the value of the Profit Sharing Retirement Plan, and the benefits that are theirs to come.

For clarification our Profit Sharing Retirement Plan is briefly explained in a series of questions and answers as follows:

(Note: The Profit Sharing Retirement Plan shall be referred to as PSRP for brevity.)

Q—What is the purpose of the PSRP?

A—The purpose of the PSRP is to provide retirement and other benefits to employees under a formula keyed to the profits of the bank, and to give recognition to those who remain with the bank and devote a special effort to promote its success and profits.

Q—When does a qualified employee become eligible for participation in the PSRP?

A—All officers and employees who on December 31 of any year have been in the continuous service of our bank for three years on that date shall be participants in the plan.

Q—Are there any circumstances under which continuous service may be broken, yet not disqualify an employee's participation in the PSRP?

A—Continuity of service shall not be deemed broken while serving in the Armed forces or by any leave of absence expressly granted by the Board of Directors of the bank, provided the Participant returns to work within 90 days from his discharge from active military service, or within ten days after the expiration of his leave granted by the Board of Directors. During the period a Participant is on leave, he will not share in the contributions made by the bank to the fund, but his account will be credited with his proportionate part of the earnings of the Fund.

Q—How did the Fund start?

A—By a contribution from the bank. All contributions to the Fund are made by the bank on December 31st of each year or shortly thereafter. The first contribution was made on Dec. 31, 1952. The contributions which make up the fund are managed by the Trust Department and invested for the benefit of the Participants.

The amount of money which the bank contributes to the Fund each year depends upon the earnings of the bank providing that certain earnings, after taxes, which exceed 10% of the Bank's capital funds, is contributed to the Fund. These annual contributions may amount to as much as 15% of the salaries, exclusive of overtime and bonuses paid to all Participants. At the end of the year Dec. 31, 1962 our Profit Sharing Retirement Fund was valued at $353,787.16.

Q—How is a Participant's share determined?

A—Individual accounts are set up for each Participant. The annual contributions of the bank are allocated to these accounts in direct proportion to annual salaries. To each Participant's account is also added his pro rata share of the earnings on investments for the year and amounts forfeited by former Participants who left the employ of the bank before they were fully vested. At the end of the year the entire fund

Sharing—Major Benefit

ice Reach 100%

is revalued at the then market value, and in turn the current market value of each Participant's account is determined.

Q—If a Participant is in the plan for three years and leaves the bank, is he permitted the full amount credited to his account at that time?

A—No. He is entitled to only 30% of his share in the Fund, or 10% for each full year he has been in the Plan. Likewise, if he were to leave at the end of four years he would be entitled to 40%—five years, 50%.

Q—When is a Participant eligible for 100% of the Funds credited to his account?

A—Normally at the end of 10 full years participation in the plan. However, he may also have a full 100% when he has reached the normal retirement age, or if he dies (his share would then revert to the person or persons he had named as beneficiaries) or if he becomes totally disabled while in the service of the bank, or if the PSRP be terminated.

Q—Then the PSRP can be terminated?

A—Yes. The Plan may be terminated at any time by the Board of Directors of the bank in which event no contribution shall be made thereafter, except for a year preceding the year in which termination occurs. In this event all participants will get their full share of funds credited to their accounts. Under no circumstances would any part of the fund revert to the bank.

Q—What does Vested mean?

A—Immediately upon becoming a Participant, 10% of your account becomes vested. By "vested" is meant that portion of his account to which the Participant is entitled should he leave the employ of the bank. Each year thereafter an additional 10% becomes vested. At the end of 10 years, a Participant's account is fully vested. Thereafter, he is entitled to 100% of the balance of his account. If a Participant leaves the employ of the bank prior to being in the Plan ten years, he forfeits a portion of his account and the amount so forfeited will be credited to the accounts of the remaining Participants.

Q—When a Participant becomes eligible for his full 100% share in the Plan (providing he earned it on the basis of 10 full years of participation) would he receive the money at that time, and if he remained in the employ of the bank how would that affect his status in the Plan.

A—Distribution will be made only when a Participant leaves the employ of the bank. If he has become fully vested after 10 years Participation and wishes to continue in the employ of the bank (provided he has not reached retirement age) he will continue to participate in the plan with full benefits, for as long as he remains an employee of the bank.

Q—When an employee becomes eligible for the PSRP may it be interpreted as a "guarantee" of job security?

A—Neither the establishment of this plan nor the making of contributions by the bank shall be construed to confer upon any person any right to be continued as an employee of the bank, and the bank reserves the right to discharge any employee whenever the interest of the bank in its sole judgment may so require. Any Participant who is dismissed by the bank because of any fraudulent or criminal act, will forfeit his entire share in the Plan.

Q—Who is in charge of the administration of our PSRP?

A—Our PSRP is headed by two committees. James G. Garner, our President; Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer; and George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller; constitute the Retirement Committee. As a Trust Account, our PSRP is handled in the Trust Department under the direction of the Trust Investment Committee which includes Mr. Garner; Mr. Boggs; William Baraket, Vice President and Trust Officer; George S. Bugg, Jr., Trust Officer; and Edwin M. Graham, Vice President. Mr. Ness is responsible for all records of individual participants in the Plan.

Q—Is there any reference material on file regarding the PSRP that is accessible to employees?

A—The Trust Department has the complete Plan and Trust Agreement which explains the PSRP in detail. This is available.

and was eventually Honorable Discharged soon after V-J Day.

For his bravery in action Mr. Northrop was awarded the Bronze Star, and the Purple Heart.

Mr. Northrop with "two friends" on the Prado in Cuba, 1946.

Following his discharge he returned to our bank on Oct. 15, 1945 and resumed his duties in the Bookkeeping Dept. Of the men in our bank who served in the Armed Forces he was one of the first to return.

Approximately six months later, he was elevated to the position of Head Bookkeeper, and in March 1947, was elected to the position of Assistant Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Northrop became an Assistant Secretary in June 1948; an Assistant Vice President in March 1952; and a Vice President in December 1956.

As an Assistant Secretary, Mr. Northrop worked in our New Accounts Department for several years where he okayed checks, arranged for small loans, and continued to be responsible for the Bookkeeping Department. Because our bank was smaller at that time, an Officer's individual duties were necessarily of wider scope.

When he reached the rank of Assistant Vice President he "moved over" to

At the January meeting of the Board of Directors, George S. Bugg, Jr. was promoted to the rank of Trust Officer; and Richard G. Swan was elected an Assistant Trust Officer.

Mr. Bugg came to our bank on August 6, 1962 from Woodbury, N. J. where he was an Assistant Trust Officer at First County National Bank and Trust Company. He has a background of approximately twenty-five years in banking and trust; and is a graduate of The Stonier School of Banking, Rutgers University, N. J. where he specialized in Trust. At the August 13 Board meeting he was elected to the position of Assistant Trust Officer, which post he held until his recent promotion.

Mr. Swan has been with our bank since March 16, 1959, and has worked in the Trust Department since that time. His first duties in Trust Accounting resulted in his being put in charge of the department in 1960. In September of 1962 he was promoted to Trust Administrator. He held that position until his recent election by the Board of Directors. Mr. Swan attended the University of Florida where he majored reorders, the girls average about 5,000 checkbooks per month or approximately 100,000 checks.

Personalized Checks are not only a convenience to our customers but have advantages for our bank too. The printed signatures are a definite aid to the Bookkeepers for identification in posting and in filing . . . and in the numerous operations in which checks are routed through various departments the imprinting of the customer's name has raised overall efficiency and accuracy of handling.

Although the work is uncomplicated it is thoroughly enjoyed by Mary, whose sincerity and liking for her job is evident. Mary Foresteire came to Miami from Worchester, Mass. about ten years ago. Working in our bank is the first time she has been employed, although raising four daughters, and a son, can hardly be termed "doing nothing".

It is difficult to imagine this small, enthusiastic person as a grandmother of seventeen grandchildren. But it was this same enthusiasm and zest to keep busy that made her decide to work, because "with the children grown and out on their own, there just wasn't enough to do at home."

In addition to her work, and her duties at home, she has several other interests. Mary is Founder President of the Rotary Making Club at Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Opa Locka, and now serves as its Treasurer. Her hobbies are varied and interesting and include upholstering, sewing; making stuffed animals, and Marzipan Fruit decorations for cakes which are wonderfully professional in appearance and from all reports — equally good to eat.

The Profit Sharing Retirement Plan affords a distinct opportunity for employees who desire to make a career of banking with us. It enables them to build an estate outside of their regular salary, and is a reward for their continued efforts and meritorious service to assure the Bank's profitable operation, which in turn makes it possible for the employees to share in the Bank's earnings.

Management feels that a satisfied employee who has some security to look forward to will be a happier employee. This will reflect in his job efficiency and extra-willingness to be of service to our customers — without whom — there wouldn't be any work to come to.

New Machines in Block

Innovation in our Block Department was the recent installation of six, 32-pocket IBM Machines. The new machines permit us to sort checks to different banks. This operation was not possible with the former 24-pocket apparatus.

Instead of sending checks to First National Bank in one grouping, we can now "batch clear" the checks to individual banks, and in so doing help to expedite their handling at First National.

The new machines are so highly geared that once the operators are familiar with the increased number of pockets, the time it will take to operate the additional keys, will be almost negligible.

personally speaking . . .

Not too long ago a discussion took place about the merits of getting a supply of J. Edgar Hoover's book "Masters of Deceit" so that co-workers could read it and become aware of the dangers of Communist infiltration.

Pros and cons were weighed. Although the idea was considered excellent there was some hesitation as to how it would be received. Based on the theory that if only one person — read the book — and got something from it — the project would not be "a total loss", local book shelves were searched and seven paperback copies were found and purchased.

Posters were made telling co-workers about the books and stressing the fact that you really can't FIGHT COMMUNISM — if you don't KNOW SOMETHING ABOUT IT ! !

The response was amazing! While the first poster was being put up . . . no less than four co-workers requested copies of the book . . . before the last piece of tape had been applied to hold the sign in place.

Within a half-hour after both posters were up . . . the entire stock of seven copies had been given out . . . and a substantial waiting list had started. As we go to press out of approximately 134 co-workers . . . 30 have already read "Masters of Deceit" — or about 22½ % of personnel. This excludes Officers who have both read and purchased the book.

Co-workers too, expressed the opinion that they had bought or were going to buy it for further study; and by bringing it into their homes it was introduced to members of their families who also read it.

There are other books on the evils of Communism that are fine and as factual as Mr. Hoover's . . . but the reception his received is most gratifying.

The interest it has stirred up and continues to provoke proves that it does pay to exert that extra effort and "bring the mountain to Mohammed".

Copies of "Masters of Deceit" are still available . . . and its contents just as important and pertinent today . . . as they were last week . . . and last month.

All you have to do to get a copy is ask . . .

ABOUT THE COVER • • •

August 9, 1961, the anniversary of our 35th Year was made especially enjoyable with the gift of a 3-tiered cake sent us courtesy of Mr. George Karnegis, president of Royal Baking Company, Miami, Florida.

Mr. Garner, our president, is shown surrounded by officers and personnel as he cut the cake, which was enjoyed by all.

To Mr. Karnegis, our sincere thanks for his thoughtfulness, and as for the cake—it was every bit as delicious as it was delightful to see.

Our 35th Anniversary

It was on a Monday morning, 35 years ago — that our bank opened its doors, prepared to serve the banking needs of the community. The date was August 9, 1926 —the time, 9 a. m. The location was the northwest corner of 79th Street and Northeast 2nd Avenue, the site now occupied by the Little River Drug Store.

Shortly after our bank opened it became a "casualty" of the historical 1926 hurricane — which devastated much of Miami. It suffered rather severely from the disaster, but plans for rebuilding were immediately put into effect, together with its first expansion, in which we took over several stores on Northeast 2nd Avenue (then the Old Dixie Highway).

This was the first of many expansions in the size of our building, as well as personnel, to take care of the banking needs of the area.

It is indicative of the soundness of our bank, its importance to the area, and the place it holds in the community . . . when you realize it weathered not only the 1926 hurricane—but came through the National Depression of that era, during the years 1926-1933.

Our first president was Landon E. Edwards, who served from 1926-1932. He was succeeded by James G. Garner, Chairman of the Board and President, who served 1932-1936; was re-elected in 1947, and has been our president since Gladys Haldy, Katharine Evers and Vivian LaPorte do so many thoughtful things we could almost forget to be appreciative . . . And did you know Katharine and Paul Evers daughter Peggy ranked 41st out of 505 in her graduating class at Jackson? Also this is the third summer Peggy has been a counselor at Allapattah YMCA Day Camp and is so capable she was featured in a local daily. Also Peggy became Mrs. Joseph Weirick, in July. Also Katharine and Paul are mighty proud of her! . . . Proud too, is Forrest Nielsen of wife Mabel who is 2nd highest in her Pre-Clinical Class at Lindsey Hopkins, and ranks 4th highest in the State. She will ultimately be a Licensed Practical Nurse and is presently with Memorial Hospital in Hollywood.

"Woman Behind the Title" • • •

(Editor's Note: Exception to the rule, is Miss Harper, our only Woman Officer, whose story appears in the space usually reserved for "Man Behind the Title" series.)

Born De Merle Louise Harper, in Marvel, Alabama, she was one of a family of seven girls, and two boys. Being a member of a large family, probably accounts for her present day liking for people, which is expressed in her large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Following her graduation from Warrior High School, Warrior, Ala., Miss Harper came to Miami to visit family friends and like so many others, decided to remain here. Although still in her teens, she proved even then to have plenty of the drive which resulted in her present day success. For two years she attended evening classes at Charron-Williams Commercial College, while working days as a cashier, and then as Assistant Bookkeeper with a local dry cleaning and laundry service.

In 1944, Miss Harper moved to Key West and was employed in the Block Department of First National Bank of Key West, now the Florida National Bank of Key West. Six months later she returned to Miami, and was with Florida National of Miami. She began in the Bookkeeping Department, after a short time became a Teller, and then was promoted to head of the Transit Department.

In thinking back on those days Miss Harper remarked that "although this was during the War (World War II) all women personnel was required to wear stockings—which at that time presented a real problem. In addition Tellers had to wear uniform green jackets, were cautioned against using heavy makeup, extreme costume jewelry, flowers in their hair and indulging in other personal eccentricities of dress." She went on to say, "the jackets were quite becoming . . . and really an advantage as we never had to be lectured about plunging necklines and sunback dresses."

Again leaving Miami she journeyed to Denver, Colorado, where she worked in the Bookkeeping Dept. at Denver National Bank. After a short time she went home to her folks who then resided in Birmingham, Ala., and became a Teller at Birmingham Trust National Bank.

In September 1945, Miss Harper returned to Miami, and worked at Riverside Bank. She started in Bookkeeping, then became a Teller; was trained to do General Books, and also worked in various other departments. She remained at Riverside Bank for about four years, and it was during this time that Miss Harper became interested in Tennis. Henderson Park was her "proving ground" with nights and weekends devoted to mastering the sport.

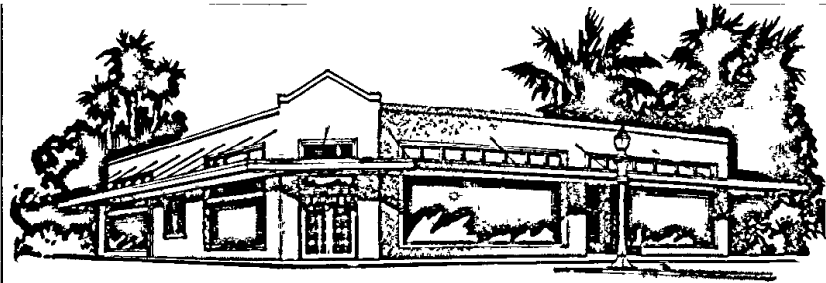

The result was that she reached "pro" status, left the banking field, and became a Tennis Instructor. Miss Harper taught during the winter season at the Roney Plaza Hotel, Miami Beach; and in the summer at Mt. Washington Hotel in New Hampshire.

She just about "glows" when speaking of this particular period when she had the pleasure of instructing many wealthy and socially prominent people, as well as celebrities such as Rita Hayworth, "much prettier in person and real down-to-earth;" Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, "completely 'wacky' and always trying to upset the game with their antics," Tony Martin and Cyd Charisse, "she is very charming and extremely shy. A really naturally beautiful girl;" Rudy Valle, "very arrogant;" José Ferrar, "another shy, pleasant person;" Eleanor Holm, "a doll;" and many others. "Most celebrities" she added, "took up tennis to keep in trim, or lose weight. Many of them eventually became very good at the game."

Miss Harper also participated in exhibition games with Tennis Champions, Bobby Riggs a "Davis Cup Winner;" Pancho Segura--and in addition took part in many local club tournaments.

While being a Tennis Instructor was a that time. It is interesting to note that Mr. Garner has been with our bank since its opening day.

Progress brought changes to our bank, with a most significant one taking place in the year 1937, when we located at our present site. Since that time we have had several major expansions which, coupled with the years we have been established, has earned us the reputation of being the "Oldest and Largest Banking Center in Northern Dade."

Our present building was first expanded in the year 1949, with a three-story addition to the rear of the bank.

In 1951, we established our first drive-in teller windows, and increased the size of our parking lot to accommodate customers with free parking facilities.

Our bank was "leveled off" in 1953 with the addition of a third floor on the front of the building. This now houses our Trust Department (which formerly occupied a small area in the main lobby); Mr. Garner's private office; a private office for Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer; the Board Room, and various other offices and departments, including Mortgage Loans.

In 1958, our most recent expansion took place when a considerable extension of 15,000 square feet was added to the rear of our building. On the ground level are 3 walk-up and 6 drive-in teller windows . . . streamlined, and designed for efficient operation for the convenience of customers who do not wish to enter the lobby to do their banking.

Bridging the outdoor teller facilities is the mezzanine, which allows vitally needed space and better working conditions for Auditing, Block, Addressograph-Mail, Personnel, and Analysis Departments; in addition to executive offices, a record vault, and a conference room. The top floor contains the stock room and ample storage space.

With the addition of the 1958 expansion, space was made available for larger switchboard and telephone facilities; and a cafeteria which is enjoyed by officers and personnel. Our cafeteria is noted for its relaxing atmosphere and delicious home-cooking.

There have been quite a few changes since our bank was first founded, many of which were experienced by several of our senior officers — Raymond E. Morlock, Senior Vice President, has been here since 1933; Walter W. Asmus, Vice President and Treasurer, 1940; Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer, 1947, and Cadwalader Woodville, Jr., Vice President and Secretary, since 1950.

To have reached a 35th Anniversary in the banking field in Miami is no small achievement. As recent as 1900, Little River was just one of several very early settlements, and when our bank opened in 1926, the territory surrounding Little River was still primarily undeveloped.

In looking back over the growth of our bank since its founding, our president, Mr. Garner, states, "It is gratifying to realize that we have grown steadily and progressed with the changing times. It is equally important, to continue to hold the place we have established in the community. This can only be accomplished through the cooperation of each and every officer and employee. Service to our customers — has been, and will continue to be our aim. To that purpose we must dedicate ourselves, so that our bank will maintain the fine record it has enjoyed for the past thirty-five years."

very pleasant and glamorous way of life, Miss Harper basically desired a more substantial and secure future. Consequently, she returned to the banking field, and entered our bank on February 29, 1952.

Although she began working on the dummy and the phones in our Bookkeeping Department, it was not too long after, that she became a "floater" and added to her already considerable experience. Eventually transferred to the Installment Loan Department, Miss Harper took a keen interest in Loans, and because she felt she had finally found her forte' began taking American Institute of Banking courses to further her career.

From Installment Loans she was transferred to Commercial Loans, and finally Mortgage Loans, which department is now under her jurisdiction. Her hard work and initiative resulted in her becoming an Officer of our bank, and in July 1955, she was elected to the position of Assistant Secretary.

Miss Harper is a member of American Bank Woman's Association; Mortgage Banker's Association; and Home Builders' Association. She has served on the Board of Governors for the Miami Chapter, American Institute of Banking; was A.I.B. Woman's Committee Chairman; and Secretary for the A.I.B. National Convention held in Miami, 1955.

When asked to state her views on the importance of women in the banking field Miss Harper referred to an article entitled "Women in Banking" which she had written for the April 1954 issue, of "Land O' Sun Banker."

Excerpts reprinted from her article as follows:

"The importance of women in banking is becoming more widely recognized. Their warm and natural ability to understand has aided in creating a friendlier relationship with the public. Some aspects of banking requires the thoroughness that is characteristic of women.

"Contrary to popular belief, the opportunity for women in banking is greater than appears on the surface; however, it means conquering new horizons. The complacency of most women in their jobs can be traced to the fact that the individual has little desire to do other than rest content as a creature of habit.

"Each aspect of banking is so related to another that with use of her powers of observation and a sensitivity to suggestions, one

VELMA MAE BLEYER

Deepest sympathy is extended to the family of Velma Mae Bleyer, who died Saturday, August 26, 1961, at Taylorsville, Ill. Mrs. Bleyer was interned at Taylorsville on Monday, August 28.

Cause of death was due to an explosion created from lighting a defective stove, resulting in severe burns and internal injuries. Present at the time of the fatal accident were Mrs. Bleyer's grandson, Keith 4, who accompanied her to Taylorsville; and her mother, Mrs. Ida Robertson, whom she was visiting while on vacation.

Mrs. Bleyer was born in St. Louis, Missouri, on March 13, 1908. Before coming to our bank as an Information Teller on June 27, 1955, she was a PBX Operator for the Pennsylvania RR, 1947-1950; and a Transit Department Clerk at Mercantile Trust Company, St. Louis, Mo., 1951-1955.

Survivors include her husband Fred A. Bleyer; a daughter Patricia; grandchildren Kevin 6, Keith 4, and Kelly 10 months, children of her daughter and son-in-law, Christopher Douffet; and her mother, Mrs. Robertson.

Mrs. Bleyer was Treasurer of the Little River Business and Professional Women's Club; Trustee, for Ladies' Auxiliary of the Eagles; a staff reporter for Bank Notes; a member of Miami Chapter, American Institute of Banking; and a member of "Check-mates."

SPECIAL MESSAGE

by BERNARD E. BOLDIN
Vice President

The greatest need in support of the national and local economy is bank assistance to small business concerns; however, banks can only provide short term financing for deserving customers leaving them faced with a real difficulty in obtaining long-term loans and equity capital required for adequate growth and developments. This fact has long been recognized by both the United States Government and many State Governments who have enacted legislation to assist small business concerns. Florida, during its last legislative session, enacted an act providing for the organization of industrial development corporations.

When a development corporation is formed and licensed to act, it will obtain loans from commercial banks, savings banks, industrial savings banks, federal savings and loan associations, insurance companies, etc., and in turn reloan such funds to promote, stimulate, develop and advance the business prosperity and economic welfare of Florida and its citizens through rehabilitation of existing business and industry and in the location of new business and industry, all of which will create new jobs, new depositors for banks and stimulate all trade.

Our government has recently conducted a series of field projects, concentrated on small business manufacturers with 50 to 250 employees and non-manufacturing companies with a net worth of $20,000 to $200,000 and consistently encountered a basic lack of training. For example, 39% of managers, 35% of full time bookkeepers, and 60% of part time bookkeepers, had never had any courses in accounting or finance. Nor was this lack of formal training compensated for by understanding gained informally.

These facts bear out the experience

by banks in interviewing many small businessmen who are seekers of credit. Many do not use their financial statements, usually prepared by an outside accountant, to guide them in financial management. Rather, they consider them necessary evils, produced solely to satisfy government regulations and creditor's requests.

It's really appalling the number of businessmen who, when asked for explanations about certain items in their financial statements admit that they do not know anything about a financial statement, and request that we call their accountant. Inside their own businesses, managers of small companies seem hobbled by their lack of accounting sophistication. Accounting ignorance costs many small companies money, moreover, managers fail to obtain financial management advice from outside sources available to him—from his bank, trade associations, accountant, or the government.

To the extent feasible we endeavor to help the small businessman to help himself and to survive not only when we have an expanding economy, but during recessions as well.

can greatly increase her value to her institution. It has been said that 'he who speaks two languages is as important as two people.' Surely by using the same kind of reasoning, the versatile bank employee will enhance her usefulness in direct proportion to the many facets of the bank business with which she becomes familiar."

Whether Miss Harper realizes it or not, she has lived up to her own precepts—and is a credit to her beliefs—as evidenced by the success she now enjoys.

Personally Speaking . . .

You know—I've been hearing a lot these days (and who hasn't) about the evils of Communism, and about how the Reds have a lot of big plans for us all to their own benefit, of course. And I'd find myself getting angry and thinking 'that's a fine state of affairs . . . why don't THEY do something about it!' That is, until I realized that THEY meant ME . . . YOU and I . . . US! A bit startling, isn't it, to know that the threat of Communism is not the problem of some nebulous group of THEYS who exist in some distant place—but OURS—TODAY and NOW!

With that established, the question arises what can we do about this. Perhaps the first thing is to clarify what it is we are up against—Communism; and what we fully intend to preserve—Democracy.

Communism—is a theory of system of social organization based on the holding of property in common, actual ownership being ascribed to the community as a whole or to the state. A system in which all economic activity is conducted by a totalitarian state, dominated by a single and self-perpetuating political party.

Democracy—is a government by the people; a form of government in which the supreme power is vested in the people and exercised by them or by their elected agents under a free electoral system.

Because our government is a Democracy we have the privilege of Capitalism, a system under which the means of production, distribution, and exchange are in large measure privately owned and directed.

It is obvious that Russia wishes to destroy our Democracy and annihilate Capitalism so that a Totalitarian state can flourish and dominate our future. And what a dismal future it would be.

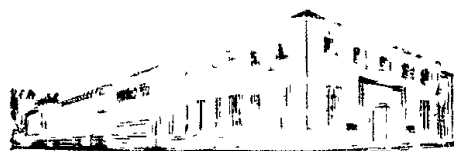

For that reason, your magazine has become an instrument for the purpose of enlightening and reminding all of us of the privileges and benefits we enjoy in these United States of America, our right to worship . . . our principles . . . our freedom. Compare this to the total destruction of man as an individual; and the suppressing of his standards of decency . . . as experienced today by those forced to live under a Soviet regime.

To further our cause, a recent Board meeting of the South Florida Industrial Editors Association was held, in which it was decided to promote this idea and ask ALL Industrial Editors to devote a section of their publication to this purpose, so that it will be extended into thousands of homes, right here in Miami. It is possible, too, that this can be perpetuated on a national and international scale, thereby reaching untold numbers on a common level of understanding.

Imagine . . . what Khrushchev would give . . . to have a medium of communication as penetrating and as intimate as these house organs—for getting to us!

Gerry Shwetzzer has lots to tell about her work, as well as her personal life. Read her story starting on page 3.

International Council of Industrial Editors

"Trust Department Work Personally Gratifying," Says Gerry Shwetzer

One of the most important and necessary attributes of a Trust Department secretary, is that she view her job as being highly confidential—in addition to being skilled in the mechanics necessary for efficient operation.

Personification of these characteristics is Gerda (Gerry) Shwetzer, secretary to William Baraket, Trust Officer. Gerry sits at the front desk as one enters the Trust Department, and in addition to her numerous duties greets our customers and directs them to the proper officer who in turn, takes care of their needs.

When asked what she considered necessary qualifications for a position such as hers Gerry replied, "A legal background is very necessary, plus a knowledge of Commercial Banking. In addition, one must have the ability to understand the legal viewpoint, and cope intelligently with the many facets of a Trust Department."

Gerry went on to explain that, "although decisions are made by the Trust Officer, his secretary must be able to work with him and have a thorough understanding of Trust procedure. Familiarity with legal terminology is a great help to a Trust secretary, as well as the ability to be able to do her own correspondence if necessary. This does not encompass the facts or aspects of a case, which are of course, determined by the Trust Officer and the circumstances involved."

Our Trust Department is under the guidance and supervision of Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer. Lucile Petrie, is his secretary.

In addition to Gerry and Mr. Baraket, there are Douglas R. Bell, Trust Officer; Dick Swan, Administrative Assistant to Mr. Bell, and Sandra Spiess, Secretary; Louis V. Bartlett, Assistant Trust Officer, with Dorothy Wallace as his secretary. Trust Accounting includes Forrest Nielsen, Supervisor; Robert Stewart, and Maxine Scroggs.

It is interesting to note that as of our June 30, 1961 Statement of Condition, Trust Resources were in excess of $20,000,000.00. This is a distinct progression from the early days when our Trust Department consisted of one officer, and one secretary.

The operation of a Trust Department encompasses many facets dealing with Estates, Guardianships, Testamentary and Living Trusts, Agency and Custodian Accounts, and Escrow Accounts, to name just a few that are included in Gerry's duties, under the supervision of Mr. Baraket.

To thoroughly explain each type of account handled in our Trust Department would necessitate a great deal of detail. Briefly, Estates . . . administered by the bank which has been named in the Will of the decedent as Executor, or appointed by the Court where there isn't any Will, both under jurisdiction of the Court. Guardianship . . . whereby the bank is appointed by the court as guardian of the property and manages such to the best advantage of the ward. Testamentary Trusts under a Will and Living Trusts set up while the donor is alive . . . also Pension, Profit Sharing, Insurance, etcetera. In the event of a Trust under a Will, the bank is named Trustee. The Circuit Court appoints the bank to manage the property, securities, etcetera for the beneficiaries. Agency and Custodian Accounts . . . Agency, is where the bank acts as an agent for the principle who creates the agency account and provides management of the account including periodic investment reviews. In a Custodian account, the bank acts in a safekeeping capacity. Escrow Accounts . . . The bank acts as Agent for two or more parties for a certain period of time and holds funds or property in Escrow, and distributes funds or property to the parties involved according to the terms of the Escrow agreement.

To keep our Trust Department working smoothly and according to schedule, a Ticker Card System is used which is a reminder for each one in the department of duties to be performed daily through annually, and even in the more distant future.

Gerry explained that her duties include Stock Transfers, which are a detailed and time consuming operation; and familiarity with the stock market and stock brokers idiom and techniques. This is of value in correspondence and in working with Mr. Baraket, who evaluates and analyzes stocks and bonds for Trust Accounts and is responsible for the accounting of the Bond Portfolio of the bank. She also types the weekly Trust Committee Minutes, keeps the official register of accounts, and computes fees which are checked by Mr. Baraket.

"The Man Behind the Title" . . .

An aura of youthfulness that promises to be of an enduring quality, plus a warm infectious grin, is indicative of the pleasing personality of Jack Hingerton, Assistant Treasurer.

Mr. Hingerton was born in Castleford, England. When he was about five years of age, his parents left England for Canada, where they settled in Regina, Saskatchewan. But one rugged Canadian winter was enough for the Senior Hingerton's. They left Canada and moved to Queens, a borough of New York City, where Mr. Hingerton spent a considerable portion of his life there and in Lindenhurst, Long Island.

His banking career started at the early age of 14, in July, 1929 at Chase National Bank of New York, (now Chase Manhattan Bank of New York) . . . as an office boy and messenger.

"At that time" Mr. Hingerton stated, "we had to attend lectures several times a week. Before banking hours, Officers would speak on various department functions, and we of course, had to attend. These discussions were highly educational and aided greatly in helping us understand many aspects of the banking field."

After spending about five years as office boy and messenger, Mr. Hingerton was transferred to the Foreign Department. He worked in the Bookkeeping section of that department for about three years, until he changed jobs for a better paying position with Bank of Manhattan.

Beginning on the night shift in the Block Department, Mr. Hingerton stayed on until 1944, at which time he left the banking field for Liberty Aircraft Products, a defense plant.

He remained at LAP until he entered the U. S. Air Force in 1945. Based at

. . . JACK HINGERTON

ASSISTANT TREASURER

Shepherd Field, Texas, his banking experience was a determining factor in his transfer to the Finance Department at Jefferson Barracks, in St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Hingerton brought to light an interesting fact about Jefferson Barracks, when he remarked that "it was one of the oldest Forts and Camps in the United States, dating back to historical significance as established by landmarks and statues of heroes of a bygone era. "Unfortunately" he continued, "it is no longer in existence. I believe it was divided for Real Estate purposes, and that about the only thing that does remain, is the V.A. Hospital."

Transferred again, this time to Special Services, he remained there until his honorable discharge in 1946, with the rank of Corporal.

Mr. Hingerton promptly returned to the banking field during the summer of 1946, in the Bookkeeping Department of Clinton Trust Company, New York City. He spent three years in that department, became a Teller, and after two years was promoted to the position of Head Teller.

During these years he had vacationed in Miami, visiting with his married sister, Hilda. He liked Miami and eventually decided to make his home here. Mr. Hingerton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hingerton also decided to live here, and now reside in Hialeah.

On June 22, 1953, Mr. Hingerton entered our bank as Head Teller. Six months later he was put in charge of the Tellers, and on January 1, 1954 received official recognition through his title Manager, Teller Department. While Mr. Hingerton was responsible for a smooth running operation, all major decisions regarding tellers were determined by the senior officer to whom he reported at that time.

In July of 1956, Mr. Hingerton was elected to the position of Assistant Treasurer, and moved from the Head Teller's cage, to a front desk in our lobby.

In addition to being in charge of the Tellers, Mr. Hingerton is responsible for our Cafeteria, Teller Monthly Volume Reports, and servicing our customers in the New Accounts Department.

Mr. Hingerton and his wife Glenna, recently moved into a new home, complete with swimming pool, situated in Miramar. The Hingerton's have three sons Jack, Gary Lee, and Kevin Dale. A member of the Lutheran Church, Mr. Hingerton is also a member of Miami Shores Men's Club, American Institute of Banking, and Harvey Seeds Post, American Legion. His outside interests are for the present, concentrated on his new home.

Although banking is a recognized serious business that imposes high moral obligations and definite responsibilities, it has its "human" side too. This is realized in many instances through the memberships of our officers in clubs and organizations. As members of various groups, they in turn contribute their time and efforts to countless worthy causes such as helping the underprivileged, giving scholarships to outstanding students, and keeping youngsters healthfully occupied in an effort to reduce juvenile delinquency.

Not generally realized, is the fact that our bank sponsors three bowling teams, and a baseball team. The duties of sponsorship include bowling fees, sanction fees, bowling shirts, baseball uniforms and equipment, as necessary.

Two of the bowling teams are the Juniors and Bantams which play in the Lions Club league. These teams were brought to our attention by Cadwalader Woodville, Jr., Vice President and Secretary; an active member and a past-President of Little River Lions Club. The boys bowl every Saturday morning at Bowlerama under supervision of Lions Club members.

For the past two years the Juniors have won a second place trophy, both of which are displayed in our Board Room. The Lions are firm believers in the theory that supervised healthy activity, aids greatly in reducing juvenile delinquency.

Our adult team, the "Delinquents" (no pun intended) is part of the Christmas Party

It's not too soon to start planning for our annual Christmas party. Edwin M. Graham, Vice President and Albert J. Sokoll, Assistant Vice President, are in charge of the Dinner Dance which will be held Saturday, December 16, 1961 at Miami Shores Country Club.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30, followed by dinner at 8:00 p.m. Dancing will start at 9. Dress is informal.

Each co-worker may bring one guest. In the event you attend alone, your guest privilege is NOT transferable.

The Sponsor

American Institute of Banking Bowling League, and is comprised of co-workers. The "Delinquents" bowl every Wednesday nite at Hialeah Lanes. Although they haven't won any trophies, they held second place last season, which is very good considering the keen competition.

Our Pony League Baseball Team which was brought to our attention through the efforts of Edwin M. Graham, Vice President; is the Miami Shores-Little River Bank and Trust Company team. It too, is under strict supervision which it receives from the staff of the Miami Shores Recreation Department. Latest progress report on the PLT shows they were in the playoff for the 1960-1961 season.

Sponsorship of a team, is a good thing. Being a member of a team teaches the youngsters the rules of the game, the value of competition, and the ideals of high standards of true sportsmanship. It gives them a healthy interest at an important time of their life — when they are old enough to reason and young enough to be molded. It teaches them many values that will help to give them a sound basis of judgment and perspective for tomorrow's problems.

We're proud of the efforts of these youngsters who represent our bank in the field of sports today — and who may well be our depositors of tomorrow.

prepare Tax Returns for our customers." There is however a very human side to Trust which appeals to her as she stresses the "drama" of many situations. There is the "seriousness" of witnessing a Will, and the mixed emotions which are at times displayed as a result of various situations and discussions, all of which brings out in Gerry a very warm and sincere desire to be of assistance. To her, it is "a very important phase of Public Relations—how you receive a customer, attend him, and serve him."

Perhaps this warm-heartedness and understanding stems from her own personal background, which at one time undoubtedly needed, and appreciated, these traits in others.

Born in Berlin, Gerry went thru World War II, in Germany. She was educated at Lyzeum, where she remained until she was 16 years of age. Comparable to a Junior College, her years at Lyzeum were followed by two years at a business college where she learned shorthand in English, (it being mandatory to learn English in the lower grades.)

For a while Gerry worked at odd jobs, but in 1946 she took a refresher course at a secretarial school sponsored by the American Occupation Forces, in Berlin. Emerging as an honor student, and as a result of her bi-lingual talents, she was hired immediately following graduation exercises by her "first American boss," the Indigenous Personnel Staff Officer in charge of all German indigenous personnel, employed by American Offices and Installations under OMGUS (Office of the Military Government for Germany, United States).

In December of 1947, she applied for a job in the Western Zone of Germany and transferred from OMGUS in Berlin, to the Bipartite Control Office in Frankfurt. She subsequently became secretary to the officer in charge of Management and Budget, within the offices of General Clay, and General Adcock.

When the Bipartite Control Office was dissolved, the office of the United States High Commissioner for Germany was established under a Mr. McCloy, who was at that time High Commissioner for Germany. Gerry transferred in October 1949, to the office of General Counsel, and was assigned as Secretary to the Deputy Chief, Legislation Division.

The year 1950 was one of change for Germany, and a turn for the better for Gerry. Governmental duties were gradually fed back to the Germans. Gerry quit her job as Secretary to the Deputy Chief, and answered a news ad which resulted in her being chosen out of 200 applicants, for testing. The outcome was a position as secretary to the American Managing Director of the German Affiliate of 20th Century Fox Film Company, with headquarters in Frankfurt, and branch offices in Berlin, Hamburg, Dusseldorf, Munich, and Frankfurt.

It was in this position as interpreter, that Gerry came in contact with many German as well as American film notables, and accompanied them to functions and appearances as called for in their itinerary. Among those she was closely associated with were Gregory Peck, the late Tyrone Power, Hildegarde Neff, and Spyros Skouras. Of Gregory Peck, she has nothing but praise saying, "He is such a gentle and courteous person."

Then she met Emil Shwetzter who with the Occupation Forces was stationed near Frankfurt, as Program Director of AF Network in Europe. In December of 1953, Gerry became Mrs. Emil Shwetzter, resigned her "glamour job," and came to the United States, in July 1954.

New York City was "headquarters" where she worked as a bi-lingual secretary for a law firm on Broad Street. After about two years, she returned to the film industry with Allied Artists, in Times Square. Here she was secretary to the European Distributor in the States, and was mainly concerned with the translation of contracts.

In 1957, Gerry and her husband came to Miami. For a short time she worked as a bilingual secretary for a downtown firm, before beginning at our bank on July 29, 1957.

In reviewing her varied positions as against her present one in banking, Gerry is really quite happy in this field as established by her statement, "Although banking differs from that which I have done, I feel that my work in the Trust Department is personally gratifying, because of the human relationship which makes it a warm and diversified career."

No, your eyes do not deceive you! It is Gregory Peck pictured with our Gerry Shwetzter, in Germany. Gerry was interpreter for Mr. Peck.

by DOUGLAS R. BELL

Trust Officer

Trust business is good. Your Trust Department is meeting the needs of more customers with a wider variety of services than ever before. Total Trust assets under our care exceed $21,000,000 and are growing daily. Wills now filed with us naming the Bank in a Fiduciary capacity, have an estimated value of $92,712,000.

We are optimistic about the future but not to the extent that we have become complacent. New business is the lifeblood of our growth, and intelligent enthusiastic promotion is the backbone of an effective new business effort. It is axiomatic that the most effective promotion comes from good public relations and the old fashioned virtues of courtesy, honesty and efficiency; but who shall know the variety and quality of our activities unless we ourselves proclaim their worth.

Ours is a unique business about which the public knows little or nothing. It is our responsibility to promote wider recognition and approval of the services which we offer.

BELL

The education of the public is an enormous and continuing task with procrastination and the natural disinclination to think of death, adding to the problem. It is at this point we wish to place the emphasis of this "message." We earnestly and sincerely solicit the cooperation and assistance of the entire Bank staff in the development and expansion of your Trust Department. Let us stress that it is YOUR Trust Department.

We recognize the fact that the nature of Trust business, makes it somewhat remote and secretive. As Bankers you are all familiar with the extremely personal and private financial aspects of your customer's lives. Trust work is further complicated by the addition of emotions, loves, hates, ambitions and fears. It becomes evident then, that when dealing with such volatile emotional factors, that an atmosphere of quiet security and assurance prevail. Thus the requisites of the business are the very things which mislead many people into feeling that Trust work is mysterious and withdrawn.

Actually, within the framework of the laws set down by the State and Federal Governments, the operation of Estates, Trusts, Escrows and the like, are very logical businesslike processes, extremely diverse and interesting by reason of their being the product of extremely varied and interesting people.

First, let us erase the impression that Trust work deals exclusively with the contemplation of death. Admittedly, the planning and administration of Estates is a major function as evidenced by our backlog of nearly $100,000,000 in Wills, under which the Bank will serve. However, one must bear in mind that even an Estate Plan and Will have living motives, in that they are extensions of the good business practices and procedures which we all try to follow in our daily living.

To further illustrate the living functions of your Trust Department let us cite the Inter-Vivos of Living Trust. Here we have an amazingly versatile document which provides the vehicle for everything from seeing the grandchildren through school, to providing professional management of investments for spendthrifts, or for elderly people who lack confidence in their own business judgement.

There are Life Insurance Trusts for tax savings; Business Insurance Trusts to provide the means for the logical succession of ownership of Corporations or partnerships.

As Transfer and Disbursing Agent, we maintain records of stock ownership and remit to the stockholders such dividends as are authorized and provided for by the Board of Directors. We also operate Pension and Profit Sharing Trusts as we do for our own Corporation, in which we receive and invest donations, maintain records and disburse to the participants or their beneficiaries at the direction of the Retirement Committee. In this capacity we serve many municipalities as well as all types of businesses. As Bankers, I am sure you all are familiar with Escrows and their various functions, so we will not attempt to expound on this very adaptable and versatile function.

Let us emphasize, again, that these services are offered by your Trust Department here in your Bank, and that they are provided by your Board of Directors in their unceasing efforts to provide the best and most complete banking facilities possible. Let me add here in all modesty, that these services are being supplied the public on an increasingly profitable basis and have served to enhance our Bank's already enviable reputation throughout the State.

We shall continue to add to that profit and reputation with your help. Remind your customers that we provide complete Trust services, and that we will be most pleased to have the opportunity of serving them.

Personally Speaking . . .

It's GREAT to be an AMERICAN!

It's a PRIVILEGE to know we can attend church, and worship as we please!

It's TERRIFIC to be able to state an opinion—pro or con—openly and loudly!

It's SUPER to be able to read, look at, and listen to, material WE select!
Am I Flag Waving? Boasting and bragging about our way of life in the United States?

YOU BET I AM!

Am I telling in essence of our FREEDOM and LIBERTY, as opposed to the incredible oppressions of those who live in the shadow of the Kremlin, and those who feel the monstrous weight of the far-reaching tentacles of Communism?

YES!

AND WHY NOT!

As J. Edgar Hoover states in his book, "Masters of Deceit" . . . We, as a people have not been sufficiently articulate and forceful in expressing pride in our traditions and ideals. As Americans we should stand up, speak of it, and let the world see our light of freedom, rather than conceal it. For too long we have had a tendency to keep silent while the Communists, their sympathizers, and their fellow travelers have been telling the world what is wrong with Democracy."

Like the man says—Let's talk it up. Let's drown out the "Doom Merchants," the spineless "Shruggers," the "Whatcanyou do'ers." Read Mr. Hoover's statement again. Study it. Remember it. And when the opportunity comes—and it will—express justifiable pride in your country and what it stands for.

We can be truly Thankful Every Day of the Year, for the many blessings we enjoy.

Yes—It's GREAT to be an AMERICAN!

Isn't it!

Mr. Garner

A highly important factor in the growth of our bank is the service we give to our customers. This cannot be over-emphasized. Since we were established in 1926, we have instituted new systems, added new machines, and expanded our facilities to take care of the needs of our depositors.

Now in our 35th year, we continue to keep pace with the banking requirements of the community. However, while all of these factors merit their share of importance, in the final analysis—systems, machines, and conveniences rely on the human element for success and workability.

Therefore, it is important that we use these mediums to their best advantage, and inject the personal touch when serving our customers. Personalized Service . . . is not only a desirable factor, but will reflect in our continued growth and prosperity . . . and in yours.

Have You Heard

by "Lindy"

The Holidays have come and gone with their hustle and bustle—sparkle and gleam—and very special aura. Our bank took on its traditional festive attire which reflected the good taste of Walter W. Asmus, (VP and Treas.)—"Bobbi" was her pert, accomplished self at the organ—the tree in the lobby was especially beautiful this year—the Santas at the Teller windows—the special arrangement around the clock—and wreaths at the windows all played their part in establishing Christmas in our bank. The Trust Dept. had its own tree—outside Teller windows were decorated too—and even the door to the stockroom was decked with a wreath, courtesy of Tom Doell, who made it. It took a lot of effort getting our bank "dressed for Christmas" and thanks to Tom Doell, Ed Herrschaft, Willie Nicholson, Leroy Stebbins, and Willie Scott. But more enchanting than the planned decorations were the individual efforts of co-workers thruout the bank. There wasn't a department that didn't have its own lighted tree. And of course, our Cafeteria was as usual the center of behind-the-scenes attractiveness as a result of the inimitable touch of Gladys Haldy, Katharine Evers and Vivian LaPorte, who decorate for any and all occasions and by so doing make our cafeteria a very special placé to be . . . Christmas started for us more or less officially with our Christmas Dinner Dance at Miami Shores Country Club. It doesn't seem as tho it could get any better but somehow it does each year, and many, many times was the remark heard "This is the best party we've ever had." High point of the evening was the presentation of Mr. Garner's gift, given him by Officers and Personnel of our bank, and all those who are with Garner Insurance and Mortgage Company, and who always attend the party too. Glamour prevails that nite—and fun is foremost. But there are endless details and chores that go into the planning and execution of a successful affair for which, appreciation is given to Edwin M. Graham (VP), Albert J. Sokoll, (AVP), Lorraine Aufford, Mae Teubner, Rosemary O'Rourke, Joan Smith and Earl Helfman. (Heaven help me if someone is overlooked. Please! It's not intentional!) Last but NOT least our thanks to James G. Garner, President, who "gives" us our annual Christmas Party . . . Christmas time was also a time of vacations, and trips home to the folks. It was an 'at home' time for De Merle L. Harper (AS), and for Julie Partch too . . . while traveling was done by JoAnn and John Fuscoe to Youngstown, O. for the Holidays . . .

ON-THE-JOB BANKING

by WILLIAM F. DUNCAN
Assistant Treasurer

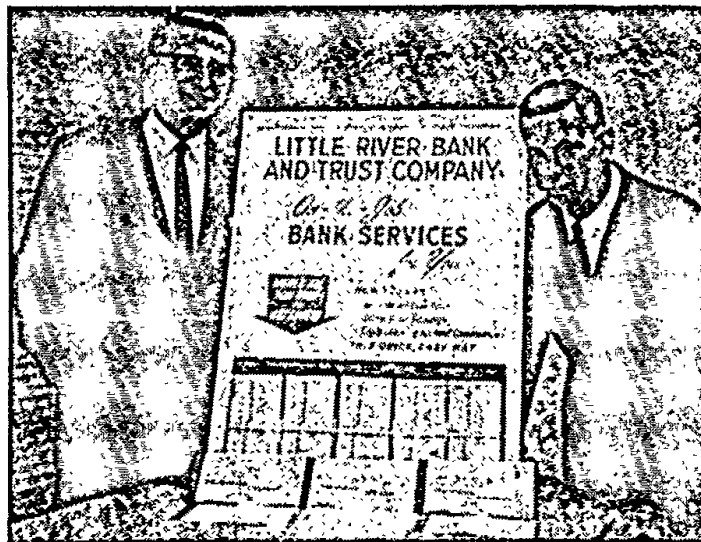

In an effort to combat Credit Union competition, the American Banker's Association Committee on Credit Unions recommends commercial banks adopt On-The-Job or In-Plant Banking services. An article to this effect was carried in an issue of the Florida Banker's Association Bulletin, with the information that operating procedure for this type of program was available from ABA sources. As a result of this, the writer made inquiry to the ABA and received a "How-To-Do-It" Kit, which established groundwork procedure for our bank.

We also learned at that time, that a number of prominent financial institutions throughout the country were either already initiating a program, or seriously contemplating installing one. These include: The Bank of America, The Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company, The Citizens and Southern National Bank, The First National Bank of Atlanta, The Fulton Bank and Trust Company of Georgia, First National City Bank of New York, Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, The Mellon National Bank and Trust Company, Republic National Bank, Union Planters National Bank, and First National Bank at Orlando, Fla.

We then communicated with the Orlando bank, since we felt they would be most familiar with our geographical and economic conditions. They replied promptly and rendered a good deal of assistance by furnishing us with a comprehensive sales program.

Several conferences were held with Senior Officers of our bank, and the writer was greatly assisted by Walter W. Asmus, Vice President and Treasurer; Edwin M. Graham, Vice President; and John A. Wilshear, Jr., Assistant Vice President. Additional advice and guidance was given by Raymond E. Morlock, Senior Vice President; Bernard E. Boldin, Vice President; and Daniel C. Northrop, Vice President. The program was then discussed with James G. Garner, President, and final approval was obtained. I wish to stress, that this program could not have become a reality without the cooperation of the officers listed above; and many others who assisted.

It was then recommended that the writer should institute several pilot installations with the assistance of Earl Helfman, of our Business Development Department. We compiled additional information, made added inquiries, and finally "went to press" and ordered our first On-The-Job Banking service racks. Further conferences with Mr. Asmus and Mr. Wilshear, resulted in the designing of suitable forms applicable to our needs, which were subsequently ordered.

Now that we have discussed the implementation of this program, perhaps we should explain some of its advantages. First of all . . . sixty percent of all people employed on an hourly basis in plants and similar occupations, do not have any banking connections whatsoever. Therefore, it is not easy for them to develop good thrift habits as they are forced through necessity to seek financial assistance from high rate lending organizations.

For employers, this program provides an added fringe benefit available to employees, at no expense to the company. It also reduces absenteeism of employees who have to transact personal business during working hours. For employers without credit unions, there isn't any space problem with this type of service. In addition, it is unnecessary to employ extra personnel to staff a credit union, nor is an outlay of funds necessary for the purchase of specialized equipment. Further, employees prefer dealing directly with the bank to keep their transactions confidential, and On-The-Job Banking services makes this possible.

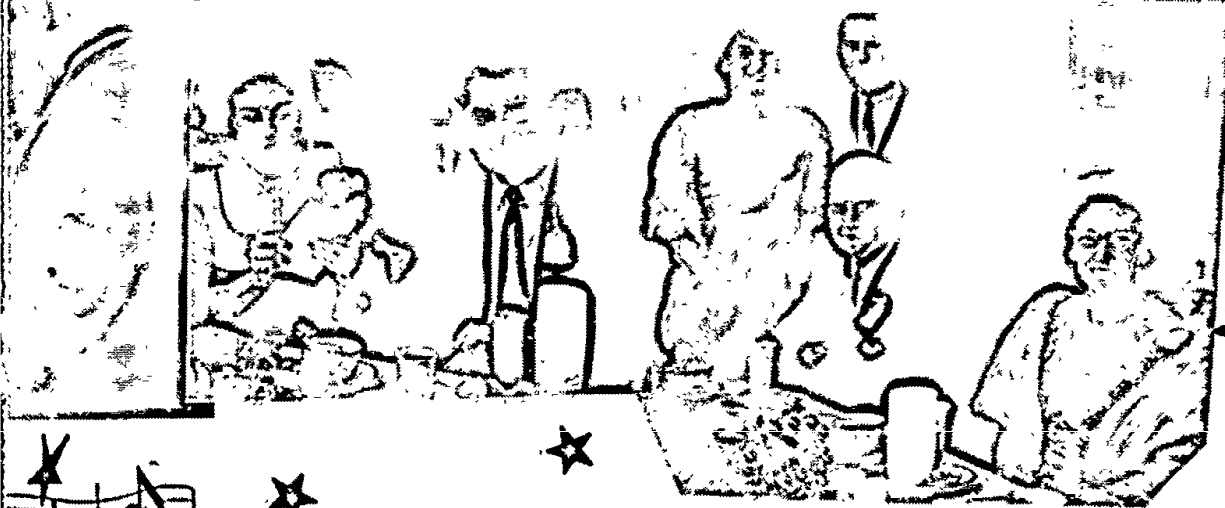

Banks entering this program, are presented with an entirely new challenge by

"Checkmates" Elect New Officers

A new slate of officers was recently elected by members of "Checkmates," our social and service club. They are as follows: Earl Helfman, president; Edward Herrschaft, vice president; Jacqueline Cravero, secretary; Betty Hamilton, treasurer.

For the benefit of our new co-workers "Checkmates" was founded after World War II, for the purpose of eliminating individual collections for gifts. Through the years it has remembered brides-to-be, mothers-to-be, those who left our bank, flowers for the ill and hospitalized and many others according to policy as set in the by-laws. With its concentrated funds derived from dues, "Checkmates" has been able to do many fine things for many people.

"Checkmates" is primarily a service club—not a social organization. However, there is usually enough money for a picnic or similar get-together that is anticipated each year.

To be an officer of "Checkmates" entails a good deal of conscientious effort throughout the year. There is a considerable amount of money to be handled and accounted for, records to be kept; gifts to be purchased; flowers to be ordered and numerous other details equally important. As for the social events . . . if you've ever planned a party a home you have an idea of the work entailed. "Checkmates" has over 100 members. Trying to please that many people is not an easy task.

To be a good Officer of "Checkmates" means doing your level best to make the social affairs enjoyable, and taking care of the many duties and chores that continually demand attention. We recognize the fact that all our past officers have done this. We know the co-workers now in office will continue to carry on in this tradition.

To be a good member of "Checkmates" means to pay your dues promptly, and to be considerate. If you go to a social event and something does not quite please you, be charitable. Remember the officers do their best for all concerned, and it is quite possible that one day you too will be a "Checkmates" Officer, and will then realize how important it is to receive understanding and cooperation.

Membership in "Checkmates" is open to all co-workers. If you haven't joined do so now. You'll find it a good feeling to know that your contribution helped to make someone happy. And should the occasion arise you too, will be remembered in return.

penetrating a previously untapped source of new business. There is also a closer working relationship created between the bank and the employer, which places the bank in a more favorable competitive position.

We are now pleased to report that we have completed our first installation with the Winn-Dixie Stores of Florida, Inc., more familiarly known as the "Kwik-Chek" stores. It is now possible for their employees, by following a simple procedure to: 1—open Special Checking Accounts 2—take advantage of our Systematic Saving Plan program (initiated by Mr. Graham) which will be offered in conjunction with Special Checking 3—open Savings Accounts and 4—obtain Installment Loans.

Necessary forms are installed in racks at the plant, and all that is necessary to obtain our services is to complete the simplified forms and return them by mail to our bank, in the self-addressed, stamped envelope provided.

Although we are most enthusiastic about this program we do not anticipate a great deal of response in the immediate future. It will be necessary to complete the remainder of the installations before indications as to future returns may be estimated. Inquiries regarding this new program should be directed to Earl Helfman, Business Development; or to myself, in the Loan Department.

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF GOOD BUSINESS

A Customer . . . is the most important person in any business.

A Customer . . . is not dependent on us, we are dependent on him.

A Customer . . . is not an interruption of our work, he is the purpose of it.

A Customer . . . does us a favor when he calls, we are not doing him a favor by serving him.

A Customer . . . is part of our business, not an outsider.

A Customer . . . is not someone to argue or match wits with.

A Customer . . . is a person who brings us his wants, it is our job to fill those wants.

A Customer . . . is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him.

A Customer . . . is the life blood of this and every other business.

Personally Speaking . . .

The following came to my attention from John A. Wilshear, Jr., Assistant Vice President, who thought it rather interesting. It is that — and more — as you will find when you read it.

Bryce Harlow, who was former President Eisenhower's assistant, has this to say about Russia. Quote . . . I no longer run around demanding that America "catch up" with Russia. If we did that we'd have to rip up 14 of every 15 miles of our paved highways and two of every three miles of railroads, sink eight of every nine ocean-going vessels, scrap 19 of every 20 cars and trucks, destroy 50 million TV sets and nine out of every 10 telephones, abandon three-fifths of our steel capacity, two-thirds of our petroleum and nine-tenths of our natural gas. We'd have to put 60 million of our people back on farms which they wouldn't own, and jam most of the remainder of us into city tenements holding six to 20 persons in each room . . . Unquote.

Thought provoking — isn't it!

Mr. Garner

For the past five years it has been our pleasure to give you "Bank Notes." With the publication of the first issue in December 1957, your magazine has consistently appeared on a bimonthly basis.

It's purpose has been to give you the facts and keep you informed of important happenings in the bank, as well as to create a closer feeling of kinship with, and for each other. At times it has assumed the role of instructor, and at other times it has cautioned you for your own sake. But it has consistently leaned toward reporting progress—yours and the bank's—for the benefit of all concerned. This is defined for you in the masthead as follows: "Dedicated to Progress Through Mutual Understanding and Appreciation for Each Other."

For your information "Bank Notes" is not only distributed to each and every person in the bank, but is mailed to our Directors, our Stockholders, and a special mailing list of those requesting it. It also is sent by request to the United Nations, which has a special place for such publications; and to the School of Journalism and Communications, Stadium Library at Gainesville, where it is available to the students for study.

If you were to have all the issues published since 1957, you would possess an interesting and comprehensive "history" of the activity within our bank since that time.

This Anniversary Issue—will recap highlights of those years for you. It is to be hoped that you who have been with us since 1957 will enjoy reviewing that period. For those of you who have been employed here in more recent years, we trust this issue will be particularly interesting and informative.

Gene Garner

In mid-December of 1957 on a Friday morning, the first issue of Bank Notes was distributed throughout the bank. Since that time it has been published regularly, every other month for the past five years. But before that first publication date became effective, many hours were spent in discussions and decisions. Policy was set, format was decided and such things as size, whether or not to use color, what printer to use, etcetera were determined . . . as the first issue was to be the pacesetter for the issues to come.

It may interest you to know that your magazine is a letterpress operation, printed on 70 lb. coated stock. Cuts and mats are used for the art work. Its size 6 x 9 was chosen because of its compactness and easy handling. Amusing is the fact that Bank Notes was to contain only eight pages . . . but just about the only issue to have eight pages was the first one, (there may have been one more). The second issue necessitated twelve pages and it has commanded that amount ever since, with the exception of the times it jumped to sixteen pages.

Bank Notes is the only publication of its kind your bank has had. The people who are concerned with it are listed on the masthead: Of the staff, (who contribute the many and sundry items for the popular "Have You Heard" column) Lorraine Aufford is the only one who has continued as a staffer since the first issue. Mr. Northrop and Mr. Graham, advise should a question of policy arise. Lynn Browne, whose background includes the publishing field has been Editor since the planning stages of your magazine.

Bank Notes is both an internal and an external publication. It communicates with and informs Personnel, Directors, Stockholders, and a special mailing list of those who receive it by request.

When Bank Notes is being written its editorial content must be viewed from both an internal and an external point of observation. A fine balance must be kept between these two that is at times difficult to achieve. With a publication that is both internal and external, an editor must be able to write from the "inside" yet be objective from the "outside." This takes understanding of the viewpoints of both factors, as well as the confidence and cooperation of top management. Your Editor can state with sincerity, that she has enjoyed the confidence and complete cooperation of management during these years, and that much of the success of Bank Notes is due to this fact.

What make Bank Notes? Primarily—people—in fact YOU! What YOU do, where YOU go, YOUR sorrows and YOUR joys. Equally important are events . . . a building expansion . . . a new service . . . added conveniences. Important too are Officer promotions . . . Personnel achievements . . . new co-workers . . . and the function of departments. All of this and more goes into Bank Notes, which is designed to be a well-rounded publication that contains something of interest for all concerned.

The first issue of Bank Notes featured an article by Walter W. Asmus, Vice President, on the new extension. Mr. Asmus wrote "Growing Pains" and explained the ultimate outcome of all the construction activity taking place at that time, and which finally emerged as our Fifth Major Expansion. The cover carried a picture of Mr. Asmus and James G. Garner, Chairman of the Board and President, taken where our drive-ins now are. This issue also carried a profile on Mr. Garner, the first in the series "Know Your Director" and which eventually included profiles on all our Directors. "Welcome Mat" and "Have You Heard" were also started in this issue and have been an integral part of the magazine since that time.

The first issue of this year, February, carried the start of the "Special Message" series written by Officers of our bank. The articles discussed and explained certain factors of their responsibilities they felt would be informative and instructive to personnel.

"Happy Birthday" began in this issue too, and has been included since that time. It also carried the first photos taken at our annual Christmas Party, which has become a Pictorial Feature of that event.

An important "first" was the beginning of the Departmental Features. Inez East, who has been a co-worker longer than any other employee was the first person to be written up. These articles are designed primarily to tell the function of the department. However, in order to create interest the articles are written around a co-worker to give them a human element. The featured co-worker is chosen on the basis of seniority of time of service in the department.

In September, a pictorial and editorial feature was carried on the Fifth Major Expansion, which at the time of printing was already occupied by Officers and Personnel. On the lighter side in this issue, was a short article on Roberta Alberti—our "Queenie" who won a beauty contest in our bank and appeared at the Orange Bowl to compete in the "Miss Miami Marlins of 1958" contest. Roberta was one of five finalists, which is no small honor in view of the stiff competition from banks and firms throughout Miami who were represented at the event.

On Friday, October 3, 1958 . . . we opened on Friday night from 5 to 7 p.m. . . . for the first time. Bank Notes carried a story to this effect quote . . . This was by no means a sudden move, but the result of a survey to determine another way of giving our customers better service. When the ultimate decision was reached, James G. Garner, President, called a meet- ing of the entire personnel and in a talk explained the necessity for the new schedule . . . unquote. Many of you will recall that meeting, which was followed with press releases and special announcements sent by mail to our customers advising them of our new hours.

This issue also carried the first of several features that were designed to be instructive and constructive. Its title was . . . "Our Bank is a Reflection of Ourselves." Pictures posed by co-workers depicted cooperation, friendliness, neatness of dress, and urged less gossip, and less criticism of each other.

On February 4th of this year our Cafeteria opened. The Cafeteria is a result of our expansion, and has continued to give pleasure and satisfaction since its opening date. It filled a need that was only fully realized with its completion. It has consistently added to our comfort and well-being and has been successful far beyond anticipation.

Not too many people in our bank realize to what extent our Officers participate in clubs and organizations. This was brought to our attention in the May issue, with the feature . . . "Our Officers Exemplify Today's Community Leaders." It listed their memberships and pictured them at meetings. Our Officers are urged to join clubs and organizations, take active part in them, and participate in many worthwhile events.

In May 1959 two of our Directors, Mr. Hugh P. Emerson, president, Aeroland Oil Co., and Mr. Earle M. Rader, senior partner and founder, Rader and Associates, Engineers and Architects; were part of the first group of prominent businessmen who journeyed to Moscow to interview Nikita Khrushchev. In light of world conditions today, the article on their trip may be of interest to you. It is reprinted in full as it appeared in the July 1959 issue, of Bank Notes.

THEY WENT BEHIND THE "IRON CURTAIN"

On May 23, 1959, forty-five business men and civic leaders throughout South Florida, participated in a two hour interview with Nikita Khrushchey, in Moscow, Russia.

EMERSON

RADER

Two of the men who were in the group are Directors of our Bank. They are Hugh P. Emerson, president, Aeroland Oil Co., and Earle M. Rader, senior partner and founder, Rader and Associates, Engineers and Architects.

This was the first such interview ever granted to men of a non-official status. Ralph Renick, Vice President in charge of News for WTVJ, was spokesman during the interview which was conducted through an interpreter.

Although Mr. Emerson, and Mr. Rader, did not speak directly to Khrushchey, their observations of him and of the people of Russia bore one thing in common. Khrushchey is an extremely intelligent person, and the Russians on the whole, are content with the present regime.

Mr. Rader stated, "The people seem to be happy with Communism and are making it work, at least to a degree." He went on to point out that under the rule of the Czar, the people were "terribly oppressed, nothing but slaves. Now they have something, although the satellite countries are in a very bad way."

Mr. Rader feels however, that in the final analysis Communism will fail because of two things. "No country," he said, "can ever survive without Religion, and the fact that people cannot accumulate estates will not, in the long run, aid Communism."

Mr. Emerson was impressed with Khrushchey's political sagacity. "He's a very smart politician," he commented, "well informed and extremely aware of the 'International Front.' I feel," he continued, "that if Khrushchey wanted to, and providing we had a World Government, he could be elected president."

According to Mr. Emerson, the people are thoroughly indoctrinated with Communism. They are dedicated, and sold on their Government.

The people were friendly, courteous and seemed to appreciate the group's visit. Hotel accommodations were comfortably acceptable, and food was fairly good. Mr. Emerson said however, that he "missed having a good cup of coffee, and they don't seem to know what iced tea is. But wine and champagne is plentiful."

He found the children very interesting. After attending Kindergarten, they go into what is referred to as a Pioneer Group. He said each group wears its own emblem, which they were glad to exchange for American candy or gum. It impressed him that they did everything as a "group." He said he saw many children marching in formation on their way to recreational pursuits such as swimming, soccer and volley ball. They even marched in formation to Cafeterias. Mr. Emerson further stated that he did not see any "tennis courts or golf courses."

Mr. Rader and Mr. Emerson, felt that although the trip was strenuous, it was extremely interesting, educational, and a wonderful opportunity to gain knowledge of a country which is similar in size, to our United States.

The September issue told about A.I.B., The American Institute of Banking. It was organized in 1900 as a result of requests by bank employees in various cities for a program of education that would enable them to understand more clearly the work they were doing. The Institute's general plan of operation has been to carry on its activities through local organizations called Chapters, thereby creating the opportunity to acquire a knowledge of specialized banking subjects for both men and women throughout the United States and its possessions. Richard C. Boggs, our Executive Vice President and Trust Officer, is a past-President of the Miami Chapter A.I.B., having served 1949-1950.

In November, Bank Notes cautioned about "Carelessness." "Don't Prove You Care Less by Being Careless," was the feature that pointed out how you could injure yourself in spite of the many precautions the bank has taken for your safety and well-being. Dangers pictured were—open file drawers overhead, open desk drawers, tilting back on chair legs instead of sitting properly, rounding corners heads down, descending steps with arms laden, and using machines with little regard for fingers.

This year's first issue—January—inaugurated the "Man Behind the Title" series, with a story on Walter W. Asmus, Vice President. The series is designed to help co-workers understand the man—rather than just the title—and in so doing create a better working relationship.

In March, Bank Notes carried a feature on machines throughout the bank, with pictures of many that are used and identification of same. There was quite a lot of interest regarding this feature, since many times people in one department will not be too familiar with machines used by folks in another department.

Free Personalized Checks and Monthly Statements for Special Checking Account customers, to go into effect about April 1, was duly reported on for your information. To quote . . . Statements for SCA Accounts which have formerly been mailed on a quarterly basis, will with the innovation of SCA Personalized Checks—be mailed each month . . . unquote.

"How Do You Rate" . . . was an instructive feature of the May issue, stressing courtesy to our customers at all times. Co-workers cooperated in posing for pictures graphically portraying how one could unconsciously offend.

The July issue carried a story on William Baraket, Vice President and Trust Officer; and John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer, who had recently returned from two weeks of intensive indoctrination in selective banking schools. This was the first step of a concentrated three year session for these officers which included two weeks of each year at their individual schools, supplemented with extension problems throughout the year.

A feature on "Simplicity—the Keynote to Being Well-Dressed" was carried in the September issue. Neatness and appropriate attire for business was stressed, and portrayed with pictures.

In January, the message from Mr. Garner stated that the bank not only intended to maintain a high standard of operation . . . "but to better it as time goes on. This can only be achieved through cooperation—your cooperation. For that reason, Bank Notes again brings you a message . . . which emphasizes how you can cooperate more fully, and thereby help to exceed past achievements. We know you will read it with perception and understanding and we anticipate a year of mutual satisfaction and accomplishment."

The editorial content of this feature entitled "There's Always Room for One More New Year's Resolution," urged us to remember at all times that . . . "wherever you go . . . whomever you associate with, you are in essence an extension of this bank and as such are expected to conduct yourselves accordingly. You should not—under any circumstances—use your bank as a springboard for "personal glorification," nor should you discuss the bank in public places unless you do so with discretion and loyalty." Further excerpts are as follows: "Important too—is a common sense attitude toward the extent of your social life with regard to getting a sufficient amount of rest and proper nourishment for on-the-job efficiency. If you're not "up to it" you cannot do your share of the day's work properly. Results can be costly in errors, the extra amount of time needed to accomplish a task, or the putting off of chores until tomorrow that should have been completed today . . . There isn't any "mystery" in the fact that if you're too "tired" or "sluggish," you cannot do your work properly . . . You are urged to start the New Year right! . . . In adhering to these precepts you cannot help but realize that a feeling of physical fitness plus the knowledge of a day's work well done . . . will in time "reflect favorably for you."

March carried an article on "SSP—Our New Customer Service." Put into effect about this time the Systematic-Saving-Plan was designed to make saving automatic and easy for the benefit of our customers. The article explained that upon receiving a signed agreement from a customer, "We will do one of two things, transfer a set amount each month (not less than $10.00) from the customer's Checking Account to his Savings Account, or open a Savings Account (in the event he does not have one) for not less than $10.00. The customer's Savings Account will then be automatically credited each month in the amount he designates (but not less than $10.00) per month, and his Checking Account charged.

With all the talk of converting to Automation—that issue also carried a story as to how it would affect our bank. It was headed "Don't Let Automation Confuse You" and explained how a gradual conversion would have no adverse affects on personnel. Complete Automation is a process that takes several years, and is usually done in various stages. It is not to be confused with the popular misconception that people would be "thrown out of work overnight." It went on to explain that "in the natural course of events Personnel will leave our bank of their own accord, for such reasons as retirement, marriage, pregnancy, etcetera. As our bank grows it would be necessary to hire more Personnel to take care of our customers. Automation minimizes this necessity since the use of machines will automatically step up production. By the time complete automation would be accomplished, it is safe to assume that Personnel then on hand, would be necessary for operation of the machines.

In May, the article "For Your Information" related the beginning of the use of Mechanical Validation of Deposits. Tellers had received new machines which enabled them to give customers a detailed duplicate deposit receipt, which is a carbon copy of the original. This eliminated the necessity of tellers making out pink tickets, and because of the complete data on the duplicate deposit receipt, passbooks are no longer necessary. Reported too, was the fact that Personal Checking Account customers would now receive Personalized Checks, without charge. New Check Books imprinted with the individual's name were mailed with an announcement stating "It is our pleasure to present your first book of Personalized Checks." Enclosed with the book were deposit slips and a reorder blank. (Special Checking Account customers had been receiving personalized checks for well over a year.)

In August our bank observed its 35th Anniversary. Outdoor advertising signs, newspaper ads, radio spot announcements and staffers proclaimed this fact to the public. The story was also carried in the September issue of your magazine. Excerpts that will be of interest are as follows: "It was on a Monday morning 35 years ago—that our bank opened its doors, prepared to serve the banking needs of the community. The date was August 9, 1926 . . . the time 9 a.m. The location was the northwest corner of 79th Street and Northeast 2nd Ave., the site now occupied by the Little River Drug Store." The story related how our bank "weathered the Hurricane of 1926 and the National Depression of the 1930's." Our first president was the late Landon E. Edwards, who served from 1926-1932. He was succeeded by James G. Garner, who served 1932-1936; was re-elected in 1947, and has been our president since that time. Mr. Garner has been with our bank since its opening day. Our bank has had five major expansions. It was in 1937 that we located on our present site. Of the officers who have been with our bank for some time: Raymond E. Morlock, Senior Vice President has been with us since 1933; Daniel C. Northrop, Vice President, since 1935; Walter W. Asmus, Vice President, 1940; Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer, 1947; George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller, 1950, and Cadwalader Woodville, Jr., Vice President, since 1950.

Although our bank is necessarily a serious place of business, it also has a very human side to it. This was reflected in the story in the November 1961 issue entitled "Teams We Sponsor." Not generally realized is the fact that we sponsor three bowling teams and a baseball team. The duties of sponsorship include bowling fees, sanction fees, bowling shirts, baseball uniforms, and equipment as necessary. Two of the bowling teams, the Juniors and Bantams which play in the Lions Club League, were brought to our attention by Cadwalader Woodville, Jr., Vice President; an active member and a past-President of Little River Lions Club. Our adult bowling team the "Delinquents," is part of the American Institute of Banking Bowling League and is comprised of co-workers. Our Pony League Baseball Team . . . the Miami Shores-Little River Bank and Trust Company Team . . . was brought to our attention by Edward M. Graham, Vice President.

The July issue carried the story of the completion of the three year courses participated in by Mr. Baraket and Mr. Wilshear. It was headed—"Baraket and Wilshear Complete Three Years Intensive Studies." Mr. Baraket specialized in Trust at The Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University, New Jersey. Mr. Wilshear specialized in Commercial Banking, at School of Banking of the South, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.

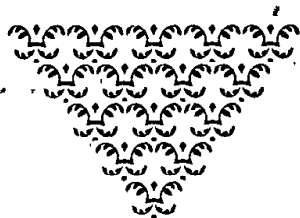

In congratulating the officers on their graduation, Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer, who completed a course in Trust, at Stonier and graduated in 1947 stated, "It is no small honor for these men to have been chosen to attend these intensive training programs. Although the courses are extremely rigorous . . . and Graduation a time for rejoicing . . . the benefits far outweigh the time spent in study, for the men; as well as for the bank. Mr. Baraket and Mr. Wilshear deserve to be congratulated on their achievement."

In November, Bank Notes told of the installation of the Automatic Answering Service; and ran a short story with pictures of our new Time and Temperature sign on 79th Street, and landscaping on either side of the sign, and at the drive-in windows.

These are the highlights of the past five years, as reported in your magazine. We hope you have enjoyed reviewing these events. We trust that for more recent co-workers it will prove to be helpful in acquiring a general background of your bank.

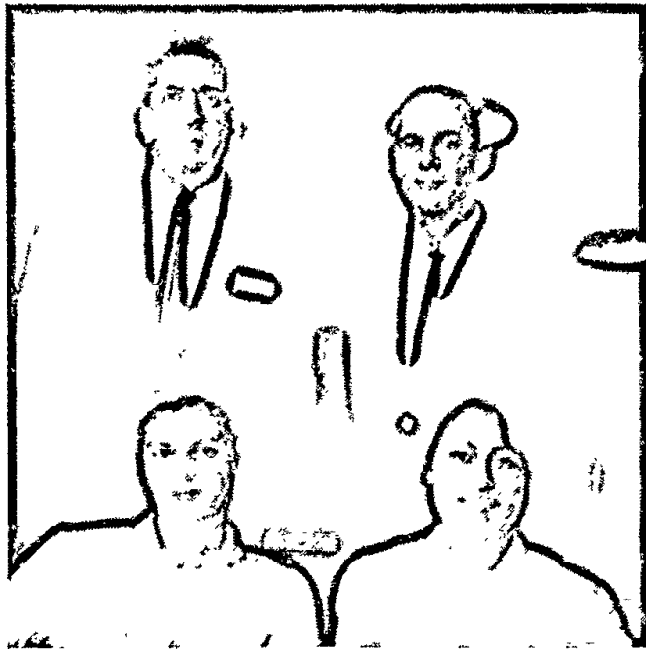

We start now with the first issue of the year 1963 . . . and the beginning of the Sixth Year for Bank Notes.

Although the Holidays are over, the memory of the bright decorations thruout the bank will linger for some time . . . The Christmas Tree that reached to the high ceiling of our lobby brought wondrous awe to the eyes of youngsters who gazed at its brightness The familiar Wreaths were hung at the windows . . . gay Santas highlighted the Teller windows . . . and organ music delighted the ears . . . Poinsettias graced the landscape near the drive-in windows which were also decked for the season . . . The Trust Department had its tree and decorative touches . . . as did every department throughout the bank . . . It was quite a sight on the mezzanine floor to be able to see three or four trees at one time in various departments — all bright — all quite lovely . . . But for hominess and nth degree Christmas Atmosphere our Cafeteria was “the” place . . . Katharine Evers, Gladys Haldy and Vivian LaPorte really outdid themselves this year in making the Cafeteria a mighty fine place to be . . . It takes a lot of planning and hours of work to decorate our bank, so thanks to Ed Herrschaft, Tom Doell, Willie Nicholson, Leroy Stebbins and Willie Scott for their efforts . . . ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT of the Holiday Season is our Annual Christmas Party at Miami Shores Country Club. With the expansion of the Country Club, that has also been newly decorated, the setting for our party this year was particularly gracious . . . Many were the comments on its beauty, the first quality dinner, and the excellent dance music . . . But dinner dances “Don’t Just Happen”. Many plans and much work go into that evening we all enjoy. Our thanks to James G. Garner, President, who is our generous and pleasant host . . . and to the folks who did the work — Edwin M. Graham (VP), Albert J. Sokoll (AVP), Mae Teubner, Earl Helfman, Lorraine Aufford, Joan Smith, Mildred Graziano, Maxine Scroggs and Alice Peet . . . AS USUAL personal Christmas enjoyment was enhanced with Visits and Visitors and Vacations — Mary Foresteire entertained her daughter and son-in-law Major and Mrs. Edward Peter of Kansas . . . Jo and Charlie Snyders’ son Bob and wife “Sandy” were home from Gainesville . . . “Skip” Rockafellar, son of the Paul L. Rockafellars’ (AVP) home from Annapolis . . . Don Guise, USN Harriet’s son home from Pensacola . . . Also Bud, Carol Berger’s brother from the USN . . . and then . . . Sylvia and Bob Jablonski had Sylvia’s father, Kurt Walkowiak of Webster, Mass. with them . . . June and JL Browns’ son Billy from Biloxie, Miss. Air Force Base . . . Gypsy Kelly’s son Jeff, a Paratrooper at Ft. Bragg, N. C. was home too . . . Dot Madsen and her folks entertained aunt, Eileen Knowles of L.A. and uncle, Bill Whipple of St. Paul . . . Gloria and Don Vick had Don’s mother, Mrs. Joyce Burke of Napa, Calif. with them . . . Willie and Martha Nicholsons’ daughter Meriam (who will graduate in June and

"Checkmates" Officers for 1963

At a recent meeting of "Checkmates" our social and Service Club, new officers were elected to serve for 1963. They are as follows: Edward Herrschaft, President, standing left; Robert Boyer, Vice President, right; Carmen Lopez, Secretary, seated right, and Mary Jane Spahr, Treasurer. The new officers will carry on in the tradition of "Checkmates" which was founded soon after World War II for the purpose of eliminating individual collections for gifts. Although

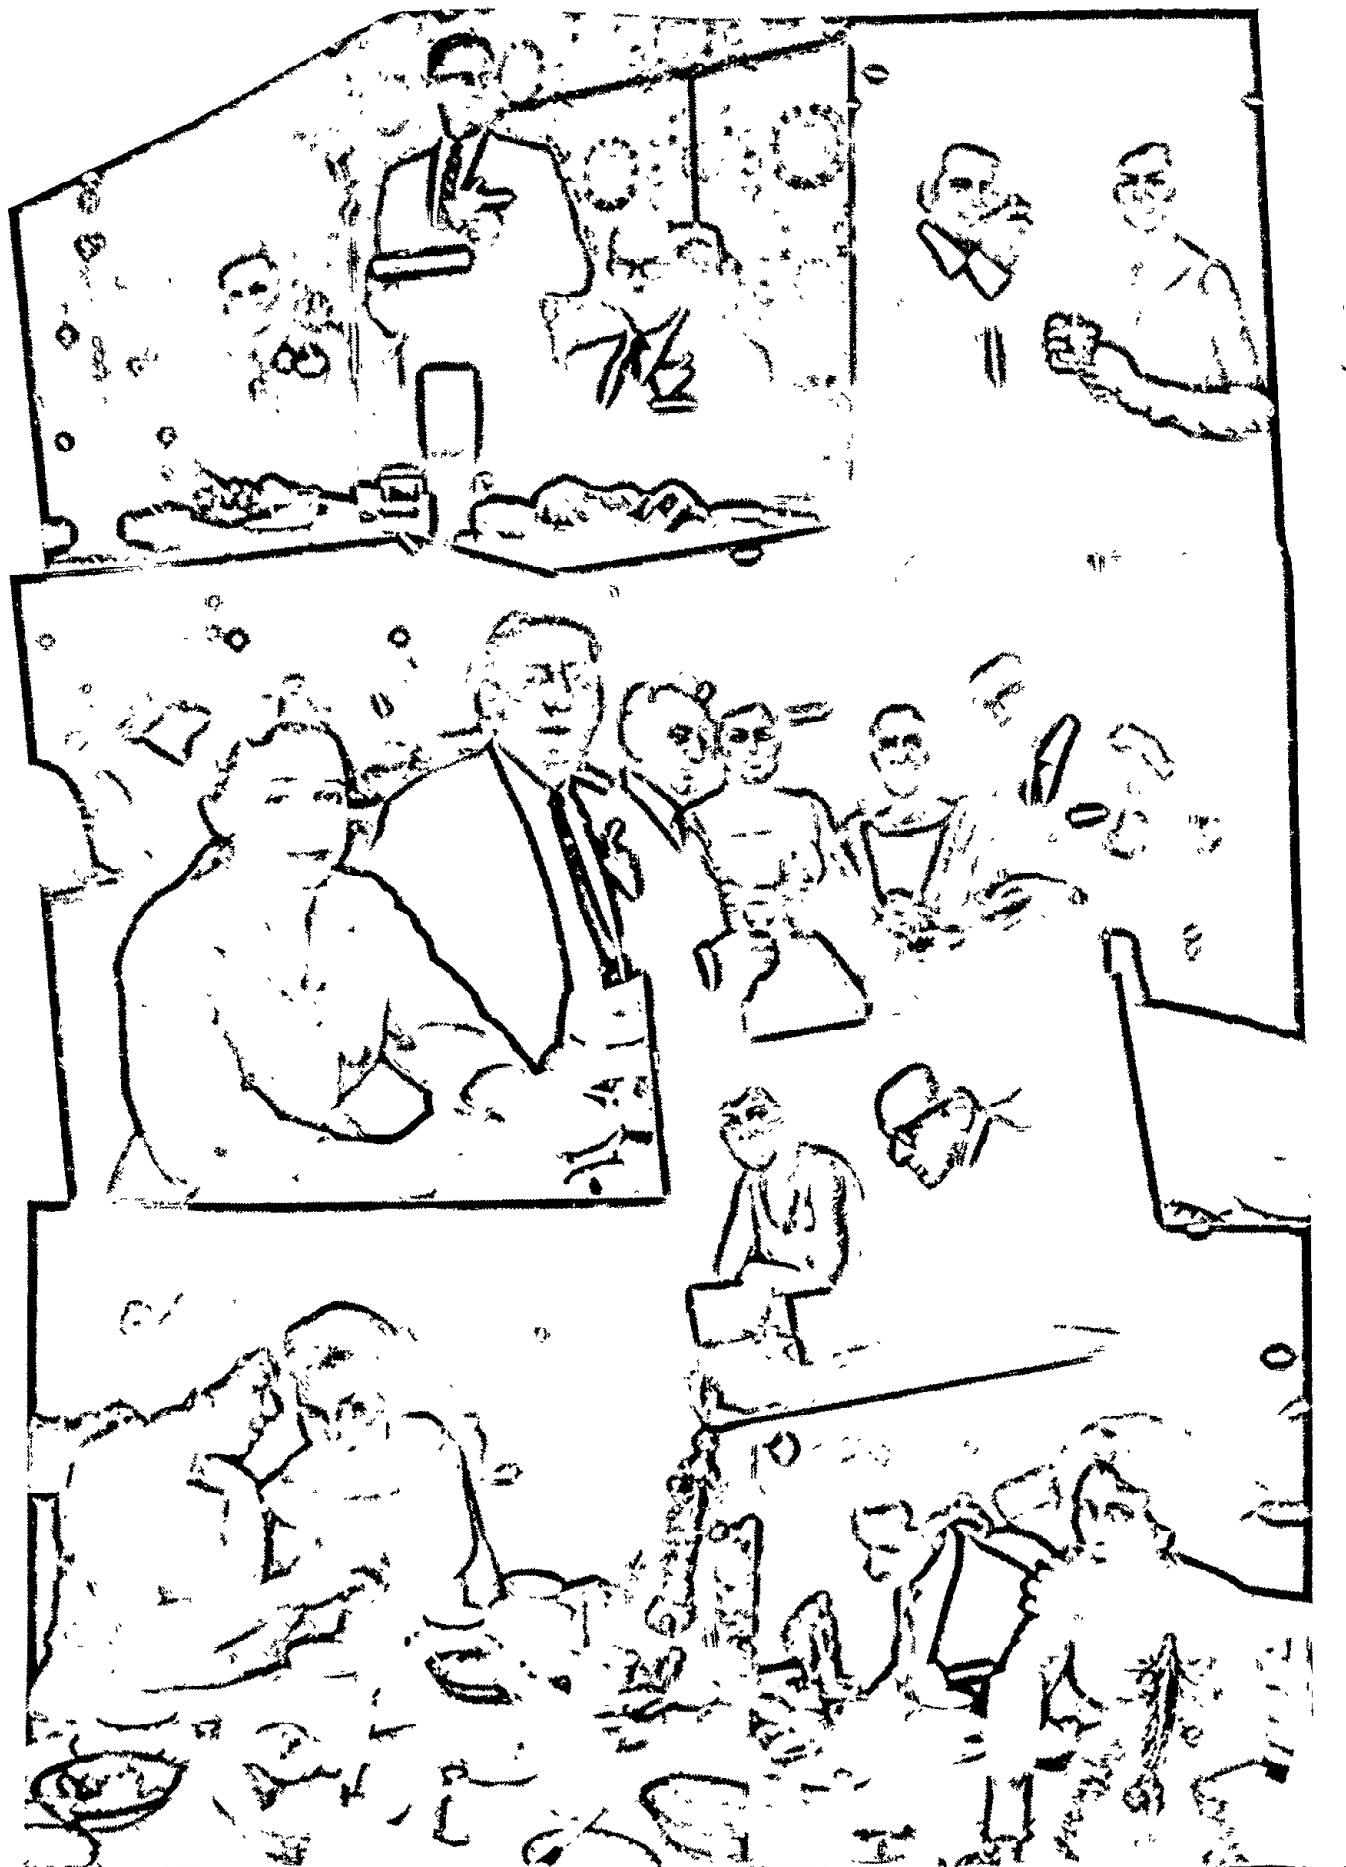

"Checkmates" is primarily a service club, there are usually enough funds for a picnic and/or dance that is anticipated each year.

Teach) home from school . . . Jean and Numon Dickens had Numon's folks from Indiana . . . Lorraine Aufford's daughter and husband, Sandra and Ed Bunn came from St. Pete where Ed is studying Law at Stetson . . . VIP event too, was Lauri Aufford's Confirmation . . . Maribel and Niel Neville had several happy holiday events — Maribel's folks Mr. and Mrs. Trout came from Springfield, O. — son Tommy made All-City — and "Suzy" (a Kerry Blue) had 5 puppies (but not so True Blue) . . . Although he couldn't be with his folks, David Slauter A-2C stationed in Pakistan thrilled parents Nelle and Walter Slauter with his tasteful gifts that included a jewelled wine decanter, a Fez, etcetera . . . Folks who had the opportunity to visit home for the Holidays were Sandy Salvesen to White Plains, N. Y. to be with her father . . . Martha Ramey went to Cleveland to be delighted by grandchildren Karen Lynn and George David . . . Earl Helfman to Sheboygan, Wisc. to be with his folks . . . Angela Burke to Calif. to be with husband Edmund and his family . . . Christmastime also brought its quota of Wedding Plans — Phyllis Magruder was gifted with a beautiful diamond from Bernie Schaw, and is looking forward to a June Wedding. Phyllis was quite amusing with her dismay at the fact that no one was "surprised" at her receiving a ring from Bernie . . . and the Date Is Set, for Feb. 2 at Holy Family Catholic Church for Sylvia Rheault and Larry Doyle who are also anticipating taking up residence in their recently purchased

THE WELCOME MAT

Recent addition to our staff of officers is Henry R. Carpenter, Vice President. His principle activities will be in Loans and Business Development.

Mr. Carpenter has been in the banking field for approximately 35 years. For about 18 years he was with Chase Manhattan Bank of New York where he was a Credit Manager. He transferred to U. S. Trust Company of Newark, N. J. where he remained for about 13 years and was Senior Vice President.

After coming to Florida, Mr. Carpenter started as a Vice President at First National Bank of Coral Gables, and later became President. He served as President for about two years.

Mr. Carpenter then went with A. M.

CARPENTER

Kidder and Co., Inc., as a Sales Representative specializing in handling investment portfolios.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter reside in South Miami. A daughter, Mrs. William Krall and five grandchildren live in northern Florida.

Mr. Carpenter is a past-President of the Greater Miami Clearing Association; an usher at Church of the Epiphany; and a member of South Miami Lodge, BPOE.

RAY ZIMMERMAN—Coin Teller . . . Originally from Baltimore, Md. and a graduate of North Miami High School, Ray was formerly with The Hialeah-Miami Springs Bank in the Bookkeeping Dept. He is married to Marsha; and attends Rader Memorial Methodist Church where he is a member of "Young Married Couples." His hobby is music. He played trombone in the school band, and is accordinist for his own trio "The Stereo-Tones."

we thank you

What YOU Can Do to Fight COMMUNISM and Preserve

Alert yourself -- learn the true nature and tactics of communism.

Make civic programs for social improvement your business.

Exercise your right to vote; elect representatives of integrity.

Respect human dignity — communism and individual rights cannot coexist.

Inform yourself; know your country -- its history, traditions, and heritage.

Combat public apathy toward communism -- indifference can be fatal when national survival is at stake.

ABOUT THE COVER . . .

Rose Winters, is our "Cover Girl" for this issue. Read her story on page 3.

ROSE WINTERS WELCOMES DAILY CHALLENGE IN BLOCK

There are many kinds of machines throughout our bank that are used to perform various functions. Each machine is a necessary aid for the task it is designed to do. But the IBM machines in the Block Department play a particularly important role . . . for this is the department in which every transaction that has taken place in our bank throughout the day—is balanced out.

Block—the final proving ground—is a busy place. The department has eight IBM machines that are in constant use. A thoroughly experienced operator is Rose Winters, who has been with our bank since November 3, 1958. Rose likes working in this department because she enjoys running the machines. She feels it a daily challenge to see if she can improve on the number of items she tabulates, and for that reason gets “a kick” out of her work.

An interesting aspect to working in Block, is the fact that checks from all over the world go through the department and tends to give one the feeling of having a finger on the “banking pulse of the globe.”

In addition to the machines, there is the markup desk. It is here that Checks are examined for proper endorsement; and are marked with the number of days it will take for them to clear through the paying bank. All items in excess of $500 are set aside for reexamination by the supervisor of the department. Checks deposited to Special Checking Accounts, and deposits opening new accounts, are held . . . regardless of the amount.

After markup, checks go to one of five Transit Proof Machines for routing to our correspondent banks. These machines verify the addition on the Deposit Slip, as well as route the checks.

The Internal Debit Machine is used to route OUR checks to the proper ledgers such as Commercial Accounts, Regular Checking Accounts, Special Checking Accounts, Savings, Withdrawals, General Ledger Debits, Treasurer's Checks, Expense Vouchers, etcetera. These in turn are forwarded to Book-keeping, Savings or General Ledger for posting.

The Credit Machine sorts the Deposit Slips, which are then processed the same as our checks on the Debit Machine. These two machines are in essence a control over the Transit Machines.

Each morning, we receive checks drawn on us. They reach us through Clearings from the following banks; First National of Miami; The Hialeah-Miami Springs Bank; People's National of Miami Shores; Jacksonville Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. Items are routed to the proper ledgers and at the same time the charges from the above banks are verified.

It is interesting to note that three-fourths of the checks drawn on our bank, are received through Clearings. Items drawn on out-of-town or correspondent banks, which are to be returned by mail, are photographed by the markup clerk before leaving our premises. Local items are delivered by Rolfe Armored Truck.

When queried as to how many items go through Block per day, Rose explained that at the beginning of the month they “average 60-63,000 per day, which decreases to a 42-45,000 average. Monday is the heaviest day of the week,” she continued, “there are the transactions from Friday night when we are open from 5 to 7 p.m., and in addition deposits and checks are heavy because of stores and shopping centers that are open on Saturday. This added to Monday's work, gives Block a double load to handle.”

At the beginning of the month the work is heavier too, because of all the Government checks that come into the bank. The tourist season increases the amount of items in the winter months, as many accounts are activated during that time.

Rose went on to explain that the Block Department is also responsible for reports. A daily report is given to Auditing which is a breakdown of totals on Deposits, Checks, Items, Cash In, and Cash Out. A detailed breakdown is posted daily in the departmental volume book which gives totals of all transactions. This is compiled at the end of the month in a report, typed by Rose, which is forwarded to George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller; Daniel C. Northrop, Vice President; Albert J. Sokoll, Assistant Vice President; and James V. Fagan, Assistant Secretary who is in charge of the Block Department.

Like other departments, Block has a training period to help new co-workers. In order to aid these people, Mr. Fagan has written a comprehensive and detailed manual of the department's function, which is given new employees to read. According to Mr. Fagan, it takes a particular temperament to be able to

"The Man Behind the Title" . . .

Will you ever forget the Christmas, C. Lawrence Lynch donned a Santa Claus suit and passed out gifts exchanged by the girls in Bookkeeping and Block. The only reason he wasn't Santa this past year, is because a suit couldn't be located. However, that didn't stop him from being Santa Claus for youngsters at The Crippled Children's Society in Ft. Lauderdale, all of which is by way of proving the kindness of this man, as manifested in his ready smile and pleasant manner.

Mr. Lynch was born Charles Lawrence, in Montreal, Canada, on March 27, 1918. He attended schools in Montreal, and graduated from Loyola High School in June, 1935.

Following his graduation he found employment with the Royal Bank of Canada where he remained for 24 years. During that time he completed a four-year correspondence course in Banking and Finance conducted by Queen's University, for which he earned his degree, "Fellow of the Canadian Banker's Association." These courses are similar to our American Institute of Banking classes, which Mr. Lynch conscientiously attends.

He worked in fifteen branches of RBC, and held every position in branch banking up to and including that of Branch Manager. As an Accountant he was responsible for the staff and routine operations of branches having staffs as large as 60 employees. His duties as Branch Manager encompassed responsibility for the credit and overall management of two different branches.

In January 1942, his banking career was interrupted by World War II. Mr. Lynch served with The Royal Canadian Hussars, in Europe and rose to the rank of Captain. The Hussars originally a mounted regiment of the 17th Duke of York, became a Reconnaissance Regiment in 1939, and operated with the Third Canadian Division.

In speaking of those years with the Hussars Mr. Lynch remarked, "They were some of the best years of my life." As a Recon Regiment they were equipped with armored cars and small gun carrier trucks. It was their job to go in—get the 'lay of the land'—and move f-a-s-t.

In September of 1942, Mr. Lynch married the former Marion Hall. Three months later he was sent overseas. He spent two-and-one-half years in Europe based mainly in England and is one of the men who went through D-Day and lived to tell the tale. Operation Overlord, the Allied Invasion of Europe began at precisely 15 minutes after midnight on June 6, 1944. This was the greatest armada the world had ever known. When queried as to the reactions of the men who participated in the D-Day invasion he answered, "There wasn't any particular excitement. We had previously been trained so thoroughly in landing on beaches—wading in water up to our necks—that this was pretty much routine. On D-Day we didn't know where we were really going until we were on board ship." At this time he held the rank of Lieutenant.

Mr. Lynch was quite noncommittal about that particular day. He became much more animated in telling about the Regiment's inspection by Generals Eisenhower and Montgomery—and the fact that they were inspected three times by the late King George. An amusing anecdote he remembered happened during an inspection by the King. An Officer marching in the extremely rigid fashion of the Hussars, tripped and fell flat on his face . . . just as he was passing in review before King George. Mr. Lynch remarked with ready wit that he wished it had happened to him so he could have some claim to fame.

But he does have a certain fame in light of the fact that the book "The Longest Day" which is the story of D-Day written by Cornelius Ryan, carries this notation on page 267—Lynch, C. Lawrence, Lt. (3rd Can. Div.) Bank Employee. His name is listed in the Canadian sector of D-Day Veterans as compiled in the back of the book. Mr. Lynch didn't have any idea he was listed among D-Day survivors until his name was pointed out to him by a friend. (The book is on the stands in a paperback edition.)

Although he was fortunate enough to go through the D-Day invasion unharmed he received a serious wound a short time later. In August of 1944, a piece of shrapnel entered his left lung right above the heart. It was about the size of a fifty-cent piece and tolled the end of his active career in the Hussars. The incident happened in Falaise, France. Seriously wounded he was hospitalized there for about a month; shipped back to England for another four months hospitalization period; and then finally home to Canada where he returned with the rank of Captain.

Mr. Lynch returned to Royal Bank of Canada. But because he had developed a desire to live in a warmer climate, in January 1959 he journeyed to Florida. He took the trip by himself; liked what he saw; and returned in September of 1959 with his wife and three daughters, Heather, Judith and Jennifer. The family first settled in Ft. Lauderdale and has since moved to the suburb of Plantation Park.

Mr. Lynch entered our bank in October

DeMERLE HARPER, PANELIST AT NABW MEETING

At the January dinner meeting of the Miami Chapter, National Association of Bank Women held at the DuPont Plaza Hotel, De Merle L. Harper, Assistant Secretary, participated in a panel discussion on Loans.

Sharing honors with Miss Harper were Luba Marsh, Vice President, Commercial Bank of Miami, moderator; and Dorothy Eddleman, Assistant Cashier, The Hialeah-Miami Springs Bank.

Marie Doland, Assistant Personnel Officer, First National Bank of Miami was program chairman of the meeting which was presided over by Virginia Smith, Assistant Vice President, First National Bank of Homestead.

Miss Harper, who is in charge of our Mortgage Loan Department, discussed her field and in particular Construction Loans. The question and answer period which followed proved so interesting and informative, it was decided to invite the panel to return at a later date so the subject could be explored in greater detail.

De Merle L. Harper has been an Officer of Little River Bank and Trust Company, since 1955. Before coming to our bank in 1952, she was with Riverside Bank, Miami; and Florida National Bank of Key West.

work successfully in the Block Department. One must not be easily flustered, and it is equally important not to become upset when the work piles up. Many people tend to "go to pieces" when the pressure starts. The department must function as a team, whose greatest asset is the ability to get along with each other. Mr. Fagan unhesitatingly stresses the fact of cooperation within the department as of the essence, since the department must balance as a whole.

This is comparatively easy for Rose, because she is genuinely interested in her work, and has a natural ability to function smoothly under pressure. Born in Philadelphia, she was formerly with Philadelphia National Bank, where she spent three years in the Block Dept. She is married to William, and has two children William Daniel 7, and Rose Ann 5.

Rose lives in North Miami, and is a member of Holy Family Catholic Church, and Natural Bridge Elementary PTA. When asked about her hobbies, she answered, "What with working at the bank and taking care of my family at home, I really don't have time for a hobby—but I do like to swim."

BOARD PROMOTES NESS, BARAKET, AND WILSHEAR

NESS

WILSHEAR

At the January 1962, organization meeting of the Board of Directors, three Officers were advanced to positions of higher rank and authority. The promotions announced by James G. Garner, Chairman of the Board and President, are as follows: George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller; William Baraket, Vice President and Trust Officer; and John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Ness, formerly Vice President and Comptroller has been in the banking field since 1929. Before coming to our bank as Auditor in April 1950, he was with Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, which was formerly the Bank of the Manhattan Company. Mr. Ness will continue to serve as a member of the Executive Committee with Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer; and Raymond E. Morlock, Senior Vice President.

Mr. Baraket, is a graduate of Salmon

P. Chase Law College, LLB, 1954. He has been in banking since 1950. Before coming to our Trust Department in July 1956, he was with First National Bank of Cincinnati. Mr. Baraket, formerly a Trust Officer, is participating in his final year of a three year Trust course at The Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University, N. J. In his new position he is now classified as a Senior Officer, and as such has been given the authority and the responsibilities accorded his title.

Mr. Wilshear formerly an Assistant Vice President, came to our bank in April 1953, from Republic National Bank of Dallas. He has been in the banking field since 1941. Classified as a Senior Officer, his authority and responsibilities include the functions of Personnel and Operations Officer for our bank. Mr. Wilshear is in his final year of a three year course in Commercial Banking, at School of Banking of the South, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.

What's in it for You!

A fringe benefit whose value cannot be computed in dollars and cents, is the opportunity to attend American Institute of Banking classes.

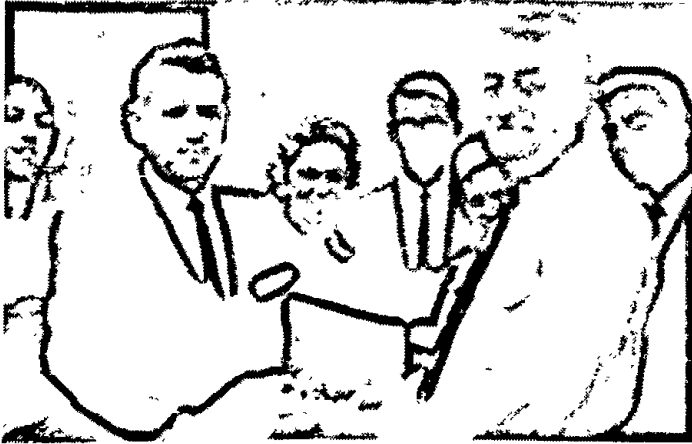

Aside from the fact that as an employee of this bank you are eligible to attend classes, our bank pays the cost of the tuition for all those who successfully complete courses, and in addition membership for the year in the Miami Chapter, A.I.B.

The knowledge and understanding of the banking field that is to be gained—at no cost to you—is immeasurable. Co-workers participating in the Spring semester are as follows: Pauline McElhaney, C. Lawrence Lynch, AT; William F. Duncan, AT, and Royce Decker.

Those interested in learning more about this adult educational group may do so by contacting John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer, who is in charge of Personnel.

Regan Retires...

John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer, presents John J. "Jack" Regan, right, with a gift from "Checkmates" on the day of his retirement. Mr. Regan, formerly with the Glenridge, N. J. Police Dept. 1926-1953, served as a guard in our bank since 1955. A familiar figure in our main lobby, Jack is missed by customers as well as personnel. Extending our best wishes for his continued health and prosperity are left: Bobbi Sutton, Sandy Sarhan, Cliff Locke, Jean Sistrunk, and William J. Mooney, Auditor.

PROGRESS

Co-workers Richard G. Swan, Forrest W. Nielsen, and Mrs. Betty H. Hamilton, have achieved advancement in recognition of their contributions to the bank and in particular, their respective departments.

Swan and Nielsen have been reclassified as Executive Employees. They are employed in the Trust Department, which is under the direction of Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer.

Mrs. Hamilton, formerly secretary to Bernard E. Boldin, Vice President, and to the Loan Department; is now classified a Department Head. As such she is responsible for operation of the Loan cage, under the direction of Cadwalader Woodville, Jr., Vice President.

was appointed an Assistant Treasurer. Included in his duties is responsibility for the Regular and Commercial Checking Ledgers in our Bookkeeping Department.

Captain Lynch, in England

Mr. Lynch is a member of the Officers' Mess, Royal Canadian Hussars for which he served as Treasurer; was secretary of Rotary Club of Verdun, Montreal; a member of Beaconsfield Golf Club; Miami Shores Men's Club; American Institute of Banking, and Canadian Club of Ft. Lauderdale.

The excellent attendance included members from the Airport, North Miami, Northside, and Miami Beach Kiwanis Clubs. Among the prominent guests were — Edward F. Boardman, U. S. District Attorney; and "Chuck" Hall, Dade County Commissioner.

PROFIT SHARING APEX IN VIEW FOR 13

Thirteen out of a total of 61 co-workers participating in the Profit Sharing Plan as of the end of 1961, have 90% of their share vested. This means that at the end of 1962, these 13 people are entitled to a 100% value of their share in the fund, which they will receive at the termination of their status as employees of our bank.

Announcement of this fact was made at a recent meeting conducted by Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer; and George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller.

Profiting Sharing—one of our many Fringe Benefits—is high on the list of advantages to be gained by being an employee of our bank. The purpose of the plan is to provide retirement benefits to employees under a formula keyed to the profits of the bank; and to give recognition to those who remain here and devote their efforts to promote its success.

All Officers and Personnel who have been with our bank for three consecutive years on December 31st of any year, are eligible to participate. The fund is administered by the Trust Department, for the benefit of all concerned.

Personally Speaking . . .

Did you ever have a spell of wondering about this and that, and the why and how of things? Of course you have. I do too. Like the other day when I got to wondering about how come Nazism and Fascism is crawling out of the woodwork. You know it is — you read too.

Swastikas have been smeared on buildings and articles have appeared explaining that Hitler and Mussolini were not Communists. While I do not pretend to catch the significance of all this "explaining", I cannot help but think — if "H" and "M" weren't Communists, so what! What does that make them? Good guys?

On the other hand, I cannot help but wonder whether or not this isn't just a smokescreen to try to take the heat off Communism. I do not know the answer to that, but of this I am convinced . . . since a rose by another name smells as sweet — then Communism by any other name — is as malodorous.

I am concerned about these things because I wonder too, if it could be another way to promote thinking along the line that our American Society is "rotting at the core". If you will recall, this was attempted during the Korean War when some American GI's were brainwashed in prison camps by Chinese Communists, while others defected. The stories that emanated during that period were magnified by persons who wanted to establish our society as decadent.

The facts came out, at the Stennis subcommittee hearing in Washington as told by Gen. Frederick H. Smith, Vice Chief of Staff of the Air Force, who said, "During the Korean War, more than 7,000 Americans were captured. After repatriation, and after all the facts were studied on the cases suspected of collaboration, misbehavior and the like, 14 were brought to trial and 11 were convicted. These 11, plus the 21 who refused to return, add up to less than two-tenths of one percent of those who were captured. At the same time, more than 87,500 of our servicemen in Korea got awards for exemplary conduct and 79 got the Medal of Honor. Thousands of the captured died as heroes".

It is unthinkable that a few rebellious young men reflected the "core" of our society at that time. It is just as inconceivable that the appearance of a Swastika or the spoutings of a Red propagandist, reflects America today.

We as a nation are firm in national purpose. As individuals we can be justifiably proud of our country, and should reflect that pride thru unfaltering faith in ourselves, and The Almighty.

Dot Madsen Says, "Working for Mr. Garner Is a Real Challenge"

I wonder what it's like to be James G. Garner's Secretary? . . . is a question that has very likely crossed the minds of most of us at one time or another. To get the answer, we went to his secretary Dorothy E. Madsen. Dot thought for a moment then said, "Working for Mr. Garner, is a real challenge. His mind works at such a sure and fast pace, that trying to keep up with him is a rather exhilarating experience. I find myself trying to anticipate his needs, and doing my best to supply him with the necessary data for the many important transactions he handles. He keeps you mentally alert at all times, but I like that. I also find Mr. Garner to be thoughtful and considerate, and am really quite content to be his secretary."

Watching Dot Madsen in action is an education in itself. As secretary to James G. Garner, Chairman of the Board and President, she must be and is, efficient and capable. If you happen to be waiting your turn to see Mr. Garner, you cannot help but observe Dot at her desk which occupies an area in our Trust Department. Although she probably doesn't realize it, she has the ability to use a minimum amount of waste motion. She goes from one task to another with a sureness that comes from know-how and concentration. Her manner on the phone is the essence of courtesy and consideration whether it is a director of our bank, or a query from personnel. Although her work is constantly interrupted by the many people who wish to see and speak to our President, yet, when a soft spoken "Dorothy" issues from the private office . . . she is immediately aware that Mr. Garner wants her attention. And he gets it.

Our President doesn't have time to explain each and every detail to his secretary. With Dorothy, he doesn't have to. A phrase—a short sentence from him—and she knows exactly what he wants, and how he wants it.

Dot has a remarkable faculty for remembering phone numbers, which in itself is a tremendous asset to being a good secretary. It is not at all unusual to see her get one person after another on the phone at Mr. Garner's request, without referring to a book.

When you talk with Dot Madsen, you realize that she is the type of person who knows what she is talking about, and that she gets facts straight. She speaks with authority because she not only knows what she is doing . . . but why . . . and what happens to it after it leaves her desk.

Dorothy Madsen is a confident person. She has to be in the position she holds. But her confidence and capability is no mere accident or the complete outcome of job familiarity. True, familiarity does aid a person in being efficient at their job. There is no arguing that point. But in Dot's case, there is an additional "something" which is probably due to the fact that this young lady has a mind like a "steel trap." What she learns she retains, and this is invaluable for Mr. Garner's needs, since he too has an amazing faculty for remembering details. This results in a high-g geared, smooth working relationship.

In addition to handling many of Mr. Garner's loans and doing the minutes of the Finance Committee, her duties are many and so varied, that she never knows what she may be called on to do. To state in detail the actual functions of her job is impossible, because a great deal of it, is of a highly confidential and personal nature.

A fair-minded person, Dot Madsen makes it a point not to "play favorites" of those who wish to see Mr. Garner. Because he is a busy man, it isn't always possible to see him when you want to. As Dot puts it, "Believe it or not, there are actually days when even I cannot get to see him."

It is obvious that Dot Madsen has the qualities necessary to be secretary to our President. She is well-dressed, well-groomed, poised and confident. She has a fine sense of the right thing to do and say which is a wonderful asset for the public relations aspect of her job.

Born in St. Paul, Minnesota, she graduated from the University of Minnesota, Phi Beta Kappa. Her social sorority is Zeta Tau Alpha. She majored in French and History, and has almost a complete major in Business. For about five years

"The Man Behind the Title" . . .

"This will probably be the shortest story of its kind in this series, because I really haven't done anything of interest," said William Joseph Mooney, Auditor, as he sat down to be interviewed for his "MBT" writeup. But if being a conscientious and ambitious young man, successful in career and home life isn't of interest, then there is something wrong with our sense of values.

One of three sons, Mr. Mooney was born in Philadelphia, Pa. on January 8, 1930. In 1945, he came to Miami with his folks and attended St. Mary's from which he graduated in 1948. (St. Mary's was still a High School at that time.)

Following his graduation Mr. Mooney attended the University of Miami where he majored in Accounting; and the Walsh School of Business Science, where he continued his studies. The ambition which was to culminate in Mr. Mooney's present day success was evident at an early age. During the last three years of high school and while he attended the University and the Business School, he also worked in a grocery store on Saturdays and during vacations. Looking back on that time Mr. Mooney remarked, "At one time or another, I did just about everything in that store."

On completing his schooling he worked for several months at the Miami Herald, until he came to our bank on April 16, 1951. For the first few months he was in the Addressograph-Mail Department, and also worked as a Coin Teller. But then, as he states "The luckiest break I had in the bank was the day George S. Ness, Senior Vice President and Comptroller, called me into his office and asked me if I would be interested in transferring to the Auditing Department." He "naturally 'jumped' at the chance," and has been in that department since that time.

Conscientious application eventually led to his being elected Assistant Auditor in January 1960, and in January 1961 he became Auditor.

"Auditing," states Mr. Mooney, "is fundamentally a process of verification that falls into five general classifications: Assets, Liabilities, Income, Expense and Net Worth. The maintenance of an adequate auditing program is generally recognized as an important part of bank operations."

One of the factors that helped Mr. Mooney to attain his success was American Institute of Banking study courses. Mr. Mooney completed Principles of Bank Operations, Commercial Law, and Negotiable Instruments. In addition to the advantages of the knowledge he gained by taking these courses, they helped to give him an understanding of the banking field. This was important in his work because Auditing eventually touches every department throughout the bank.

A. I. B. also played an important role in his personal life. It was while he was attending classes that the attractive Connie Campanalla, at that time a secretary in our Trust Department, needed transportation to get to and from her classes. Mr. Mooney "obliged." In 1954 they were married at St. Rose of Lima Church. The Mooney's have three children, Billy 6, Patty 4, and Timmy about 18 months. They have their own home in Biscayne Gardens, which they are presently adding to, and are members of St. James Catholic Church.

Mr. Mooney is a past-President of "Checkmates," our Social and Service club. He is a member of Miami Shores Men's Club; Miami Chapter, American Institute of Banking, and National Association for Bank Audit Control and Operation (more familiarly known as NABAC). He was recently honored by being nominated to serve on the Board of Directors for NABAC, and for the National Convention scheduled to be held at Miami Beach in October, Mr. Mooney has been asked to be on the Exhibits Committee.

When asked if he felt there was much opportunity in the banking field for young men today Mr. Mooney answered, "Certainly, I cannot help but feel that there is. However, I must admit that in my case, a great deal of my present success is due to Mr. Ness, who gave me every following graduation, she worked at Funch, Edey and Co. (Steamship Agents and Ship Brokers). Her job dealt principally with rates which were based on poundage, cubic footage, etcetera. Highly technical, it called for keen analysis and thorough knowledge of many facets of shipping. Dot found this work fascinating, but because of her capabilities she was eventually persuaded to go into business for herself.

From 1953 to 1956 she was a partner in the Downtown Office Service, with offices in the downtown business district

progress

Opportunity for advancement "knocks again" in our Trust Department, which continues to look ahead to the future.

In line with this policy, Dorothy Wallace will join Dick Swan, in taking a week of lectures on Trust and Estate Planning, at the University of Florida in June.

This is the final year for Swan, who will complete a three year period of one-week lectures at the University. Dick, who also completed Trust I, an American Institute of Banking course, formerly attended the University of Florida for three years. He majored in Accounting and Business Administration. He was recently re-classified as an Executive Employee of our bank.

Dorothy completed several American Institute of Banking courses as follows: Trust I, Trust II, and Negotiable Instruments. She is a graduate of Rider College, Trenton, N. J. where she took a two year Secretarial Course.

As stated by Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer, "The objective of sending people to Gainesville, is to provide increased training and know-how for employees who are making excellent progress in their work, so they may take greater advantage of opportunities for advancement in the Trust Department."

what's in it for us?

80% of all Hospital and Surgical expenses up to $10,000 are paid for us under the terms of the Insurance Policy our bank gives us.

For minor expenditures such as Prescriptions and Doctor's visits we pay the first $50. After that — 80% of all costs — up to $10,000 are covered by our Insurance.

It is important to remember . . . that we do NOT contribute to the cost of the Policy. This is PAID IN FULL for us, by our bank.

In times of stress and strain, dollars and cents cannot possibly compensate for the peace of mind we derive from a Fringe Benefit such as this.

of St. Louis. As a Public Stenographer, she acquired a vast background of the business world. Her work touched many fields of business and industry as she worked with people who dealt in Industrial Lifts, Elevators, Printing, Lithography, and many others. In addition there were CPA's, Lawyers, Dentists, Architects, Insurance men, and there was even a man who was working on plans for a space station, which seemed "odd at that time, but not so funny now."

She sold her partnership when her family moved to Tampa, where she worked in a law office for two years before coming to Miami. She now resides in El Portal, with her mother and sister.

'Dot began working at our bank on January 19, 1959, as Secretary to Bernard E. Boldin, Vice President. Approximately three months later, she was transferred on a temporary basis to be secretary to Mr. Garner. She has a genuine glint of humor in her eyes as she states, "I still am not absolutely certain if I'm on a temporary basis or not, since nothing definite has ever been said about my status."

In addition to her background and ability, Dot has the mark of the truly intelligent person. As efficient as she is, she still honestly feels there is "always so much more to learn." She admittedly has a high regard for Mr. Garner's business acumen, and appreciates the fact that he takes time to explain things. In doing so, it gives her "a wonderful opportunity to become familiar with many worthwhile facts."

To sum up her viewpoint of her position she states, "This job is what you make it. It can be routine if you do it that way. But if you delve into . . . question . . . and justify through research . . . it becomes absolutely fascinating. With a basis of understanding you can then talk over various aspects in an intelligent manner with Mr. Garner, and continue to gain knowledge."

There was a smart man who once said something like this, "He who graduates yesterday, and stops learning today, is uneducated tomorrow." It is obvious that this does not pertain to, Dorothy E. Madsen.

personally speaking...

If someone were to ask you "What is the greatest problem that faces the Free World Today", what would your answer be? The possibility of Nuclear War? Delinquency? Feeding the Poor?

All of these things are important — but in my opinion, it is the Menace of World Communism! In this, I echo the statement of J. Edgar Hoover, a man of vast experience with subversives who says, "Communism is the major menace of our time. Today, it threatens the very existence of our Western Civilization."

It is a matter of record that if the Communist Party of America should ever assume control, its blueprint calls for the immediate elimination of one-third of the people in this nation. That means about 60 million Americans murdered. The remaining ones would then be "satisfied" with the "glorious benefits" derived from Communism.

In spite of the menace of Communism, we continue to plan for the future — OUR KIND OF FUTURE — Johnny's education, the possibility of a new car, the room addition. That is a fine thing. But . . . we still should be aware of, and informed about, the dangers of Communism.

One of the best ways to become better informed about Communism is to read J. Edgar Hoover's, "Masters of Deceit". Reading it is an experience you will not forget. "Masters of Deceit" can be obtained at most newsstands at the cost of 50 cents. This is a very modest sum to pay for an "insurance policy" on Freedom. As Mr. Hoover says, "Every citizen has a duty to learn more about the menace that threatens his future, his home, his children, the peace of the world. . . ."

It is wonderful to be able to afford to feel that as long as America remains prosperous and united, there is no imminent danger of Communist seizure of Power.

But . . . CAN we afford NOT to know, what it is that we must safeguard against?
Of course not.

About Signature Control

Enthusiastic . . . is the word for Judith Ann Kaufmann, who projects this trait in her daily routine . . . and in her warm, friendly relationship with co-workers.

Judy takes care of Signature Control, which in essence touches about every account in our bank. Signature Control may be likened to the post of a "watchful observer." According to Judy's supervisor, James V. Fagan, Assistant Secretary . . . Signature Control is actually the G2 or Intelligence Section regarding necessary data for our accounts.

On newly opened Commercial Accounts . . . attached to the sheet containing authorized signatures which she receives from the New Accounts Department, is a history sheet. The "signature sheet" contains the signatures of those authorized to sign checks, mailing address, business seal, and date account is opened.

The History Sheet notes pertinent data such as former banking references, mailing address, date the account opened, name of the Officer who opened the account, related accounts if any, whether the account was solicited or not, opening deposit, etcetera.

Judy then transfers necessary information to the signature sheet, which is then filed in front of the Ledger Sheet in the Bookkeeping Department, and is used for account reference. She stressed that when typing this information, strict adherence must be paid to form and accuracy in which she takes personal pride.

Personal Accounts and Special Checking Accounts are treated similarly, with attention to accuracy and detail.

Savings Accounts are filled out in the New Accounts Department and a reference sheet is forwarded to Judy, with pertinent data. She stated that at times there is a considerable amount of checking necessary for accuracy, but that this is one of the things she likes about her work. She explained that in addition to verifying signatures, the sheet is stamped with a "Signature Verified" stamp . . . which indicates that the person or persons opening the account, had shown proper identification to the officer in charge. This is done for purposes of account authenticity.

An important facet of Judy's daily routine is a report which is a composite of three separate types of account information. The first is the New Accounts Report which shows the name of the account according to Commercial, Individual, Special Checking, and Savings classification. It also includes opening dates, mailing addresses, and amounts of opening deposits.

The second is a comparison sheet which gives information and totals as of today, yesterday, one year ago today, and two years ago today. These are broken down into account classification showing number of accounts on ledger yesterday, the number of accounts opened today, number of accounts closed today, and comparison as of two years previous.

The Closed Accounts Report, is similar to data included in the New Accounts Report—but in addition—shows why the account was closed, and the amount on deposit at that time.

Judy makes four copies of this composite report. The original is given to Addressograph-Mail Department for necessary changes, and is then passed on to Analysis for their records.

Copies are forwarded to the Trust Department, Business Development Department, and circulated among Officers for their information. These reports play an important part in keeping officers of our bank in daily touch with account relationships.

Judy in turn, takes the information she has compiled and posts it in five different books for future and permanent reference. From these figures, she compiles a monthly report which is in turn forwarded, and included in our Monthly Volume Report for our Directors.

There are many other details to her work which interests her, such as changes in account names, mailing addresses, and signatures. Judy takes pride in keeping these changes up-to-date so that information on our signature sheets is current.

Correspondence features in her duties too, as she contacts accounts where necessary information is incomplete and/or possibly confusing. She also sends letters in acknowledgment of changes made as requested by our customers. Follow-through is a most important factor in attaining necessary data to complete the "information picture."

Once we have an established account, in many instances . . . changes of signature, mailing address, and such items may be transacted by mail. This also falls in line with Judy's duties.

Regardless of the amount of detail necessary for doing a thorough job in Signature Control, it "comes easy" to Judy Kaufmann, because she likes detail. When she came to our bank on July 17, 1958 she began in the Block Department, then transferred to Return Items. Judy feels that this experience has helped a great deal in her understanding of her present duties.

Her work necessitates a considerable amount of typing which she admittedly enjoys. She is sincere in her desire for neatness and accuracy, and gets real pleasure out of comparison of figures. Her conscientiousness is apparent as she states, "There are many things to be

Baraket and Wilshear Complete Three Years Intensive Studies

Congratulations!

Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer congratulates John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer, center; and William Baraket, Vice President and Trust Officer, right.

A three year period of specialized banking courses was successfully completed in June 1962 at respective Universities, by William Baraket, Vice President and Trust Officer; and John A. Wilshear, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Baraket specialized in Trust, at The Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University, New Jersey.

Mr. Wilshear specialized in Commercial Banking, at School of Banking of the South, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Both officers attended their respective Universities two weeks each year, during the three year period, and received top flight instruction in banking and related fields. Studies were continued through the year by means of extension problems

Richard C. Boggs, Executive Vice President and Trust Officer, who completed a course in Trust, at Stonier and graduated in 1947 stated, "It is no small honor for these men to have been chosen to attend these intensive training programs. Although the courses are extremely rigorous . . . and Graduation a time for rejoicing . . . the benefits far outweigh the time spent in study, for the men, as well as for the bank. Mr. Baraket and Mr. Wilshear deserve to be congratulated on their achievement."

personally speaking...

In 1958, the Communist Revolution in Russia was four decades behind us. But—when the Communist Party reached a peak in 1944 . . . of 80,000 in the United States—it was stronger in numbers than the Soviet Party was, at the time the Bolsheviks seized control in Russia, in 1917. In 1931, Dimitri Z. Manuilsky addressed students of the Lenin School of Political Warfare, Moscow, USSR, saying, "War to the hilt between Capitalism and Communism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 to 30 years. In order to win, we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie will have to be put to sleep so we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist." (This was authenticated by a former student before a Congressional Committee.) The above statement is not to be taken lightly. While the Party member may physically reside in the United States, he "lives" in a Communist "world." Communists firmly believe they are destined to conquer the world—and to that purpose they are dedicated.

Although today we are a free nation, we cannot afford the luxury of waiting for Communism to run its course. In the words of J. Edgar Hoover, "The weapons of Communism are still formidable. They become even more effective when we lower our guard and when we become lax in strengthening our democratic institutions in perfecting the American dream."

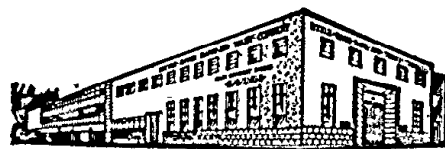

Mr. Hoover urges us to recognize the "Five False Claims of Communism." It is important we remember that—Communists are NOT Liberals . . . Communists are NOT Progressives . . . Communists are NOT Social Reformers . . . Communists do NOT believe in Democracy . . . COMMUNISTS ARE NOT AMERICANS!

It is important, too, that we do not permit the Communists to fool us into becoming "innocent victims". It is important we know our enemy. How can this be accomplished? Read—and Study! Learn for yourself. Don't put the complete burden of "knowing" and "realizing"—on the other fellow.

Dear Mr. Hoover;

Would you as a favor autograph your wonderful book, Masters of Deceit, if it was sent to you? My associates and I are giving this book and others to a friend in Seattle, Washington for his birthday. He is interested in Law and Politics, and we felt it would serve as an incentive to continue.

We at Washington State University realize of what importance a law making and enforcing body, as well as other forms of politics, is to the people of the United States of America. My return address is:

Mr.
 421 Goldsworthy
 Washington State University
 Pullman, Washington

Your reply and autograph would be greatly appreciated. I will send the book as soon as I receive your reply. Thank you very much for your time.

Sincerely Yours,

from his position as Seattle Traffic Court Judge. He raised money for this purpose and eventually made public accounting for the funds. He alleged immoral conduct on the part of the Judge and claimed that graft and corruption also existed in connection with his handling of the Traffic Court. The suits were not successful, although Judge SIMMONS was subsequently removed in connection with his conviction (later reversed) of a felony. This tended to make [redacted] a controversial figure in Seattle during these years. He is a manufacturer of flags, and since the above-mentioned suits, has apparently not been in the public eye.

In the absence of derogatory information and because of the admiration of [redacted] for the Director and the FBI, it is recommended that the autographed copy of the "MASTERS OF DECEIT" be furnished to Mr. [redacted]

FROM : R. H. Haynes

M. J. Adams

Mr. Stephen J. Grillo, Director of Administrative Services, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, has requested that the Director, if possible, autograph the enclosed copy of "Masters of Deceit."

b.c

Mr. Grillo has long been an admirer of the Director and the FBI. He worked closely with FBI Agents while assigned to the House Appropriations Committee Investigative Staff during 1951 and 1952 and has maintained a continuing contact since that time. He is a leader in local American Legion activities.

Mr. Grillo recently suffered a cerebral spasm and will be confined to bed for the next thirty days.

Bureau files contain no derogatory information concerning Grillo; he has always been cooperative with the Bureau Liaison representative, and it is believed that a book autographed by the Director would do much to lift his spirits.
